PART III - NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed period.

The Company entered into negotiations in early July 2007 with a foreign company for the sale of its pressure vessel business and signed a Letter of Intent for such sale on July 6, 2007 that called for the signing of a definitive asset purchase agreement by July 30, 2007. Due to several factors, including (i) the Company's financial position, which includes defaults on all of its secured debt, (ii) the fact that the potential buyer is not a United States controlled entity and the pressure vessel business to be acquired conducts some U.S. defense related business and (iii) the need to respond to the prospective buyer's extensive due diligence inquiries, significant additional time and effort in excess of what might be considered normal for a sale of a business was expended by both the pressure vessel segment's employees, as well as by the Company's limited corporate staff. Even with this additional expended time, the July 30, 2007 deadline for a definitive asset purchase agreement had to be extended via numerous amendments to August 14, 2007. As a result of this activity, there was a delay in the ability of the pressure vessel segment and the corporate staff to fully comply with all requested review data from our auditors. Such delay has interfered with our auditor's ability to timely complete their review procedures. As a result, the Company is unable to file, when due, its report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2007. This delay could not be eliminated without unreasonable effort or expense. Pursuant to Rule 12b-25(b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Company requests the five-day extension relief provided for therein to file its annual report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2007.
