These undertakings remain binding in the event of a competing offer being made for Oriel.
- Mechel is a low-cost integrated mining and metals group with three main divisions: mining, steel production and processing and power generation. Mechel has facilities in Russia, Romania, Bulgaria and Lithuania. The mining division comprises the production and sale of coking and steam coal, iron ore concentrate and ferronickel. A proportion of the production from the mining division supplies Mechel's other divisions. Mechel is the largest producer of coking coal in Russia, with a 64 per cent. market share for hard coking coals, and Russia's largest exporter of coking coal concentrate. Mechel also controls 20 per cent. of the coal washing capacity in Russia. Mechel's steel business comprises the production and sale of semi-finished steel products, carbon and specialty long products, carbon and stainless flat products, ferrosilicon and value-added downstream metal products including hardware, stampings and forgings. Mechel is the second largest producer of long products in Russia, and the largest producer of specialty steels and alloys in Russia, producing 39 per cent. of total Russian specialty steel output. Mechel's energy business comprises power generation in Russia, a 49 per cent. stake in a Bulgarian coal-fired power station (Rousse) and a power sales company, which controls approximately 50 per cent. of the energy market in the Kemerovo region of Siberia.

In its audited accounts for the year ended 31 December 2006, Mechel reported profit before taxation of US$865 million (£433 million) on revenue of US$4,398 million (£2,200 million) and had total assets as at 30 September 2007 of US$5,703 million (£2,853 million). Mechel is a Russian company, headquartered in Moscow and has been listed on the New York Stock Exchange since October 2004. As at 25 March 2008, Mechel had a market capitalisation of approximately US$16.8 billion (£8.4 billion).

- Oriel is a London-based chrome and nickel mining and processing company which was admitted to trading on AIM in March 2004 and listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange in February 2005. Subsequent to a reverse takeover in December 2006, the newly-formed Oriel continued to be listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange and was re-admitted to AIM on 7 December 2006.

Oriel's main countries of operation are Kazakhstan and Russia. Its current operations are the Voskhod chromite mine and the Shevchenko nickel project, both located in north western Kazakhstan, and the Tikhvin ferrochrome smelting plant in Russia.

- Oriel's mining and processing assets have a strong strategic fit with Mechel and the Offer is an integral step in Mechel's strategy for developing its ferroalloy division (one of the key growth areas for Mechel). In addition, Oriel offers Mechel the opportunity to further augment its integrated business model of owning mining and steel production assets. The enlarged group will derive benefits from economies of scale; Mechel intends to continue to integrate recent acquisitions, in particular by implementing improvements in working practices and operational methods at previously acquired operations.

- The Offer is conditional on the receipt of anti-trust clearances in Russia and Kazakhstan.

Commenting on the Offer, Igor Zyuzin, Chief Executive Officer of Mechel, said:

We continue to implement our strategy to improve the efficiency of our steel division. The acquisition of Oriel will enable Mechel to increase its competitiveness by expanding the existing ferroalloy business, entering new markets and operating new production facilities. We believe the Offer provides Oriel Shareholders with a significant premium to the long-term share price of Oriel and offers Oriel and its employees the opportunity of becoming part of Mechel's integrated mining and metals operations.

Commenting on the Offer, Sergey Kurzin, Executive Chairman of Oriel, said:

Edgar Filing: Mechel OAO - Form 6-K

In the four years since Oriel's foundation, it has managed to build a valuable portfolio of significant ferroalloy assets. Nevertheless we believe that the Offer from Mechel provides an attractive opportunity for Oriel Shareholders to realise their investment.

3. Recommendation

The Oriel Directors, who have been so advised by Canaccord Adams, consider the terms of the Offer to be fair and reasonable and unanimously recommend that Oriel Shareholders accept the Offer. In providing its advice, Canaccord Adams has taken into account the commercial assessments of the Oriel Directors.

4. Irrevocable undertakings

Edgar Filing: Mechel OAO - Form 6-K

Mechel has received irrevocable undertakings to accept (or procure the acceptance of) the Offer from certain Oriel Shareholders in respect of, in aggregate, 296,698,351 Oriel Shares, representing approximately 46.6 per cent. of the issued share capital of Oriel. The irrevocable undertakings remain binding in the event of a competing offer being made for Oriel.

5. Background to and reasons for the recommendation

Oriel was floated on AIM on 11 March 2004 with a strategy of acquiring and developing early stage mineral deposits. Since that time, Oriel has built value for Oriel Shareholders by developing an integrated ferrochrome business and progressing its nickel project with the ultimate aim of becoming an integrated ferroalloy producer serving European and Asian stainless steel markets. As part of that process of development, the Oriel Directors believe that Oriel has built an outstanding managerial and technical team which has already earned a strong reputation for the quality of Oriel's operations on the ground.

Oriel's three primary assets comprised in its ferrochrome and nickel businesses are the Voskhod chromite mine in Kazakhstan, the Tikhvin ferrochrome smelter near St Petersburg, Russia and the Shevchenko nickel project in Kazakhstan.

The Voskhod chrome project was acquired in January 2005. Since then a feasibility study has been completed, mine development plans completed and a US$120 million debt funding package put in place to help finance the construction of the mine. The continued development programme is currently reaching a successful conclusion with the project, as announced on 12 February 2008, still on target for first production in the third quarter of 2008.

The Tikhvin ferrochrome processing plant was acquired in December 2006 and commenced initial production in April 2007. Of the four furnaces at the smelter, three are operating and the remaining furnace is commissioned and due to start operating before the end of March 2008. The plant is currently using imported chrome ore but, from late 2008 onwards, it is intended that the plant's needs will be met from approximately one third of Voskhod's planned production.

Oriel acquired its initial, controlling, interest in the Shevchenko nickel project in February 2004. Since then Oriel has completed a feasibility study based on smelting technology however, following sharp and long-term increases in energy/electricity prices worldwide, Oriel elected to explore the feasibility of a hydro-metallurgical process for the project. Following extensive laboratory testwork over the last year, an agitated atmospheric tank leach process flowsheet has been selected. The construction of the first phase commercial scale plant, based on this selected flowsheet, is planned to commence construction in the second quarter of 2008 and production from the plant is anticipated in late 2009.

Accordingly, in the four years since Oriel's foundation, Oriel has managed to build a valuable portfolio of significant ferroalloy assets and, the Oriel Directors believe, the platform to be a premier supplier to the stainless steel industry. During this period Oriel has also seen major increases in market prices for chrome and nickel, adding significantly to the value of Oriel's mineral assets. More recently this pattern has been brought into greater focus with the electricity supply issues in South Africa, which have clouded prospects for the expected expansion of ferrochrome smelting capacity in that country.

This is the background against which the Oriel Directors have evaluated the approach from Mechel. In considering the approach from Mechel the Directors believe it provides Oriel Shareholders with certainty of value at an attractive level which reflects the achievements to date of Oriel, bearing in mind the uncertain level of commodity prices in the future.

The Oriel Directors also recognise the benefits to Oriel's business and staff of being part of a larger integrated mining and metals group. The Oriel Directors note Mechel's statement that it attaches great importance to the skills and experience of Oriel's staff and its expectation that Oriel's employees will play an important role in the enlarged group.

6. Information on Mechel

Mechel is a low-cost integrated mining and metals group with three main divisions: mining, steel production and processing and power generation. Mechel has facilities in Russia, Romania, Bulgaria and Lithuania. The mining division comprises the production and sale of coking and steam coal, iron ore concentrate and ferronickel. A proportion of the production from the mining division supplies Mechel's other divisions. Mechel is the largest producer of coking coal in Russia, with a 64 per cent. market share for hard coking coals, and Russia's largest exporter of coking coal concentrate. Mechel also controls 20 per cent. of the coal washing capacity in Russia. Mechel's steel business comprises the production and sale of semi-finished steel products, carbon and specialty long products, carbon and stainless flat products, ferrosilicon and value-added downstream metal products including hardware, stampings and forgings. Mechel is the second largest producer of long products in Russia, and the largest producer of specialty steels and alloys in Russia, producing 39 per cent. of total Russian specialty steel output. Mechel's energy business comprises power generation in Russia, a 49 per cent. stake in a Bulgarian coal-fired power station (Rousse) and a power sales company, which controls approximately 50 per cent. of the energy market in the Kemerovo region of Siberia.

In its audited accounts for the year ended 31 December 2006, Mechel reported profit before taxation of US$865 million (£433 million) on revenue of US$4,398 million (£2,200 million) and had total assets as at 30 September 2007 of US$5,703 million (£2,853 million). Mechel is a Russian company, headquartered in Moscow and has been listed on the New York Stock Exchange since October 2004. As at 25 March 2008, Mechel had a market capitalisation of approximately US$16.8 billion (£8.4 billion).

7. Information on Oriel

Oriel is a London-based chrome and nickel mining and processing company which was admitted to trading on AIM in March 2004 and listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange in February 2005. Subsequent to a reverse takeover in December 2006, the newly-formed Oriel continued to be listed on the Toronto Stock Exchange and was re-admitted to AIM on 7 December 2006.

Oriel's main countries of operation are Kazakhstan and Russia. Its current operations are the Voskhod chromite mine and the Shevchenko nickel project, both located in north western Kazakhstan, and the Tikhvin ferrochrome smelting plant in Russia.

For the year ended 31 December 2006, Oriel reported a loss before taxation of US$7.2 million (£3.6 million) and had total assets as at 30 June 2007 of US$572 million (£286 million).

8. Plans for Oriel

Mechel's aim is to continue producing advanced and high quality ferrochrome, ferronickel, ferrosilicon and other alloying commodities within Kazakhstan and the Russian Federation. Mechel plans to fully integrate Oriel into the larger Mechel group and expects to use ferroalloy commodities produced by Oriel in its steel division, as well as to sell ferroalloys to third parties, and use its own coal products within Oriel's smelting operations. In addition the enlarged group will derive benefits from economies of scale; Mechel intends to continue to integrate recent acquisitions, in particular by implementing improvements in working practices and operational methods at previously acquired operations.

9. Management and employees

Mechel attaches great importance to the skills and experience of the existing management and employees of Oriel and its subsidiaries. Mechel expects that Oriel employees will play an important role in the enlarged group.

Mechel has given assurances to Oriel that the existing employment rights, including pension rights, of all of the management and employees of Oriel and its affiliates, as required by applicable law and the relevant employment contracts, will be fully safeguarded upon the Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects.

It is Mechel's current intention that the operations of Oriel will continue to be run from their current locations.

Edgar Filing: Mechel OAO - Form 6-K

Mechel does not currently anticipate that the Offer, if successful, will have any significant adverse impact on its own employees. Mechel contemplates that if the Offer is successful, changes will be made to senior management of Oriel, subject to discussions with such personnel and completion of any review that may be undertaken.

10. Regulatory approvals

The Offer is conditional on the receipt of anti-trust clearances in Russia and Kazakhstan.

11. Oriel Share Option Scheme and Oriel Warrants

The Offer is being extended to any Oriel Shares which are issued or unconditionally allotted and fully paid (or credited as fully paid) while the Offer remains open for acceptance (or, subject to the Code, by such earlier date as Mechel may decide), including (without limitation) any Oriel Shares issued pursuant to the exercise of options granted under the Oriel Share Option Scheme, the exercise of Oriel Warrants or otherwise.

If the Offer becomes or is declared unconditional in all respects, to the extent Oriel Options and/or Oriel Warrants remain unexercised or have not lapsed, Mechel will make appropriate proposals to the participants in the Oriel Share Option Scheme and to Oriel Warrantholders at that time.

12. Financing of the Offer

The cash consideration payable by Mechel under the terms of the Offer is being funded using a combination of Mechel's existing resources and loan facilities of approximately US$1,500 million arranged by ABN AMRO and Merrill Lynch for the purposes of the Offer.

Merrill Lynch, financial adviser to Mechel, is satisfied that sufficient resources are available to Mechel to satisfy the full cash consideration payable to Oriel Shareholders, Oriel Optionholders and Oriel Warrantholders under the terms of the Offer.

13. Compulsory acquisition, delisting and cancellation of trading

Upon the Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects and sufficient acceptances having been received, it is the intention of Mechel to apply the provisions of Chapter 3 of Part 28 of the Companies Act 2006 to acquire compulsorily any remaining Oriel Shares on the same terms as the Offer.

Mechel reserves the right, with the consent of the Panel, to elect to implement the Offer by a court approved scheme of arrangement under section 425 of the Companies Act 1985 (as amended).

If Mechel elects to implement the Offer by a court approved scheme of arrangement under section 425 of the Companies Act 1985 (as amended), that offer will be implemented on the same terms (subject to appropriate amendments), so far as applicable, as those which would apply to the Offer.

It is intended that, upon the Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects and subject to sufficient acceptances of the Offer being received and the applicable requirements of the London Stock Exchange and the Toronto Stock Exchange, Mechel will procure that Oriel applies for cancellation of the admission to trading of the Oriel Shares and Oriel Warrants on AIM and applies to delist the Oriel Shares from the Toronto Stock Exchange.

The cancellation of the admission to trading and listing of Oriel Shares would significantly reduce the liquidity and marketability of any Oriel Shares not assented to the Offer.

14. Escrow Arrangements

As part of the arrangements entered into in connection with the acquisition (the Acquisition) by Oriel of IPH Polychrom Holdings B.V. (IPH) in December 2006, the sellers of IPH (being Polyprom Holdings BV, A&NN Properties Limited, Baran-Alrig Ltd, Baran Group Limited, Ehud Rieger, Shaul Rieger and Dina Rieger-Weiss) (the IPH Sellers) agreed, pursuant to certain lock-in and escrow agreements (the Lock-in and Escrow Agreements) to place the Oriel Shares they received as consideration for the sale by them of their respective shareholdings in IPH into an escrow account for the purposes of meeting any claims made by Oriel under the merger agreement entered into in connection with the Acquisition (the IPH Acquisition Agreement). Under the terms of the escrow, the value of claims was limited to the proceeds derived from the sale of such shares and the duration of the escrow arrangements was the period of 18 months after the date of completion of the Acquisition. The escrow arrangements are therefore due to expire on 6 June 2008.

Pursuant to deeds of release dated 22 February 2008 (the First Deed of Release), Oriel and Canaccord Adams released certain of the IPH Sellers (namely A&NN Properties Limited (which has since transferred its Oriel Shares to Platinum Bow Limited, which has taken on A&NN Properties Limited's obligations under the relevant Lock-in and Escrow Agreement and the IPH Acquisition Agreement), Ehud Rieger, Dina Rieger-Weiss and Shaul Rieger) from their Lock-in and Escrow Agreements as described above. This was done to facilitate these IPH Sellers pledging their Oriel Shares to OJSC Khanty Mansiysk Bank (KMB) as security for an inter-bank credit facility to Nomos Bank of up to US$50 million for the benefit of Oriel. The First Deed of Release provides that, in the event that the pledge is released and the Lock-in and Escrow Agreements would still have been effective, each of the relevant IPH Sellers has agreed to re-enter into lock-in and escrow agreements on substantially the same terms as the released Lock-in and Escrow Agreements. On 24 March 2008, KMB agreed to release the pledge upon Mechel making the Offer.

Oriel has agreed that, conditional upon the Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, the IPH Sellers' Oriel Shares may be released from their escrow obligations, notwithstanding that the original period of such escrow has not yet expired. The effect of such release will be that the IPH Sellers are released from any liabilities under the warranties and indemnities given by the IPH Sellers under the IPH Acquisition Agreement and, upon the Offer becoming or being declared unconditional in all respects, the IPH Sellers will be relieved of the obligation to place the proceeds of the Offer in respect of their Oriel Shares into escrow, which they will instead be entitled to retain. Oriel has consented to this proposal on the basis that it does not disadvantage the Oriel Group, given that: following a significant period of ownership of the Tikhvin smelter, the Oriel Directors do not consider there to be any realistic prospect of a claim under the IPH Acquisition Agreement arising; the date of expiry of the escrow period is in any event imminent; and the IPH Sellers have also agreed to release Oriel from any liabilities under the warranties and indemnities given by Oriel under the IPH Acquisition Agreement. The proposals have been approved by an independent committee of Oriel Directors, which was constituted at the time of the IPH Acquisition.

Mechel has provided its written consent to the proposals. It is expected that the escrow release arrangements will be implemented by way of deeds of release, which will also be summarised in the Offer

Document. Further details of the Lock-in and Escrow Agreements and the IPH Acquisition Agreement will be set out in the Offer Document.

Canaccord Adams, as Oriel's financial adviser in relation to the Offer, has reviewed the terms of the above arrangements, being (i) the release by KMB of the Oriel Shares pledged by certain Oriel Shareholders, (ii) the proposed release of the Lock-in and Escrow Agreements, (iii) the proposed release of Oriel from any liabilities under the warranties and indemnities given by Oriel under the IPH Acquisition Agreement, and (iv) the proposed release of the IPH Sellers from any liabilities under the warranties and indemnities given by the IPH Sellers under the IPH Acquisition Agreement, and considers them to be fair and reasonable so far as the independent Oriel Shareholders to whom such arrangements do not apply are concerned.

The arrangements constitute related party transactions for the purposes of the AIM Rules for Companies, as the IPH Sellers include Ehud Rieger (an Oriel Director), Baran-Alrig Limited (a company of which Ehud Rieger is a director) Platinum Bow Limited and Polyprom Holdings BV (each of which is a substantial shareholder of Oriel and the latter of which is beneficially owned by Alexander Nesis, an Oriel Director). The Oriel Directors (other than Ehud Rieger and Alexander Nesis, who are considered related parties in connection with these arrangements), consider, having consulted with Canaccord Adams, as Oriel's nominated adviser, that the terms of the proposals are fair and reasonable insofar as Oriel Shareholders are concerned.

For these purposes, arrangement includes any agreement to sell or any delivery obligation or right to require another person to purchase or take delivery and borrowing and lending of Oriel Shares. An arrangement also includes any indemnity or option arrangement, any agreement or any understanding, formal or informal, of whatever nature, relating to Oriel Shares which may be an inducement to deal or refrain from dealing in such securities.

If Mechel is required by the Panel to make an offer or offers for any Oriel Shares under Rule 9 of the Code, Mechel may make such alterations to the above conditions as are necessary to comply with that Rule.

The Offer will lapse (unless the Panel otherwise consents) if, before 1.00 p.m. (London time) on the First Closing Date or the date when the Offer becomes or is declared unconditional as to acceptances (whichever is the later), the Offer, or any aspect of it, is referred to the Competition Commission.

If the Offer lapses, the Offer will cease to be capable of further acceptance and those Oriel Shareholders who have, as at the time of such lapse, accepted the Offer shall then cease to be bound by their acceptances of the Offer submitted at or before the time when the Offer lapses.

The Offer will be governed by English law and be subject to the jurisdiction of the English courts.
