Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On October 22, 2010, Protective Life Insurance Company (Protective Life), a wholly owned subsidiary of Protective Life Corporation (Protective), (i) entered into a stock purchase agreement (the Stock Purchase Agreement) among RBC Insurance Holdings (USA) Inc. (RBC), Athene Holding Ltd. (Athene), Protective Life and, for the purposes of certain sections of the Stock Purchase Agreement, RBC USA Holdco Corporation, and (ii) agreed to enter into a coinsurance agreement (the Coinsurance Agreement) with Liberty Life Insurance Company (Liberty) under the terms of which Protective Life will coinsure substantially all of the life and health business of Liberty, subject to certain exceptions. The transactions contemplated by the Coinsurance Agreement transaction will close in conjunction with the acquisition of Liberty by Athene from RBC, an affiliate of Royal Bank of Canada, pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement. Pursuant to the Stock Purchase Agreement, RBC has agreed to sell the stock of Liberty to Athene for total consideration of approximately $628,100,000, which price is subject to adjustment, and which price includes a redemption of shares of Liberty from Seller immediately prior to the closing. Under the Coinsurance Agreement, Protective Life is to pay to Liberty a ceding commission of $200,500,000, subject to adjustment. Using information currently available, Protective Life estimates that an additional $39 million will be added to the ceding commission for adjustments.

The closing of the acquisition of Liberty by Athene and execution of the Coinsurance Agreement by Protective Life and Liberty is conditioned on, among other things, the termination or expiration of any applicable waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976 in respect of the acquisition of Liberty by Athene and receipt of approvals from certain regulatory authorities. In connection with the transaction, Protective Life, Liberty and RBC will enter into a transition services agreement at closing, pursuant to which RBC will provide certain administrative services and assistance to Protective Life and Liberty for a period of time thereafter and Protective Life and Liberty will enter into an administrative services agreement, pursuant to which Protective will provide certain administrative services to Liberty for prescribed time periods following the closing. The closing is expected to occur in the first quarter of 2011.

The Stock Purchase Agreement contains customary representations and warranties made by RBC, Athene and Protective. The Stock Purchase Agreement also contains customary covenants, including, among others, covenants concerning the operation of Liberty in the ordinary course of business pending closing and providing for mutual rights of access to information and cooperation among the parties. The Stock Purchase Agreement also contains covenants of RBC not to, and to cause its affiliates not to, engage in certain life insurance and annuity related activities for a period of eighteen months following the closing or solicit for employment any employees of Liberty transferring to Protective Life for a period of twenty-four months following the closing, in each case subject to certain exceptions.

The Stock Purchase Agreement contains representations and warranties that the parties made to and solely for the benefit of each other. The assertions embodied in those representations and warranties are qualified by information disclosed to the applicable parties in connection with signing the Stock Purchase Agreement. Accordingly, investors should not rely on the representations and warranties in the Stock Purchase Agreement as characterizations of the actual state of facts. The undisclosed information that modifies these representations and warranties may constitute material non-public information. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties may have changed since the date of the Stock Purchase Agreement, which subsequent information may or may not be fully reflected in Protective's public disclosures.

The foregoing descriptions of the Stock Purchase Agreement and Coinsurance Agreement are not complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full text of the Stock Purchase Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.01 hereto, and the form of the Coinsurance Agreement, which is filed as Exhibit 10.02 hereto, each of which is incorporated by reference herein.
