CBOE Holdings Average Revenue Per Contract

The following represents average revenue per contract (RPC) based on a three-month rolling average, reported on a one-month lag. The average RPC represents total transaction fees for CBOE, C2 and CFE recognized for the period divided by total contracts traded during the period. Average transaction fees per contract can be affected by various factors, including exchange fee rates, volume-based discounts and transaction mix by contract type and product type.

Third-Quarter 2016 RPC Guidance

The company currently expects RPC by product category for the third quarter of 2016 to be in line with the amounts noted below for the two-months ended August 31, 2016, except for futures. The third-quarter RPC for futures is expected to be 2 to 3 percent below the two-month average, due to higher volume rebates expected in September resulting from a significant increase in VIX futures volume. These expectations are estimated, preliminary and may change. There can be no assurance that our final RPC for the three-months ended September 30, 2016 will not differ materially from these expectations.
