BHP BILLITON SETTLES 2004 FINE IRON ORE PRICES

BHP Billiton today announced it had reached agreement with Nippon Steel on the price of its Fine iron ores for the year commencing 1 April 2004. Negotiations with other Japanese customers are continuing.

The agreed price is as follows:

- Mt Newman High Grade Fines 35.99 US cents per dry metric tonne unit; an increase of 18.62 per cent.*

Prices for BHP Billiton's other Fine iron ore products will increase by similar percentages.

It is expected that the price of Mt Newman High Grade Lump will be finalised in coming days.

*Please see the notes on the following page.

Notes:

- Following agreement on the annual percentage change, Japanese iron ore prices are denominated in US cents per dry metric tonne unit, which reflects a common base per unit of iron content.
- To determine the USD price per tonne, the following conversion formula must be used:
 - ◆ US cents per dry metric tonne unit multiplied by iron content
 - ◆ The iron content for Mt Newman Fine ores is about 64%
- Expressed in dry long ton units, the 2004 price for Mt Newman High Grade Fines is 36.57 US cents, an increase of 18.62 per cent.

- In FY2003 BHP Billiton's Western Australian iron ore operations sold 80.3 million tonnes (100% basis) of ore.
- Fine ores represented about 75% of BHP Billiton's FY2003 sales.
- The reference price of Fine ores is usually established first as this represents about 60% of the traded market. Prices for Lump and pellets are then usually determined as a premium to the Fines price.
