Item 8.01. Other Events

On December 6, 2006, Tercica, Inc. (the "Company") issued a press release announcing that a jury in the US District Court for the Northern District of California found that Inmed Incorporated and Inmed Therapeutic Proteins, Inc. have infringed Genentech's US Patent No. 5,258,287; willfully infringed US. Patent No. 5,187,151; and upheld the validity of Genentech's US Patent No. 6,331,414 (the '414 Patent). Because Tercica was the lead plaintiff in the litigation, it will recover a substantial portion of the damages paid by Inmed. A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1 to this current report and is incorporated herein by reference.

The Company is also providing additional information with respect to the License and Collaboration Agreement, dated as of April 15, 2002, as amended, by and between Genentech, Inc. ("Genentech") and the Company (the "U.S. Agreement"), and the International License and Collaboration Agreement, dated as of July 25, 2003, by and between Genentech and the Company (the "International Agreement" and together with the U.S. Agreement, the "Agreements"). Pursuant to the Agreements, the Company agreed to pay royalties to Genentech on a sliding scale of up to 10% to 17.5% of aggregate annual net sales of Increlex, a DNA-derived recombinant human insulin-like growth factor-1 ("rhIGF-1"), and of any drug that combines rhIGF-1 and IGF binding protein-3.
