GLAXOSMITHKLINE LICENSES SKYEPHARMA FORMULATION TECHNOLOGY FOR RESPIRATORY DRUGS

LONDON, UK, 5 January 2004-- SkyePharma PLC (LSE: SKP, Nasdaq: SKYE) today announced a licence agreement with GlaxoSmithKline (LSE/NYSE: GSK) to provide access to one of SkyePharma's proprietary formulation technologies for application to the delivery of respiratory drugs either by breath-actuated dry-powder inhaler or by metered-dose aerosol inhaler. The agreement was signed at the end of 2003 and GSK made an initial payment to SkyePharma on signature. If the patented formulation technology is subsequently incorporated into current or future products by GSK, SkyePharma will also be entitled to an additional payment for each such product and a royalty on eventual sales.

Michael Ashton, chief executive of SkyePharma, said: "Following hard on the heels of the recent FDA "approvable" letter for the Foradil(R) CertiHaler™ that we co-developed with Novartis and a subsequent second agreement with Novartis to jointly develop a dry-powder inhaler version of QAB149, a novel long-acting bronchodilator, this new agreement with the acknowledged leader in the respiratory field provides further endorsement of SkyePharma's technology leadership in the important and fast-growing pulmonary delivery market."

SkyePharma PLC develops pharmaceutical products benefiting from world-leading drug delivery technologies that provide easier-to-use and more effective drug formulations. There are now nine approved products incorporating three of SkyePharma's five technologies in the areas of oral, injectable, inhaled and topical delivery, supported by advanced solubilisation capabilities.
