(Commission File No.:0-22623)

This filing relates to a proposed acquisition (the Acquisition ) by The Cooper Companies, Inc. ( Cooper ) of Ocular Sciences, Inc. ( Ocular Sciences ) pursuant to the terms of an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of July 28, 2004 (the Merger Agreement ), by and among Cooper, TCC Acquisition Corp., a wholly owned subsidiary of Cooper, and Ocular Sciences. The Merger Agreement is on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission ( SEC ) as an exhibit to the Current Report on Form 8-K filed by Cooper on July 29, 2004, and is incorporated by reference into this filing.

The following is a letter dated August 4, 2004 sent from Gregory A. Fryling, Chief Operating Officer of CooperVision, Inc. to all CooperVision employees in connection with the proposed Acquisition.

August 4, 2004

Dear CooperVision Employee:

As you know, Cooper recently entered into a definitive agreement to purchase Ocular Sciences, Inc. We expect to close this transaction in the first quarter of our 2005 fiscal year, which begins on November 1, 2004. Over the next few months, I will communicate to you about our progress in bringing the two companies together. In this, my first report, I discuss the strategic benefits of the acquisition to CooperVision.

With this acquisition, CooperVision will strengthen and develop its worldwide business. We become the third largest company in the global contact lens market.

Edgar Filing: COOPER COMPANIES INC - Form 425

Ocular brings a number of strategic benefits to CooperVision as the businesses are highly complementary in their geographic configurations and product lines. Geographically, we will significantly improve our position in both Japan and Germany. To our product line, we add a successful single use (daily disposable) lens as well as excellent technology and cutting-edge intellectual property in silicone hydrogel materials. We believe that the combined companies can offer superior options for daily wear and 30-day continuous wear, and also that we can incorporate the outstanding comfort benefits of our Proclear® materials into the next generation of silicone lens products.

The combination of our two businesses will provide a platform and opportunities to expand beyond the limits of our stand-alone capabilities. As we integrate the businesses over the next several years, significant new challenges and opportunities will emerge. I encourage everyone to accept these. Employees who find new ways to better serve our customers and new ways to deliver higher quality products with more efficient service will be rewarded for their efforts.

In closing, I want to strongly urge everyone not to speculate or spread rumors about what may or may not occur as a result of this acquisition. We must, instead focus on delivering consistent operating results. I thank you for all of your efforts and wish everyone a very happy and healthy year ahead.

Sincerely,

Greg

Gregory A. Fryling
Chief Operating Officer
CooperVision, Inc.
