Nomination of Board of Directors

The Nominating Committee operates pursuant to a written charter and has the exclusive right to recommend candidates for election as directors to the Board. The Nominating Committee believes that candidates for director should have certain minimum qualifications, including being able to read and understand basic financial statements, having high moral character, having business experience, and being over 21 years of age. The committee's process for identifying and evaluating nominees is as follows: in the case of incumbent directors whose terms of office are set to expire, the Nominating Committee reviews such directors' overall service to the Company during their term, including the number of meetings attended, level of participation, quality of performance, and any transactions of such directors with the Company during their term. In the case of new director candidates, the committee first determines whether the nominee must be independent for NASDAQ purposes, which determination is based upon the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws, applicable securities laws, the rules and regulations of the SEC, the rules of the National Association of Securities Dealers, and the advice of counsel, if necessary. The committee may then use its network of contacts to compile a list of potential candidates, but may also engage, if it deems appropriate, a professional search firm. The committee will then meet to discuss and consider such candidates' qualifications and choose candidate(s) for recommendation to the Board of Directors. At the Annual Meeting, one director, Mr. Steven Clontz, will stand for election by the Company's stockholders for the first time. Mr. Clontz was recommended for election by one of the Company's security holders and was evaluated and formally nominated by the Company's Nominating Committee in accordance with the procedures described above.

Edgar Filing: EQUINIX INC - Form DEF 14A

Stockholders wishing to recommend candidates for consideration by the Nominating Committee may do so by writing to the Secretary of the Company and providing the candidate's name, biographical data and qualifications. The Nominating Committee does not intend to alter the manner in which it evaluates candidates, including the minimum criteria set forth above, based on whether the candidate was recommended by a stockholder. A more detailed description on the functions of the Nominating Committee can be found in the Company's Nominating Committee Charter, attached to this proxy as Appendix A.

In addition, independent directors are eligible to receive compensation of $3,000 per meeting of a committee of the Board of Directors actually attended and the Chairman of a committee receives compensation of $5,000 per meeting actually attended. Independent directors are also reimbursed for their out-of-pocket expenses in serving on the Board of Directors or any committee of the Board of Directors. Directors are also eligible to receive options as well as shares of common stock under the Company's 2000 Equity Incentive Plan and directors who are also employees of the Company are eligible to participate in the Company's Employee Stock Purchase Plan. REPORT OF THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE
OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Compensation Committee has the exclusive authority to administer the Company's 2000 Equity Incentive Plan, 2001 Supplemental Stock Plan, 2000 Employee Stock Purchase Plan, 2004 Employee Stock Purchase Plan and the 2004 International Employee Stock Purchase Plan. In addition, the Compensation Committee has the exclusive authority to establish the level of base salary, bonus and equity grants to the executive officers of the Company and responsibility for approving the guidelines for the compensation program to be in effect for the Company's non-executive employees. The Compensation Committee is comprised of non-employee directors and acts periodically to evaluate the effectiveness of the compensation program in linking Company performance and executive pay. In addition, the Compensation Committee is consulted to approve the compensation package of a newly hired executive or of an executive whose scope of responsibility has changed significantly. A more detailed description of the functions of the Compensation Committee can be found in the Company's Compensation Committee Charter, attached to this proxy as Appendix C.

For the 2004 fiscal year, the Compensation Committee determined compensation levels and approved compensation plans taking into account both external and internal factors. Among the external factors considered by the Compensation Committee was a report prepared in 2003 by Mellon, formerly Buck-iQuantic (Mellon), a nationally recognized independent compensation consulting firm. This report compared the compensation structure of the Company's executive officers and non-executive employees against executives and non-executive employees in similar positions at peer companies—companies of similar market capitalization, revenue and headcount size, technology sector and SIC code. The Mellon report compared overall compensation at the Company and its peers including (i) base salaries; (ii) bonuses and (iii) stock-based awards. The report concluded that the base salaries paid to the Company's non-executive employees were at about the mid-point of the range of base salaries paid to non-executive employees in similar positions at peer companies. It also concluded that a number of the Company's executive officers had base salaries significantly below the mid-point of officers in similar positions at peer companies. The report further concluded that because the Company does not have a cash bonus program, as compared to its peer companies, the total cash compensation to all of its employees, particularly its executive officers was significantly below that of its peer group. The Company retained Mellon again in 2004 to update its report specifically with respect to equity compensation.

Based on these reports and the factors discussed below, the Compensation Committee approved a cash bonus program for all employees for 2004, increased base salaries for those executives who were below the mid-point of executive officers at peer companies up to the mid-point of their peers, and approved the issuance of stock options to executive and certain non-executive employees. As to the cash bonus plan, in light of the Company's continued focus on maximizing cash flow generation, the Compensation Committee set the target bonus at approximately half of that of the peer companies.

General Compensation Policy. The Compensation Committee's objective is to align executive compensation with the Company's long-term and short-term business objectives and performance and to ensure that each of the Company's executive officers' compensation reflects the individual's own contribution to the Company and level of performance. We rely upon judgment and not upon rigid guidelines or formulas in determining the amount and mix of compensation elements for each executive officer. Key factors affecting our judgment include the nature and scope of the executive officer's responsibilities and his or her effectiveness in leading our initiatives to achieve corporate goals. In recent years, our goal has been to keep near or at the mid-point of compensation for similar positions at peer companies, taking into account the Company's focus on maximizing cash flow generation, as well as recommendations from the CEO on individual performance by executive officers.

Based upon all the factors we considered relevant, and in light of our strong financial and operating performance in 2004, we believe it was in our stockholders' best interest to ensure that the overall level of our salary, bonus and equity compensation awards were competitive with companies in the comparison group. We believe that the quality, skills and dedication of our executive officers are critical factors affecting the long-term value of our Company. Therefore, our goal is to maintain an executive compensation program that will attract, motivate and retain qualified executives who are able to contribute to the long-term success of the Company.

Base Salary. There were no increases in 2003 to executive officers' salary compensation due to the Company's continued focus on maximizing cash flow from operations. In 2004, after achieving the Company's operating cash flow objective in the prior year, and consistent with the salary levels at peer companies indicated in the Mellon report, the CEO recommended appropriate adjustments to executive officers' base salaries. The Compensation Committee increased the base salaries in 2004 of certain executive officers up to the mid-point of similar positions at peer companies.

Discretionary Bonuses. Although the Compensation Committee approved a cash bonus plan for executive officers for 2004, in order to maximize cash flow generation, except for a bonus plan for the Company's vice president of sales, the Company did not implement a plan for discretionary bonuses for its executive officers in 2004. The bonus plan for Mr. Ferris, the Company's vice president of sales, was contingent on his sales booking and revenue targets. For 2004, Mr. Ferris achieved his targets and earned the full amount of his bonus. In recognition for their outstanding contribution to the achievement of the Company's 2004 objectives, Mr. Kapoor, the Company's vice president of operations, and Ms. Galvin, the Company's general counsel and assistant secretary, were awarded discretionary bonuses in 2004. Other than these bonuses, no other executive officers received discretionary bonuses for 2004.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation. Generally, a significant grant is made in the year that an employee commences employment with the Company. Thereafter, option grants may be made at varying times and in varying amounts at the discretion of the Compensation Committee, and a refresh grant is generally made at the beginning of each fiscal year. The size of each grant is set at a level that the Committee deems appropriate to create a meaningful opportunity for stock ownership based upon the individual's position with the Company, the individual's potential for future responsibility and promotion, the individual's performance in the recent period, the exercise prices of that individual's outstanding options relative to current market value, and the number of unvested options held by the individual at the time of the new grant. The relative weight given to each of these factors will vary from individual to individual at the Compensation Committee's discretion.

During 2004, additional option grants were awarded in the aggregate, in an amount consistent with the mid-point of refresh grants at peer companies based on the 2004 Mellon report and below ISS recommended granting guidelines. Each grant allows the employee to acquire shares of the Company's common stock at a fixed price per share over a specified period of time. The options granted in 2004 vest in periodic installments over a four-year period, contingent upon continued employment with the Company. The vesting schedule and the number of shares granted are established to ensure a meaningful incentive in each year following the year of grant. Accordingly, the option will provide a return only if the employee remains in the Company's employ, and then only if the market price of the Company's common stock appreciates over the option term.

CEO Compensation. The annual base salary for Mr. Van Camp, the Company's CEO, was established in connection with his commencement of employment in 2000 and, prior to 2004, had not been adjusted since his employment with the Company began. Based on the Compensation Committee's analysis of the Mellon report, which indicated that Mr. Van Camp's base salary was below the mid-point of CEOs at peer companies, and the Compensation Committee's conclusion that Mr. Van Camp has consistently exceeded performance expectations each year since joining the Company, Mr. Van Camp's salary was increased to the mid-point range of CEOs at peer companies. No bonus was paid to Mr. Van Camp in 2004. In February 2004 Mr. Van Camp received an option grant in an amount consistent with the mid-point of refresh grants to CEOs at peer companies indicated in the Mellon report.

Tax Limitation. Under the Federal tax laws, a publicly held company such as the Company, would not be allowed a federal income tax deduction for compensation paid to certain executive officers to the extent that compensation exceeds $1 million per officer in any year, absent an exemption. To qualify for an exemption from the $1 million deduction limitation, the stockholders approved a limitation under the Company's 2000 Equity Incentive Plan on the maximum number of shares of common stock for which any one participant may be granted stock options per fiscal year. The limitation was subsequently re-approved by stockholders in 2004. Because this limitation was adopted, any compensation deemed paid to an executive officer when he or she exercises an outstanding option under the 2000 Equity Incentive Plan with an exercise price equal to the fair market value of the option shares on the grant date will qualify as performance-based compensation that will not be subject to the $1 million limitation. The cash compensation paid to the Company's executive officers for the 2004 fiscal year did not exceed the $1 million limit per officer.

Brandi L. Galvin	54,000	3.55%	$ 30.02	2/9/2014	1,019,489	2,583,584

- (1) The options in the table were granted on February 9, 2004. These options are exercisable in 48 equal monthly installments beginning in January 2004. The Compensation Committee has the discretionary authority to re-price the options through the cancellation of those options and the grant of replacement options with an exercise price based on the fair market value of the option shares on the re-grant date. However, the Compensation Committee has not done this in the past and has no current intention to do so. The options have a maximum term of 10 years measured from the option grant date, subject to earlier termination in the event of the optionee's cessation of service with the Company. Under each of the options, the option shares vest upon an acquisition of the Company by merger or asset sale, unless the acquiring entity or its parent corporation assumes the outstanding options. Any options which are assumed or replaced in the transaction and do not otherwise accelerate at that time automatically accelerate in the event the optionee's service terminates by reason of an involuntary or constructive termination within 18 months following the transaction. In addition, options granted to the executive officers of the Company provide for an additional 12 months vesting upon a change in control of the Company provided such officer is employed upon the closing of the change in control.
- (2) Based on an aggregate of 1,523,200 shares subject to options granted in the fiscal year ended December 31, 2004.
- (3) The exercise price for each option may be paid in cash, in shares of common stock valued at fair market value on the exercise date or through a cashless exercise procedure involving a same-day sale of the purchased shares.
- (4) In accordance with the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), the table sets forth the hypothetical gains or option spreads that would exist for the options at the end of their respective ten-year terms based on assumed annualized rates of compound stock price appreciation of 5% and 10% from the dates the options were granted to the end of the respective option terms. Actual gains, if any, on option exercises are dependent on the future performance of the Company's common stock and overall market conditions. There can be no assurance that the potential realizable values shown in this table will be achieved.

Employment Agreements, Change of Control Arrangements and Severance Agreements

The Compensation Committee, as plan administrator of the 2000 Equity Incentive Plan, has the authority to provide for accelerated vesting of the shares of common stock subject to outstanding options held by the Named Executive Officers and any other person in connection with certain changes in control of Equinix. In connection with the adoption of the 2000 Equity Incentive Plan, the Company has provided that upon a change in control of the Company, each outstanding option and all shares of restricted stock will generally become fully vested unless the surviving corporation assumes the option or award or replaces it with a comparable award. Any options which are assumed or replaced in the transaction and do not otherwise accelerate at that time shall automatically accelerate (and any unvested option shares which do not otherwise vest at that time shall automatically vest) in the event the optionee's service terminates by reason of an involuntary or constructive termination within 18 months following the transaction. In addition, options and restricted shares granted to the executive officers of the Company provide for an additional 12 months vesting upon a change in control of the Company, provided such officer is employed upon the closing of the change in control.

In August 2002, the Company entered into Severance Agreements with its executive officers, Peter Van Camp, Marjorie Backaus, Peter Ferris, Philip Koen, Renee Lanam, and Keith Taylor. CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

Loans to Executive Officers. From July 1999 through January 2001, the Company hired a number of individuals from out-of-state and relocated them to California. The market in California during this period was highly competitive for certain positions and the most qualified individuals available at that time were often located in other states. In order to induce executive officers to relocate to California from cities with lower housing costs, the Company offered the executive officers identified below a non-interest bearing home loan to assist them with the purchase of a new residence in California. These loans expired upon the earlier of 5 years or certain liquidity events, none of which have happened to date. In early 2002, the Company negotiated with Peter Ferris and Marjorie Backaus, each executive officers of the Company, to repay their loans in full several years prior to the loans' maturity dates. In exchange, the Company agreed to pay a portion of the interest on each of the officer's mortgage for his/her principal residence through December 31, 2003. Mr. Ferris' loan, totaling $750,000, was repaid in full in February 2002 and Ms. Backaus' loan, totaling $250,000, was repaid in full in March 2002. CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT

1. Introduction

This Code of Business Conduct (the Code) covers a wide range of business practices and procedures. It does not cover every issue that may arise, but it sets out basic principles to guide all directors, officers and employees of Equinix, Inc. and its subsidiaries (collectively, Equinix). All directors, officers and employees of Equinix must conduct themselves accordingly and seek to avoid even the appearance of improper behavior. The Code should also be provided to and followed by Equinix's agents and representatives, including consultants.

If you violate the standards in the Code, you may be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination of employment. If you are in a situation that you believe may violate or lead to a violation of the Code, follow the guidelines described in Section 16 of the Code.

If a law conflicts with a policy in the Code, you must comply with the law. If you have any questions about these conflicts, you should ask your manager how to handle the situation. However, this Code supersedes all other codes of conduct, policies, procedures, instructions, practices, rules or written or verbal representations to the extent that they are inconsistent with the Code. We are committed to continuously reviewing and updating our policies and procedures. The Code, therefore, is subject to modification.

Nothing in this Code, in any Equinix policies and procedures, or in other related communications (verbal or written) creates or implies an employment contract or term of employment.

2. Purpose

The Code seeks to deter wrongdoing and to promote:

Honest and ethical conduct, including the ethical handling of actual or apparent conflicts of interest between personal and professional relationships;

Full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable disclosure in reports and documents that Equinix files with, or submits to, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC) and in other public communications made by Equinix;

Compliance with applicable governmental laws, rules and regulations;

The prompt internal reporting to an appropriate person or persons identified in the Code of violations of the Code; and Accountability for adherence to the Code.

3. Compliance With Applicable Laws, Rules and Regulations

Obeying the law, is the foundation on which Equinix's ethical standards are built. You must comply with applicable laws, rules and regulations. Although you are not expected to know the details of these laws, it is important to know enough to determine when to seek advice from managers or other appropriate personnel.

4. Conflicts of Interest

A conflict of interest exists when a person's private interests interfere or conflict in any way with the interests of Equinix. Examples of when a conflict of interest may arise include, but are not limited to:

When a director, officer or employee takes actions or has interests that may make it difficult to perform his or her work objectively and effectively.

E-1

When a director, officer or employee, or a member of his or her family, receives improper personal benefits as a result of his or her position with Equinix.

Almost always, when an employee works simultaneously for a competitor or, except on our behalf, a customer or supplier. You are not allowed to work for a competitor in any capacity.

When a director, officer or employee serves as a director of any company that competes with Equinix.

When a director, officer or employee invests in a customer, supplier developer or competitor of Equinix. In deciding whether to make such an investment, you should consider the size and nature of the investment, your ability to influence decisions of Equinix or of the other company, your access to confidential information of Equinix or of the other company, and the nature of the relationship between Equinix and the other company.

When a director, officer or employee conducts Equinix business with a relative or significant other, or with a business with which a relative or significant other is associated in any significant role. Relatives include spouse, sister, brother, daughter, son, mother, father, grandparents, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, step relationships and in-laws. Significant others include persons living in a spousal or familial fashion (including same sex) with an employee.

Conflicts of interest are prohibited as a matter of Equinix policy, except in the case of any director or executive officer, with the informed written consent of the Board of Directors of Equinix (the Board) or pursuant to guidelines approved by the Board, or in the case of any other employees, with the informed written consent of Equinix's Compliance Officer or pursuant to guidelines approved by Equinix's Chief Executive Officer. Conflicts of interest may not always be clear-cut, so if you have a question, you should consult with higher levels of management or Equinix's General Counsel. If you become aware of a conflict or potential conflict, you should bring it to the attention of a manager or other appropriate personnel, Brandi Galvin, Equinix's Compliance Officer and General Counsel, or consult the procedures described in Section 18 of the Code.

5. Public Disclosure of Information

The federal securities laws require Equinix to disclose certain information in various reports that the Company must file with or submit to the SEC. In addition, from time to time, Equinix makes other public communications, such as issuing press releases.

Equinix expects all directors, officers and employees who are involved in the preparation of SEC reports or other public documents to ensure that the information disclosed in those documents is full, fair, accurate, timely and understandable.

To the extent that you reasonably believe that questionable accounting or auditing conduct or practices have occurred or are occurring, you should report those concerns to Equinix's General Counsel.

6. Insider Trading

You are not permitted to use or share confidential information for stock trading purposes or for any other purpose, except the conduct of our business. All non-public information about Equinix should be considered confidential information. To use material non-public information for personal financial benefit or to tip others who might make an investment decision on the basis of this information is not only unethical, but also illegal, and could result in criminal prosecution in addition to the termination of your employment. In order to assist with compliance with laws against insider trading, the Company has adopted an Insider Trading Policy. This policy, a copy of which has been distributed to every employee, is available on the Company's Intranet. You may also request a copy of the policy from the Company's General Counsel or Treasurer. If you have any questions, please consult the Equinix's General Counsel.

You may not use corporate property or information obtained through your position with Equinix for improper personal gain, and you may not compete with Equinix directly or indirectly. Furthermore, you owe a duty to Equinix to advance its legitimate interests when such an opportunity arises.

8. Competition and Fair Dealing

Equinix seeks to outperform its competition fairly and honestly. Stealing proprietary information, possessing trade secret information that was obtained without the owner's consent, or inducing such disclosures by past or present employees of other companies is prohibited. You should endeavor to respect the rights of and deal fairly with Equinix's customers, suppliers, competitors and employees.

9. Gifts

The purpose of business entertainment and gifts in a commercial setting is to create good will and sound working relationships, not to gain unfair advantage with customers. No gift or entertainment should ever be offered, given, provided or accepted by you unless it:

- A. Is not a cash gift,
- B. Is consistent with customary business practices,
- C. Is not excessive in value,
- D. Cannot be construed as a bribe or payoff, and
- E. Does not violate any laws or regulations.

Please discuss with your manager any gifts or proposed gifts that you are not certain are appropriate.

10. Discrimination and Harassment

The diversity of Equinix's employees is a tremendous asset. Equinix is firmly committed to providing equal opportunity in all aspects of employment and will not tolerate any illegal discrimination or harassment of any kind. Examples of such behavior include derogatory comments based on racial or ethnic characteristics and unwelcome sexual advances.

11. Health and Safety

Edgar Filing: EQUINIX INC - Form DEF 14A

Equinix strives to provide its employees with a safe and healthy work environment. You are responsible for helping to maintain a safe and healthy workplace for all employees by following safety and health rules and reporting accidents, injuries and unsafe equipment, practices or conditions.

Violence and threatening behavior are not permitted. Employees should report to work in condition to perform their duties, free from the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol. The abuse of alcohol or illegal drugs in the workplace will not be tolerated.

12. Record-Keeping

Equinix requires honest and accurate recording and reporting of information in order to make responsible business decisions and to comply with the law. For example, employees who must report their hours worked should only report the true and actual number of hours worked (whether for purposes of individual pay or for purposes of reporting such information to customers). Equinix also requires each director and employee at the officer and director level to disclose any transaction or arrangement among such individual or any immediate family member or affiliated entity of such individual, on the one hand, and any other director, employee or any immediate family member or affiliated entity of such other individual, on the other hand, that in any way relates to or arises out of such individual's professional relationship with Equinix.

Many employees regularly use business expense accounts, which must be documented and recorded accurately in accordance with the Company's policies. If you are not sure whether you may seek reimbursement for a certain expense, ask your manager or the Corporate Controller.

All of Equinix's books, records, accounts and financial statements must be maintained in reasonable detail, must appropriately reflect Equinix's transactions and must conform both to applicable legal requirements and to Equinix's system of internal controls. Unrecorded or off the books funds or assets should not be maintained unless permitted by applicable law or regulation.

Business records and communications often become public, and you should avoid exaggeration, derogatory remarks, guesswork or inappropriate characterizations of people and companies that can be misunderstood. This policy applies equally to e-mail, internal memos and formal reports. In accordance with those policies, in the event of litigation or governmental investigation, please consult Equinix's General Counsel.

13. Confidentiality

You must maintain the confidentiality of confidential information entrusted to you by Equinix or its customers, except when disclosure is authorized by Equinix's established written policies or its General Counsel or required by laws or regulations. Confidential information includes all non-public information that might be of use to competitors, or harmful to Equinix or its customers, if disclosed, and information that suppliers and customers have entrusted to us. The obligation to preserve confidential information continues even after employment ends. In connection with this obligation, every employee should have executed an Employee Agreement or similar proprietary information agreement when he or she began his or her employment with Equinix.

14. Protection and Proper Use of Equinix Assets

You should endeavor to protect Equinix's assets and ensure their efficient use. Any suspected incident of fraud or theft should immediately be reported for investigation. Equinix equipment should not be used for non-Equinix business, though limited incidental personal use is permitted.

Your obligation to protect Equinix's assets includes protecting its proprietary information. Proprietary information includes intellectual property such as trade secrets, patents, trademarks and copyrights, as well as business, marketing and service plans, engineering and manufacturing ideas, designs, databases, records, salary information and any unpublished financial data and reports. Unauthorized use or distribution of such information would violate Equinix policy and could also be illegal and result in civil or even criminal penalties.

15. Payments to Government Personnel

The U.S. Foreign Corrupt Practices Act prohibits giving anything of value, directly or indirectly, to officials of foreign governments or foreign political candidates in order to obtain or retain business. It is strictly prohibited to make illegal payments to government officials of any country.

Edgar Filing: EQUINIX INC - Form DEF 14A

In addition, the U.S. government has a number of laws and regulations regarding business gratuities that may be accepted by U.S. government personnel. The promise, offer or delivery to an official or employee of the U.S. government of a gift, favor or other gratuity in violation of these rules would not only violate Equinix policy, but could also be a criminal offense. State and local governments, as well as foreign governments, may have similar rules. Equinix's General Counsel can provide guidance to you in this area.

16. Waivers of the Code

Waivers of the Code may only be granted by Equinix's Chief Executive Officer or Compliance Officer; provided, however, that any waiver of the Code for executive officers or directors may be granted only by the Board or a Board committee. Any such waiver of the Code for executive officers or directors, and the reasons for such waiver, will be disclosed in Equinix's public filings, as required by law or securities market regulations.

17. Reporting Illegal or Unethical Behavior

You are encouraged to talk to managers or other appropriate personnel about observed illegal or unethical behavior or when in doubt about the best course of action in a particular situation. It is the policy of Equinix not to allow retaliation for reports of misconduct by others made in good faith by employees. You are expected to cooperate in internal investigations of misconduct.

You may, on an anonymous basis, submit a good-faith concern regarding questionable accounting or auditing matters without fear of dismissal or retaliation of any kind.

18. Compliance Procedures

We must all work to ensure prompt and consistent action against violations of the Code. However, in some situations it is difficult to know if a violation has occurred. Since we cannot anticipate every situation that will arise, it is important that we have a way to approach a new question or problem. These are the steps to keep in mind:

Make sure you have all the facts. In order to reach the right solutions, we must be as fully informed as possible.

Ask yourself: What specifically am I being asked to do? Does it seem unethical or improper? These questions will enable you to focus on the specific question you are faced with and the alternatives you have. Use your judgment and common sense; if something seems unethical or improper, it probably is.

Clarify your responsibility and role. In most situations, there is shared responsibility. Are your colleagues informed? It may help to get others involved and discuss the problem.

Discuss the problem with your manager. This is the basic guidance for all situations. In many cases, your manager will be more knowledgeable about the question and will appreciate being brought into the decision-making process. Remember that it is your manager's responsibility to help solve problems.

Seek help from Equinix resources. In the rare case where it may not be appropriate to discuss an issue with your manager or where you do not feel comfortable approaching your manager with your question, discuss it with Equinix's General Counsel or Director of Human Resources.

You may report ethical violations in confidence and without fear of retaliation. If your situation requires that your identity be kept secret, your anonymity will be protected to the greatest extent possible. Equinix does not permit retaliation of any kind against employees for good-faith reports of ethical violations.

Always ask first, act later. If you are unsure of what to do in any situation, seek guidance.

In the event of violations of the Code of Business Conduct or of these additional policies and procedures by the CEO or by one of the Company's senior financial officers, the Company's Board of Directors will determine, or designate appropriate persons to determine, appropriate actions to be taken. Such actions will be reasonably designed to deter wrongdoing and to promote accountability for adherence to the Code of Business Conduct and to these additional procedures and may include written notices to the individual involved that the Board of Directors has determined that there has been a violation, censure by the Board of Directors, demotion or re-assignment of the individual involved, suspension with or without pay or benefits (as determined by the Board of Directors), or termination of the individual's employment. In determining what action is appropriate in a particular case, the Board of Directors or its designee will take into account all relevant information, including the nature and severity of the violation, whether the violation was a single occurrence or repeated occurrences, whether the violation appears to have been intentional or inadvertent, whether the individual in question had been advised prior to the violation as to the proper course of action and whether or not the individual in question had committed other violations in the past.
