Dear Fellow Stockholder,

GrafTech's May 15, 2014 Annual Meeting is fast approaching, and you have an important choice to make. WE ARE WRITING TO REMIND ALL STOCKHOLDERS TO PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT IN GRAFTECH AND VOTE FOR ALL SEVEN DIRECTOR NOMINEES ON THE WHITE PROXY CARD TODAY. We also encourage all stockholders to discard any proxy materials you receive from the Daniel and Nathan Milikowsky Group, as we believe there are significant risks associated with voting the blue proxy card.

Just last week, one of the nation's leading proxy advisory firms, Glass Lewis & Co. (Glass Lewis), recommended that GrafTech stockholders vote FOR all of the Board's highly-qualified director nominees. The Glass Lewis report supports the Company's position that GrafTech has the right Board, the right team and the right strategy to continue building stockholder value, that Nathan Milikowsky is not suitable to serve on the Board and that the Milikowsky Group does not have a realistic strategy.

Specifically, in its May 1, 2014, report Glass Lewis stated<sup>1</sup>:

We believe the Company has taken reasonable steps to reduce costs, including by closing its highest cost plants and reducing headcount in 2013. The Company already operates more efficiently than its peer group average on the basis of SG&A and EBITDA margins and proposed changes will further increase efficiency.

[T]he board appointed a new CEO in January 2014 and nominated three first-time director candidates for election at the upcoming annual meeting, providing fresh perspective and bolstering its industry experience through the nomination of Mr. Danjczek.

We believe the Company conducted a thorough internal investigation regarding the leak of insider information and see no reason to doubt its conclusion that Mr. Nathan Milikowsky was likely the source of such leaks and acted in a manner that is inconsistent with his fiduciary duty. We therefore believe it would be inappropriate to appoint Mr. Nathan Milikowsky to the board.

[W]e do not believe the Dissident has presented any strategic plans that the Company is not already undertaking that would be advantageous or favorable to shareholders.

Notably, we find limited basis to support the Dissident's plan to reduce graphite electrode prices to capture additional market share. This plan ignores the logical response of other participants in the competitive graphite electrode space and could be disruptive at a time when prices are beginning to stabilize after a period of decline. Furthermore, the Dissident's EBITDA projections rely on pricing that appears unrealistic in the current industry climate, in our view.

VOTING THE WHITE CARD IS IN THE BEST INTEREST OF ALL STOCKHOLDERS

The Board has very carefully and prudently structured its slate to be responsive to the views of stockholders without compromising its commitment to governance and ethics. By voting the WHITE proxy card, stockholders are voting:

FOR a significantly refreshed Board;

FOR representation from the Milikowsky Group slate;

FOR independent, qualified and experienced directors with relevant industry experience;

FOR the continuity and stability the Board requires to further create value; and

FOR the enhancement of value for ALL stockholders through the continued successful execution of the Company's strategic plan.

These critical objectives can all be achieved by voting the WHITE proxy card.

A VOTE ON THE BLUE PROXY CARD IS A VOTE FOR RISK AND UNCERTAINTY

Importantly, you should know that, even if you only want to add Ms. Finerman or Mr. Jardini, or both, by voting the blue proxy card you could lose all but one of the existing qualified and experienced independent directors. The directors the Milikowsky Group has targeted, Mary Cranston, Steve Shawley and Ferrell McClean, are independent and integral to maintaining the Board's continuity and transferring essential institutional knowledge of both the business and the industry. In addition to the uncertainty created by losing critical continuity, voting the blue proxy card has the potential to strip the Board's committees of the majority, if not all (as in the case of the Audit and Finance Committee), of their members. For example, since Mr. Layman is retiring, if Ms. McClean and Mr. Shawley are not re-elected to the Board, the Audit and Finance Committee would be made up entirely of new directors.

The WHITE proxy card provides a clear path for stockholders to achieve the objective of adding representation from the Milikowsky Group to a well-balanced Board, without sacrificing the deep experience that is essential in this challenging macroeconomic environment.

VOTE THE WHITE PROXY CARD TODAY AND PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT IN GRAFTECH

The GrafTech team and strategy are delivering results. We urge you to vote the enclosed WHITE proxy card today FOR the Board's seven highly qualified and experienced director nominees: Joel Hawthorne, Randy Carson, Mary Cranston, Thomas Danjczek, Ferrell McClean, Catherine Morris and Steven Shawley.

Your vote is important, no matter how many shares you own. Whether or not you attend the Annual Meeting, the Company recommends that you vote today by telephone, by Internet, or by signing and dating the WHITE proxy card and returning it as soon as possible. We also advise stockholders to discard all blue proxy cards that you may receive from the Milikowsky Group.

With GrafTech poised for future success, now is NOT the time to make a change and derail the momentum that the GrafTech team has created.

We thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

The GrafTech Board of Directors

Joel L. Hawthorne

Randy W. Carson

Mary B. Cranston

Harold E. Layman

Ferrell P. McClean

Steven R. Shawley

Craig S. Shular
