América Móvil enters into exclusive negotiations to acquire a stake in Olimpia

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, April 1, 2007 -- América Móvil, S.A.B de C.V. ( AMX ) (BMV: AMX; NYSE: AMX; Nasdaq: AMOV; LATIBEX: XAMXL) announced today that it has reached an agreement to enter into exclusive negotiations with Pirelli & C. S.p.A. ( Pirelli ), in conjunction with Teléfonos de México, S.A.B. de C.V. ( Telmex ), to acquire from Pirelli and Sintonia one-third of the share capital of the Italian company, Olimpia. This company owns 18% of the ordinary shares of Telecom Italia.

The completion of the transaction, which is subject, among others things, to final documentation and regulatory approvals, would lead to the reduction of the ownership interests of Pirelli and Sintonia in Olimpia, from a combined 100% today to one-third of the total stock at the closing of the transaction. América Móvil and Telmex will acquire one third of the stock of Olimpia, in equal parts. The other-third of the stock will be purchased by U.S. telecommunications company, AT&T.

Through this potential transaction América Móvil intends to promote the growth of Telecom Italia, a state-of-the-art telecommunications company with operations in Europe and Latin America. The company looks forward to the opportunity of working together with a group of Italian investors who share its views of the great potential this company has.

About AMX

AMX is the leading provider of wireless services in Latin America. As of December, 2006 it had 125 million wireless subscribers and 2 million fixed wirelines in the Americas.
