AMÉRICA MÓVIL S THIRD QUARTER OF 2009
FINANCIAL AND OPERATING REPORT

Mexico City, October 26, 2009 - América Móvil, S.A.B. de C.V. (América Móvil) [BMV: AMX] [NYSE: AMX] [NASDAQ: AMOV] [LATIBEX: XAMXL], announced today its financial and operating results for the third quarter of 2009.

- Third quarter revenues totaled 99.8 billion pesos. They were up 16.9% annually, with service revenues rising 19.5% on the back of strong data-revenue growth. In the nine months to September revenues reached 287.6 billion pesos, 14.5% more than a year before.
- EBITDA came in at 40.4 billion pesos in the third quarter and 118.1 billion pesos year-to-date, having risen 15.9% and 14.1% respectively with respect to a year before. The EBITDA margin in the quarter was 40.5%, similar to the one of the year-earlier quarter.
- Operating profits of 27.7 billion pesos in the quarter contributed to a net profit of 18.7 billion pesos, 50.6% greater than that of the same period the year before. Our net income per share stood at 57 peso cents which represents an increase of 57.3% over the year-earlier quarter. In the first nine months of the year our net profits reached 57.5 billion pesos, 31.2% more than the previous year.
- The quarter's financing costs were down 82.5% year-on-year to 653 million pesos. They were equivalent to only half of our net interest expenses given the gains associated with foreign exchange movements. Through September financing costs were 80.3% lower than a year before.
- In the nine months to September our net debt was reduced by 32.6 billion pesos. Over the same period our capital expenditures totaled 25.5 billion pesos and our distributions to shareholders via buybacks and dividends 27.5 billion pesos.
- América Móvil added 4.0 million subscribers in the third quarter of 2009 bringing to 11.6 million the total for the year through September. At the end of that month we had 194.3 million wireless subscribers and 3.8 million fixed-lines for a total of 198.1 million lines.
- Brazil led the way with 1.8 million net gains followed by Tracfone in the U.S. with 712 thousand, Mexico with 280 thousand and Argentina with 236 thousand. Our Mexican operations account for 30% of América Móvil's subscribers and, in the third quarter, contributed 7% of our net additions, with a special focus on postpaid.

Relevant Events

In July we paid an ordinary dividend of $0.30 Mexican pesos per share. The amount paid was equivalent to US$ 718 million.

On October 1st BusinessWeek published its report on the World's Best Companies 2009, which ranks the top 40 companies out of a sample of 2,500 firms. América Móvil was the only Mexican company included and one of only two Latam companies that made the ranking (it appeared in the 18th position).

On October 8th América Móvil issued a dollar-denominated bond in the amount of US$ 750 million. The bond has a 10-year tenor and pays a coupon of 5.0% . It is the lowest coupon ever for a Latam 10-year corporate bond.

In Mexico the Chamber of Deputies approved a bill that, among other things, calls for a new 3% excise tax to be levied on telecom services. The bill has to be ratified by the Senate by the end of the year for the new tax to become effective.

Over the years América Móvil pursued a commercial strategy based on discounting airtime prices as a means of promoting greater usage of voice and data services. This strategy, first tried in Mexico, has resulted in important increases in the traffic running on our networks. In Mexico traffic shot up 14 times since the year 2000.

At 5 dollar cents per minute, Telcel's average price per minute of voice is the lowest within the OECD with the exception of the U.S. Our prepaid prices the ones paid by 93% of Telcel's subscribers happen to be the lowest anywhere in the OECD. In this respect, it is important to note that Teligen, the company that acts as the database provider of the OECD on telecom pricing recently released its so-called Teligen Baskets report the one on which the OECD's analysis are based with information as of August 2009. According to the report, Telcel's low usage basket is the cheapest among the 30 countries that make up the OECD in US dollar terms and the seventh in the OECD's PPP terms (Purchasing Power Parity).

The investments we made in 3G networks our 3G services now cover 70% of the population in our region of operations in Latam have proven to be fruitful, as they have allowed for a significant expansion in data revenues even in a weak economic environment.

America Movil Consolidated Results

The third quarter presented signs of an incipient economic recovery in several countries, particularly in South America. However, with few exceptions most notably Brazil subscriber growth remained subdued with respect to the previous quarter and substantially lower than a year before (Tracfone in the U.S. being the main exception).

In all major countries, and then some, our postpaid subscriber base continued to grow more rapidly than the prepaid one as many clients that are particularly sensitive to the quality of service coverage, technology, capacity feel increasingly attracted to our networks. Data continued to be the major driver of revenue growth as the 3G services that for the most part our subsidiaries started offering last year met strong demand from our clients.

Consolidated revenues were just shy of 100 billion pesos, having increased 16.9% from the year-earlier quarter as service revenues expanded 19.5% and equipment revenues remained flat. The median rate of growth of data revenues throughout our operations was 58.1%, attesting to the importance of our investments in 3G.

Since the Mexican peso depreciated over the period against the U.S. dollar and all Latam currencies particularly the Brazilian real and the Colombian peso part of the increase in service revenues is explained by the currency moves.

Mexico

The marked economic downturn in Mexico and the weaker peso (down 28.3% year-on-year) continued to weigh on subscriber growth, with Telcel adding 280 thousand subscribers in the third quarter, significantly less than a year before. All of them, plus some more, were postpaid since postpaid additions totaled 318 thousand subs in the quarter, bringing to one million the figure for the last twelve months. Telcel's share of América Móvil's subscribers has fallen to 30%, down from nearly 81% at the time the company was established.

Revenues were up 5.2% over the year-earlier quarter to 35.6 billion pesos, with service revenues rising 6.5% on the back of strong data revenue growth and the increased importance of postpaid subscribers in our base. ARPUs remained almost flat year-on-year, buoyed by data revenues, with MOUs up 14% and prices per minute of voice down 19% respectively from a year before. Over the last 3 years Telcel's average price per minute of voice plunged 49%.

At 19.7 billion pesos, EBITDA was 10.4% higher than a year earlier on account of lower subscriber acquisition costs and higher data revenues. For the first nine months of the year EBITDA totaled 58.2 billion pesos.

Telcel's 3G footprint continues to expand throughout Mexico. At the end of the quarter it covered two thirds of the population.

Brazil

The recovery of the Brazilian economy was behind the surge in subscriber growth seen in the third quarter, with net additions of 1.8 million doubling those of the previous quarter in defiance of the typical seasonality seen in the country. On an annual basis, the growth of postpaid subscribers continues to outpace that of the prepaid ones.

Third quarter revenues of 3.1 billion reais exceeded those of the same period of 2008 by 4.6%, as service revenues expanded 8.7% led by data revenues. The latter were up 66.1% . Prices per minute of voice remained flat in the period while MOUs fell by 15.2% to 86. In the nine months to September revenues came in at 8.8 billion reais; they also were up 4.6% year-on-year.

EBITDA totaled 678 million reais in the quarter and 2.1 billion year-to-date. The EBITDA margin, 22.0%, was similar to the one registered the previous year.

Claro continued to increase its 3G coverage: at the end of September it reached 55% of the country's population.

At 117 thousand subscribers, the quarter's net additions were more than twice as high as those obtained a year ago. Through September we had gained 300 thousand subscribers, ending the month with 3.3 million subs, 18.4% more than a year before. Our postpaid subscribers increased at a faster rate: 27.9%.

Revenues of 65.2 billion Chilean pesos in the quarter were somewhat higher, 1.6%, than those registered the previous year. Data revenues, which increased 58.1% year-on-year, helped compensate for the steep reductions in prices per minute of voice. In the nine months to September revenues totaled 195.5 billion Chilean pesos; they were up 3.9% year-on-year.

EBITDA added up to 3.7 billion Chilean pesos through September. 964 billion were generated in the third quarter and was down relative to the previous year as a result of greater subscriber growth.

Colombia and Panama

After adding 224 thousand new clients in the third quarter we finished September with 27.4 million subscribers, 7.8% more than a year before.

Third quarter revenues came in at 1.4 trillion Colombian pesos, 5.8% below last year's, mostly on account of the steep decline in equipment revenues, -39.3%, and of the fact that the year before we had had extraordinary revenues arising from the resolution of an interconnection dispute. Revenues for the first nine months rose 2.3% year-on-year to 4.4 trillion Colombian pesos. Data revenues are growing 63.7% annually providing support to ARPUs in what has been an otherwise weak environment.

We obtained 738 billion Colombian pesos in EBITDA in the quarter. The margin for the period stood at 51.2% of revenues, slightly below that of 2008 on account of the consolidation of our Panamanian operations with those in Colombia. In the first three quarters our EBITDA resulted in 2.2 trillion Colombian pesos, very similar to the levels observed a year ago.

Data revenues increased twice as fast as did service revenues overall. In the first nine months of the year revenues were up 9.0% to 840 million dollars.

Helped by lower subscriber growth EBITDA increased 12.1% from the year-earlier quarter to 143 million dollars. It represented 50.8% of revenues. The margin for the period expanded 4.3 percentage points from a year before. In the first three quarters of the year EBITDA totaled 409 million dollars, having risen 16.8% year-on-year, sustaining over the period an EBITDA margin of 48.7%, 3.2 percentage points higher than that of 2008.
