Employment Agreements

Edward G. Atsinger III and Stuart W. Epperson entered into separate Employment Agreements with Salem effective as of July 1, 2001, pursuant to which Mr. Atsinger serves as President and Chief Executive Officer of Salem and Mr. Epperson serves as Chairman of Salem. The initial employment term under each agreement expires June 30, 2004. The Compensation Committee has begun discussions with Messrs. Atsinger and Epperson concerning an extension of these Employment Agreements and the company anticipates that extensions of the agreements will be completed before their stated expiration date. If formal extensions are not completed before June 30, 2004, and unless notice is provided to the contrary, each Employment Agreement renews automatically for successive one-year periods thereafter.

Pursuant to the employment agreements, each of Messrs. Atsinger and Epperson will be paid an annual base salary as specified in their respective agreements and an annual bonus determined at the discretion of the board of directors. In addition, on July 1, 2001, Messrs. Atsinger and Epperson received signing bonuses of $300,000 and $200,000, respectively, pursuant to their respective Employment Agreements. Each executive is required to repay a pro rata portion of the signing bonus if his employment is terminated at any time during the initial three-year term of his employment agreement. As of December 31, 2003, the unearned portion of these signing bonuses was $50,000 for Mr. Atsinger and $33,333 for Mr. Epperson.

Effective as of January 1, 2003, the annual base salary payable under their respective Employment Agreements is $700,000 for Mr. Atsinger and $600,000 for Mr. Epperson. The Employment Agreements each provide that, in the event of a termination of employment by Salem without cause (or a constructive termination by Salem) during the initial term of employment, Salem will pay a severance benefit in the form of salary continuation payments for the longer of six months or the remainder of the initial term, plus accrued bonus through the date of termination. Following the initial term of employment, a termination of employment by Salem without cause (or a constructive termination by Salem) or a failure by Salem to renew the initial or any subsequent term of employment for an additional annual term would entitle Messrs. Atsinger and Epperson to three months of severance plus accrued bonus through the date of termination.

Additionally, the Employment Agreements with Messrs. Atsinger and Epperson provide Salem with a right of first refusal on corporate opportunities, which includes acquisitions of radio stations in any market in which Salem is interested, and include a nondisclosure provision which is effective for the term of the Employment Agreements and indefinitely thereafter.

David A.R. Evans entered into an employment agreement with Salem pursuant to which he serves as Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Salem. Effective as of September 16, 2003, his annual salary is $310,000 and, effective as of September 16, 2004, his annual salary will increase to $330,000. Effective as of September 16, 2005, his annual salary will increase to $350,000. Mr. Evans' employment agreement expires on September 15, 2006.

401(k) Plan

The company adopted a 401(k) savings plan in 1993 for the purpose of providing, at the option of the employee, retirement benefits to full-time employees of the company and its subsidiaries. Participants are allowed to make non-forfeitable contributions to the savings plan of up to 15% of their annual salary, but may not exceed the annual maximum contribution limitations established by the Internal Revenue Service. The company currently matches 50% on the first 3% of the amounts contributed by each participant and 25% of the next 3% contributed but does not match participants' contributions in excess of 6% of their compensation per pay period. Prior to January 1, 2004, the company matched 25% of the amounts contributed by each participant but did not match participants' contributions in excess of 6% of their compensation per pay-period. The company made a contribution of $511,000 to the 401(k) savings plan during 2003.

Audit Committee Report

The Audit Committee reviews the company's financial reporting process on behalf of the board of directors. Management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the financial reporting process. The company's independent auditors are responsible for performing an independent audit of the company's consolidated financial statements in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and for expressing an opinion on the conformity of the audited financial statements to generally accepted accounting principles. The Audit Committee's responsibility is to monitor and oversee these processes.

In connection with these responsibilities, the Audit Committee met with management and the independent auditors to review and discuss the audited December 31, 2003 financial statements. The Audit Committee also discussed with the independent auditors the matters required by the Statement on Auditing Standards No. 61 (Communication with Audit Committees). The Audit Committee also received written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), and the Audit Committee discussed with the independent auditors that firm's independence from the company and its management. The Audit Committee has also considered whether the independent auditors' provision of non-audit services to the company is compatible with the auditors' independence.

Based upon the Audit Committee's discussions with management and the independent auditors, and the Audit Committee's review of the representations of management and the independent auditors, the Audit Committee recommended that the board of directors include the audited consolidated financial statements in the company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2003, to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The company's compensation program is administered by the Compensation Committee, which is comprised of three independent directors as determined by the board of directors applying the relevant SEC and NASDAQ Rules. Following review and approval by the Compensation Committee, issues pertaining to compensation benefits and severance arrangements for the company's executive officers and other key employees are submitted to the full board of directors for approval.

The following is the Compensation Committee Report addressing the compensation of the company's executive officers and other key employees for the 2003 fiscal year.

Report of the Compensation Committee

The primary function of the Compensation Committee is to oversee Salem's policies relating to executive compensation. The Compensation Committee's primary objectives are to attract and retain qualified individuals by providing competitive compensation and to encourage key management employees to conduct the affairs of the company in a manner that will directly benefit the company and its stockholders.

The Compensation Committee's policy is to establish fair and competitive base salaries for the company's executive officers and other key employees. In fulfilling this role, the Compensation Committee compares the salaries of Salem's executive officers and other key employees with the salaries of individuals with similar responsibilities at companies that are considered to be comparable to Salem in terms of assets, market capitalization, revenue and operating cash flow. The Compensation Committee also analyzes the impact of an executive officer's or other key employee's individual performance with respect to matters important to the interests of Salem and believes that outstanding performance merits increases in base salary, bonus consideration and stock-based incentives. The Compensation Committee believes that a direct relationship between an executive officer's or other key employee's compensation and that individual's contribution to the company's interests best serves the company's stockholders.

Accordingly, the following principles are inherent in all of the Compensation Committee's considerations regarding compensation for executive officers and other key employees:

1. In order to attract and retain highly qualified and experienced personnel necessary to fulfill the objectives of the company, Salem must offer competitive compensation, including a competitive base salary, cash bonus incentives and stock-based incentives;
2. Cash compensation in excess of the employee's base salary should be tied to the individual's performance, the performance of the business unit for which the employee is responsible and the overall performance of the company; and
3. The financial interests of the executive officers and key employees of the company should be closely aligned with the financial interests of the company's stockholders.

In 2003, the two primary forms of compensation paid or awarded to Salem's executive officers and key employees were salary and stock options. The base salaries for the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer in 2003 were provided for in their respective Employment Agreements with

Edgar Filing: - Form

Salem. The Chairman's base salary for 2003 was $600,000. The Chief Executive Officer's base salary for 2003 was $700,000. Salary for all other executive officers and key employees is reviewed periodically and adjusted as warranted in accordance with the company's principles regarding executive compensation outlined above.

In 2001, the Compensation Committee renewed the Employment Agreements with the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer following the principles set forth above. Effective January 1, 2002, through June 30, 2004, the annual compensation of the Chairman was set at $600,000 and the annual compensation of the Chief Executive Officer was set at $700,000.

Table of Contents

In addition, the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer were paid signing bonuses of $200,000 and $300,000, respectively, upon the signing of their Employment Agreements. The signing bonuses are refundable to the company on a pro rata basis should the Chairman or Chief Executive Officer terminate their employment prior to July 2004.

All additional cash compensation paid to executive officers (other than our Chairman and Chief Executive Officer) and other key employees in 2003 was tied to the performance of the individual, the business unit for which they were responsible and the company. Bonuses to the company's Chairman and Chief Executive Officer are determined by the Compensation Committee and are based, in part, upon the performance of the company as well as the individual performance of these officers.

In 2003, no cash bonuses were paid to Salem's executive officers and other key employees for company performance during 2002. Our Chief Executive Officer was paid a cash bonus of $257,558 in March 2004 that, while paid in 2004, rewarded his performance in 2003. Our Chairman was paid a cash bonus of $185,442 in March 2004 that, while paid in 2004, rewarded his performance in 2003.

The Compensation Committee believes that ownership of the company's stock by key management more closely aligns the interests of key members of management to that of stockholders. In 2003, to further provide incentives to key employees, stock options were granted to certain key members of management as more specifically described in the section of this Proxy Statement entitled "Stock Option Grants." In addition to the 2003 option grants, in March 2004, the company granted options for the purchase of Class A common stock as compensation for management's performance during 2003 as follows: Edward G. Atsinger, III, 24,850 options, Stuart Epperson, 17,892 options, Joe D. Davis, 1,025 options, and David A.R. Evans, 359 options. These options have an exercise price equal to or exceeding the fair market price of the Class A common stock on the date of the grant and vest immediately.

The majority of the remaining stock options granted to executive officers and other key employees in 2003 vest over four years and have an exercise price per share equal to or exceeding the fair market price of the Class A common stock at the time that the stock option was granted. This approach is designed to increase stockholder value over a long term, since the full benefit of the compensation package cannot be realized unless the stock price appreciation occurs over a number of years.

The Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") contains a provision that limits the tax deductibility of certain compensation paid to certain executive officers and disallows the deductibility of certain compensation in excess of $1,000,000 per year unless the compensation is considered performance-based pursuant to the rules established in the IRC. Salem's policies and practices generally ensure the maximum deduction possible under the IRC; however, the company reserves the right to forego any and all of the tax deduction if it is believed to be in the best overall interest of Salem and its stockholders.

STOCK PRICE PERFORMANCE GRAPH

The graph below compares the cumulative total stockholder return of the company's Class A common stock with the cumulative total return of the NASDAQ NMS equity index and the Bloomberg Broadcast and Cable Radio Index since July 1, 1999, when the company's Class A common stock was first registered under the Exchange Act, through December 31, 2003. The company's Class B common stock is not publicly traded and is not registered. The graph assumes that the value of an investment in the company's Class A common stock and each index was $100 on July 1, 1999, and that any dividends were reinvested. No cash dividends have been declared on the company's Class A common stock since the initial public offering. Stockholder returns over the indicated period should not be considered indicative of future stockholder returns.

- (1) Salem's Class A common stock returns were calculated based on the closing sales prices per share of the Class A common stock as follows: 7/1/99 (initial trading day), $25.50; 12/31/99, $22.63; 6/30/00, $9.28; 12/31/00, $14.94; 6/30/01, $21.88; 12/31/01, $23.00; 6/30/02, $24.87; 12/31/02, $24.97; 6/30/03, $20.23; 12/31/03, $27.12. The $22.50 per share initial public offering price of the company's Class A common stock was not used in calculating the Salem graph points.

For purposes of this Proxy Statement, and until otherwise noted in the company's subsequent Proxy Statements, the company is using the Bloomberg Broadcast and Cable Radio Index as its comparative index for purposes of the stock price performance graph above. The reason for this change from the prior year's Proxy Statement is that the Paul Kagan Associates, Inc. Radio Station Average Index is no longer published.

The stock price performance graph above shall not be deemed incorporated by reference by any general statement incorporating by reference this Proxy Statement into any filing under the Securities Act or the Exchange Act and shall not otherwise be deemed filed or furnished under such Acts, except to the extent that the company specifically incorporates this information by reference.

Audit Committee's Pre-Approval Policies and Procedures

In accordance with the Audit Committee's pre-approval policies and procedures and the requirements of applicable law, all services to be provided by Ernst & Young LLP are pre-approved by the Audit Committee. Pre-approval includes audit services, audit-related services and other permissible non-audit services. Pre-approval is generally provided by the full Audit Committee for up to a year and is detailed as to the particular defined tasks or scope of work and is subject to a specific budget. In some cases, the Audit Committee has delegated authority to the Chairman of the Audit Committee to pre-approve additional services, and any such pre-approvals granted by the Chairman must then be communicated to the full Audit Committee at or prior to the next scheduled Audit Committee meeting. When assessing whether it is appropriate to engage the independent auditors to perform a service, the Audit Committee considers, among other things, whether such services are consistent with the auditor's independence and whether such services constitute prohibited non-audit functions under Section 201 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. The Audit Committee considered the provision of the services listed in the table above by Ernst & Young LLP and determined that the provision of such services was compatible with maintaining the independence of Ernst & Young LLP.

The company's board of directors has selected Ernst & Young LLP to serve as its independent auditors for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2004. Reasons for the Proposal

If the stockholders do not ratify this selection, management and the board of directors will reconsider its selection of Ernst & Young LLP and will either continue to retain this firm or appoint new auditors upon recommendation of the Audit Committee. Even if the selection is ratified, the Audit Committee or our board of directors, in their discretion, may direct the appointment of different independent auditors at any time during the year if they determine that such a change would be in the best interests of the company and its stockholders.
