Exhibit 1

Euroseas Ltd. Reports Results for the Fourth Quarter and Full Year 2005

Maroussi, Athens, Greece March 28, 2006 Euroseas Ltd., an owner and operator of drybulk and container carrier vessels and provider of seaborne transportation for dry bulk and containerized cargoes, announced today its results for the Fourth Quarter and for the Full Year periods ended December 31, 2005.

Earnings per share for the full year 2005 were $0.78, calculated on 32,218,427 weighted average number of shares outstanding during the year.

Management Commentary:

Aristides Pittas, Chairman and CEO of Euroseas commented: 2005 has been a pivotal year in the development of Euroseas.

On August 25, 2005, we concluded a private placement to a number of institutional and accredited investors raising approximately $21 million in gross proceeds and we entered into an agreement to merge with Cove Apparel Inc. listed on the OTCBB (CVAP.OB). On February 3, 2006, Euroseas' F-1 registration statement that registers the re-sale of the common stock and shares underlying the warrants issued in connection with our private placement was declared effective and Euroseas' shares expect to commence trading shortly on the OTCBB under the symbol ESEAF. We have also applied for listing on the NASDAQ National Market. We believe that being a publicly listed company is a milestone that will enhance the growth prospects of our company. On March 27, 2006, the merger of Cove with our wholly owned subsidiary, Euroseas Acquisition Company Inc. was consummated and Cove's stock has been de-listed from the OTCBB.

On the business front, we acquired in November 2005 the containership M/V Artemis, built in 1987 with a 2,098 teu and 29,693 dwt capacity, which is employed under a time charter terminating in December 2008 at the rate of $19,000 per day. In December 2005, we also concluded debt financing for $15.5 million to fund part of the acquisition of M/V Artemis.

We also declared and paid two quarterly dividends since our private placement totaling $ 0.13 per share, one of $0.07 in November 2005 and one of $0.06 in February 2006. Our policy is to pay quarterly dividends to our shareholders each February, May, August and November in amounts the Board of Directors may determine to be appropriate. Our intention is to distribute to our shareholders substantially all available cash flow generated from operations less expenses, debt service, reserves for drydocking expenses and special surveys, necessary working capital reserves and any funds required for the growth of our Company.

And Mr. Pittas concluded: Our overall strategy is to maximize our shareholders return by taking advantage of the shipping cycles and grow our company at the right time by focusing on age and size segments that maximize return on equity. We have entered in an agreement to sell one of our handysize vessels, m/v John P, for $4.95 million gross. With these proceeds and the cash available from the private placement and utilizing standard leverage, we are currently in a strong position to take advantage of market opportunities, as they may occur in 2006. Our fleet deployment strategy is to have a mix between profitable period time charters, which generate stable and predictable cash flows, and spot market operations which can often enhance earnings, the mix depending on our expectations on how the markets will develop. It is this strategy that has enabled our family to be successful in the shipping arena in the past and we are confident that the same strategy will work as well now that we became a public company.

(*) Euroseas has signed a Memorandum of Agreement to sell the bulk carrier M/V John P to be delivered to the buyers in late June / early July 2006

Euroseas employs its vessels in the spot and time charter market and through pool arrangement. Presently, our three containership vessels are employed under time charters, our four handysize bulkers are under voyage charters while our panamax vessel, IRINI, is employed in the Baumarine pool that is managed by Klaveness, a major global charterer in the dry bulk area, and also participates in three short funds (contracts to carry cargo at agreed rates), minimizing its exposure to the spot market (covered at 102% in 2006, 77% for 2007 and 42% for 2008, approximately).

50% of Euroseas's ship capacity days for 2006 and about 40% for 2007 are secured under time charter contracts, or protected from market fluctuations.

(1) Average number of vessels is the number of vessels that constituted our fleet for the relevant period, as measured by the sum of the number of calendar days each vessel was a part of our fleet during the period divided by the number of calendar days in that period.

(2) Calendar days. We define calendar days as the total number of days in a period during which each vessel in our fleet was in our possession including off-hire days associated with major repairs, drydockings or special or intermediate surveys. Calendar days are an indicator of the size of our fleet over a period and affect both the amount of revenues and the amount of expenses that we record during that period.

(3) Available days. We define available days as the total number of days in a period during which each vessel in our fleet was in our possession net of off-hire days associated with scheduled repairs, drydockings or special or intermediate surveys. The shipping industry uses available days to measure the number of days in a period during which vessels were available to generate revenues.

(4) Voyage days. We define voyage days as the total number of days in a period during which each vessel in our fleet was in our possession net of off-hire days associated with scheduled and unscheduled repairs, drydockings or special or intermediate surveys or days waiting to find employment or other offhire. The shipping industry uses voyage days to measure the number of days in a period during which vessels actually generate revenues.

(5) Fleet utilization. We calculate fleet utilization by dividing the number of our voyage days during a period by the number of our available days during that period. The shipping industry uses fleet utilization to measure a company's efficiency in finding suitable employment for its vessels and minimizing the amount of days that its vessels are off-hire for reasons such as unscheduled repairs or days waiting to find employment.

(6) Time charter equivalent, or TCE, is a measure of the average daily revenue performance of a vessel on a per voyage basis. Our method of calculating TCE is consistent with industry standards and is determined by dividing revenue generated from voyage charters net of voyage expenses by available days for the relevant time period. Voyage expenses primarily consist of port, canal and fuel costs that are unique to a particular voyage, which would otherwise be paid by the charterer under a time charter contract, as well as commissions. TCE is a standard shipping industry performance measure used primarily to compare period-to-period changes in a shipping company's performance despite changes in the mix of charter types (i.e., spot voyage charters, time charters and bareboat charters) under which the vessels may be employed between the periods.

(7) Daily vessel operating expenses, which includes crew costs, provisions, deck and engine stores, lubricating oil, insurance, maintenance and repairs is calculated by dividing vessel operating expenses by fleet calendar days for the relevant time period.

(8) Daily general and administrative expense is calculated by dividing general and administrative expense by fleet calendar days for the relevant time period.

(9) Total vessel operating expenses, or TVOE, is a measure of our total expenses associated with operating our vessels. TVOE is the sum of vessel operating expenses and general and administrative expenses. Daily TVOE is calculated by dividing TVOE by fleet calendar days for the relevant time period.
