(10) Preliminary Stage Projects

The Target Equity Interest also includes the following Preliminary Stage Projects: (1) Rizhao Lanshan 4 x 660 MW coal-fired project, the construction application for which has been submitted by Shandong Province Development and Reform Commission to the National Development and Reform Commission, now pending the reply and approval from the latter; and (2) Luoyuanwan 2 x 660 MW coal-fired project, the feasibility study for which has been completed while the construction application for which has been submitted by Fujian Province Development and Reform Commission to the National Development and Reform Commission.

Reasons for the Acquisition, Pricing Factors and Impact

On top of the basis of the appraised value of the Target Equity Interest (i.e. RMB6,928 billion), the pricing principle of the Acquisition has also taken into account the factors including combined synergy and profitability of the Target Equity Interest, the preliminary stage projects, planned projects and closing-down capacity. The aggregate consideration was therefore agreed at RMB 8.625 billion.

The Acquisition reflects the Company's implementation of its development strategy which focuses on both green-field development and acquisition. Upon completion of the Acquisition, the operation scale and geographical coverage of the Company will be expanded, and as a result, the profitability of the Company will be enhanced. This helps to strengthen the Company's position as one of the largest independent power producers in China. Under the condition that the State is trying to cope with the global challenges and in order to maintain steady and rapid economic development, the acquisition of power assets (especially assets jointly operated by power enterprise and coal enterprise) can help to further enlarge the dominance of operation scale, to capture more market shares, to strengthen the competitive edges and to increase the value of the shareholders' equity. The Acquisition brings the Company into the power market in Yuannan Province, and helps to further strengthen the Company's position in the power market in Shandong Province. Moreover, the Acquisition achieves the combined synergy effect from the facilities of coal, power and harbour, which is conducive to improve the assets structure, to expand industry chain and to cultivate new growth points of the Company.

Upon completion of the Acquisition, the Company will obtain an operating controlling generation capacity of 3,300 MW (coal-fired), an equity-based generation capacity of 3,300MW, a generation capacity under construction as approved of 716 MW (including 600 MW of coal-fired generation capacity, 16 MW hydropower generation capacity and 100 biomass generation capacity), a capacity of preliminary stage projects and planned projects of 12,930 MW, a closing-down capacity (due to the policy of replacing small coal-fired generating units by large coal-fired generating units) of 270 MW, the coal projects with geological reserves of 2.777 billion tons with exploitation reserves of 1.804 billion tons and planned capacity of 8 million tons per year, two harbours with 10 docks (where six of which are in operation with an aggregate annual throughput capacity of 6,690,000 tons, three of which are under construction with an aggregate planned annual throughput capacity of 12,950,000 tons and one of which is a preliminary stage project) and five vessels each with shipping captivity of 20,000 tons.

The key power plants acquired under the Acquisition are located on the main channel of the West-east Electricity Transmission Project, thus having good business prospects. In particular, the Bailongshan coal mine and Yuwang coal mine will support the projects of Diandong and Yuwang. The advantage of coal-electricity integration could be fully realised after the coal mines are put into operation. Under the current condition, obtaining approvals for new development projects is expected to take longer time with considerable difficulties. The assets acquired this time include operating projects, projects under construction, approved preliminary projects and closing-down capacity as a result of the policy of replacing small coal-fired generating units by large coal-fired generating units. Such assets carry follow-on development potential which makes sustainable development possible.

Progressing the integration of such assets, especially the completion of coal-electricity integration, will bring notable benefit for the Company. The Acquisition is conducive to develop the Company's business and to enhance the profitability of the Company.

The Acquisition has no material impact on the assets, liabilities and revenue of the Company.

The consideration of the Acquisition was arrived at after various negotiations among the parties, and has already taken into account the market environment, operating conditions, and profitability of the Target Equity Interest, particularly, the asset valuation report prepared by CEA.

The board of Directors considers that the terms of the Acquisition are fair and reasonable and the Acquisition is in the interests of the Company and the shareholders as a whole.

The Acquisition constitutes a discloseable transaction of the Company. The Directors (including independent non-executive Directors) are of the view that the Equity Interest Transfer Contract were entered into: (i) in the ordinary and usual course of business of the Company; (ii) on normal commercial terms; and (iii) on terms that are fair and reasonable and the Equity Interest Transfer Contract are in the interests of the Company and its shareholders as a whole.
