PROSPECTS FOR 2011

In 2011, due to the profound impact of the international financial crisis, China faces various new challenges including maintaining a stable and relatively rapid economic development, managing inflation expectations and adjusting economic structures. Certain unstable and uncertain factors still exist.

Regarding the power market, along with the in-depth development of China's industrialization, informatization, urbanization and marketization, huge potentials of the domestic market and long-term growth of the macro economy, the long-term growth trend of power demand for the whole society will remain unchanged. However, the short-term uncertainty of the national economy will affect the continued rapid growth of power demand, thereby affecting the operating efficiency and development pace of the Company. At the same time, during the course of the advancement of power system reform, corresponding tariff mechanism reform is lagging behind which will bring about uncertainty to the Company's operation.

Regarding the coal market, the current scale and location advantages of the Company are conducive to consolidate and enhance the ability to obtain stable coal resources and boost the Company's strength amid the ever-changing operating environment. However, due to the impact of various factors, including rise of international coal prices, great demand for domestic coal, extreme weather and transportation bottleneck constraint, coal prices remain at high levels and there is still a possibility of tight coal supply during certain periods in some regions which will bring about new challenges to the stable fuel supply, control of fuel costs and enhancement of coal-electricity efficiency by the Company.

Regarding the capital market, adjustment of the State currency policy, tightening and strengthened control of the overall capital supply and continued rises of interest rates will bring about an adverse impact on the growth of the nationwide fixed asset investment and power demand, thereby posing new challenges to the protection of capital supply and reduction of funding costs by the Company.

In 2011, the main tasks of the Company are to further consolidate and enhance profitability, gather strength to create efficiency and work hard through innovations in a pioneering spirit and strive to lead in the market on the basis of scientific development and accelerated change in development mode focusing on the enhancement of economic efficiency. The Company will ensure safe and stable production, seize market opportunities, consolidate and enlarge the market share and strive to achieve the annual power generation of the Company's domestic power plants to approximately 315 billion kWh and achieve the coal-fired generating unit utilization hours of the Company to 5,500 hours. The Company will expedite the construction and improvement of coal storage and transit shipment and the transportation supply protection system, actively expand fuel supply channels, strive to enhance coal protection ability, enhance the synergy of its sea transportation ability and resources, enhance fuel cost management and strive to reduce fuel costs, control production costs strictly, tap potentials and increase efficiency. The Company will continue to push forward energy saving and environment protection work, keep reducing energy consumption levels and keep major economic and technical indicators positive, enhance the management of projects in progress, continuously enhance the operation of new generating units, accelerate the change of development mode, consolidate and optimize geographical location and increase the ability of the Company in sustainable development. In accordance with the guidance of the government on energy policies, the Company will accelerate the construction of large-scale thermal power bases, accelerate the construction of co-generation projects, speed up the development of coal and power integration projects, actively push forward the development of natural gas and wind power projects, actively seek to invest, develop and construct hydropower, nuclear power and solar energy power generation projects, so as to make the Company stand out as a first-rate listed power company that boasts prominent edges in terms of cutting-edge technology, excellent management, reasonable geographical location, optimized structure, industry synergy, remarkable economic efficiency, simultaneous development of coal-fired power generation and clean energy power generation, excellent corporate governance and market value.

Quick ratio	0.32	0.34
Ratio of liabilities and shareholders' equity	3.08	3.50

Multiples of interest earned	1.55	1.79
------------------------------	------	------

Formula of the financial ratios:

Current ratio	=	balance of current assets as at year end
		balance of current liabilities as at year end

Quick ratio	=	(balance of current assets as at year end – inventories as at year end)
		balance of current liabilities as at year end

Ratio of liabilities and shareholders' equity	=	balance of liabilities as at year end balance of shareholders' equity (excluding non-controlling interests) as at year end

Multiples of interest earned	=	(profit before income tax expense + interest expense) interest expenditure (inclusive of capitalized interest)

The current ratio and quick ratio remained at a relatively low level for the years ended 31 December 2010 and 2009, and decreased slightly at the year end of 2010 from the year end of 2009. The decrease in the ratio of liabilities and shareholders' equity at the year end of 2010 from the year end of 2009 was primarily due to the issuance of additional shares by the Company. The multiples of interest earned decreased, primarily attributable to the decrease of net profit ended 31 December 2010.

The Company expects to have significant capital expenditures in the next few years. During the course, the Company will make active efforts to improve project planning process on commercially viable basis. The Company will also actively develop newly planned projects to pave the foundation for its long-term growth. The Company expects to finance the capital expenditures above through internal funding, cash flows provided by operating activities and debts and equity financing. The cash requirements, usage plans and cash resources of the Company for next two years are as follows:

2.3 Cash resources and anticipated financing costs

The Company expects to finance its capital expenditures and acquisition costs primarily through internal capital, cash flows from operating activities and debts and equity financing.

Good operating results and sound credit status provide the Company with strong financing capabilities. As at 31 December 2010, the Company and its subsidiaries had undrawn banking facilities of over RMB100 billion granted by Bank of China, China Construction Bank and China Development Bank, etc.

The Company has completed the issuance of short-term bonds in two tranches installments on 24 March 2010 and 2 July 2010, each at principal amount of RMB 5 billion and nominal annual interest rates of 2.55% and 3.20%, respectively. Both of the bonds were denominated in RMB, issued at par value, and mature in 270 days and 365 days, respectively. The RMB5 billion short-term bonds issued by the Company on 24 March 2010 have matured and were repaid on 19 December 2010.

As at 31 December 2010, short-term loans of the Company and its subsidiaries totaled RMB44.047 billion (2009: RMB24.730 billion). Including which, borrowings from banks were charged at annual interest rates ranging from 1.80% to 5.31% (2009: 1.30% to 7.47%).

The Company and its subsidiaries will closely monitor any change in the exchange rate and interest rate markets and cautiously assess the currency and interest rate risks.

Combining the current development of the power generation industry and the growth of the Company, the Company will make continuous efforts to not only meet cash requirements for daily operations, constructions and acquisitions, but also establish an optimal capital structure to minimize the cost of capital and manage financial risks through effective financial management activities, thus maintaining sustainable and stable returns to the shareholders.

2.4 Other financing requirements

The objective of the Company is to bring long-term, steadily growing returns to shareholders. In line with this objective, the Company follows a proactive, stable and balanced dividend policy. C. TREND INFORMATION

According to the National Power Industry Statistics Express for 2010 issued by China Electricity Council, as at 31 December 2010, nationwide installed capacity reached 962,000 MW, representing a 10.08% year-on-year increase. For the year ended 31 December 2010, power generated throughout PRC reached 4.2280 trillion kWh, representing a 14.85% year-on-year increase. Coal-fired power accounted for 3.4145 trillion kWh, or approximately 80.76% of the total power generated, representing a 13.38% increase from last year. The utilization hours of generating equipment increased against the background of a generally balanced power market and continually growing consumption of electricity nationwide with the improved economy in China. For the year ended 31 December 2010, nationwide average accumulated utilization hours of power plants with 6,000 KW and above capacities were 4,660 hours, representing an increase of 114 hours from the year ended 31 December 2009. Utilization hours of coal-fired power generating equipment were 5,031 hours, representing an increase of 166 hours from the same period last year. In the year 2010, the Company's newly operated generating units include two 600 MW coal-fired generating units of Gansu Plingliang Power Plant, and one 660 MW coal-fired generating units of Fujian Fuzhou Power Plant. The operation of new generating units contributed to an aggregate of 1,800 MW of the Company's controlling generation capacity. In January 2011, one 600 MW coal-fired generating unit of Hunan Yueyang Power Plant, the Phase I of Hebei Kangbao Wind Power Plant (with a total capacity of 49.5 MW), and the first stage of Phase II of Jiangsu Qidong Wind Power Plant (with a total capacity of 50 MW) completed their trial run, respectively. In addition, the acquisition of assets from Shandong Power and Luneng Development became effective recently, capacity of certain investees have changed, and the Company also conducted technical renovation on existing generating units and shut down small generating units, which resulted in the change in the Company's aggregate installed capacity. As at 29 March 2011, the Company had a controlling generation capacity of 54,402MW, and an equity-based generation capacity of 50,935MW. The Company's power plants are widely located in various provinces and municipalities directly under the central government, including Shandong, Liaoning, Zhejiang, Guangdong, Jiangsu, Hebei, Fujian, Jiangxi, Chongqing, Gansu, Beijing and Shanghai. In addition, the Company wholly owned a power operation company in Singapore.

1. Development trend of power market

According to the National Power Supply and Demand as well as Economic development Trend Analysis and Forecast (2010-2011 operation issued by China Electricity Council), in 2011, China's economy expects to maintain steady and rapid growth, the demand for electricity will continue to increase, and a generally balanced supply-demand of electricity is expected to continue nationwide during 2011 with anticipated supply-over-demand in certain areas, assuming normal supply of coals and water. However, power shortage is anticipated to occur in certain areas because of uncertainties including climate change as well as supply of water and coals. Specifically, power shortage may occur in Northeast China, East China and South China; a generally balanced supply-demand of electricity is expected in Central China with sporadic power shortage; supply of electricity is expected to be over demand in Northeast China and Northwest China; and certain provinces in Northwest China may experience structural power shortage.

2. The trend of fuel supply

Coal production capacity is expected to increase significantly in 2011. The supply of coals will be generally sufficient for its demand, but shortage in coal supply is expected to occur structurally, regionally and sporadically. Given the impact of market coal price fluctuation and railway transport capacity, the stable supply and price of coals nationwide may be affected by some uncertainties in certain areas. The Company will perform its annual contract accordingly to the market conditions, ensure consistent power supply, improve procurement structure, capitalize on international resources to ease the pressing demand for resources within the PRC, expand reliable coal supply channels by developing coal projects in cooperation with coal enterprises, and secure coal transport capacity from Shanghai Time Shipping Co., Ltd to ensure transport availability for coastal plants. The Company will also strengthen fuels management throughout its power generation process, and make efforts to control fuel costs.

3. The trend of capital market

The People's Bank of China ("PBOC") is expected to continue its prudent monetary policy in 2011. As at 25 March 2011, PBOC has raised the RMB deposit reserve requirement ratio three times and the benchmark interest rate for deposits and lending once, and is generally expected to further raise the reserve requirement ratio and the benchmark interest rate during 2011. Consequently the capital market in China experienced tightened liquidity and increased funding cost. Based on the Company's outstanding borrowing from Bank as at 31 December 2010, the Company will incur additional interest expenses of RMB 334 million if the RMB lending interest rate increases by 50 percentage points, assuming other conditions remaining unchanged. The Company will make appropriate funding arrangement according to then market conditions, explore new funding opportunities, and make efforts to control funding costs while satisfying funding needs.

D. PERFORMANCE OF SIGNIFICANT INVESTMENTS AND THEIR PROSPECTS

The Company acquired 25% equity interest in Shenzhen Energy Group for RMB2.39 billion on 22 April 2003, and acquired 200 million shares from Shenzhen Energy, a subsidiary of Shenzhen Energy Group, in December 2007. These investments brought a profit of RMB339 million to the Company for the year ended 31 December 2010 under IFRS. After Shenzhen Energy acquired most of its assets by way of designated share placement, Shenzhen Energy Group will be liquidated when appropriate. Upon Shenzhen Energy Group's liquidation, the Company will hold directly 25.01% equity interest in Shenzhen Energy. This investment is expected to provide steady returns to the Company.

The Company held directly 60% equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower as at 31 December 2006. In January 2007, Huaneng Group increased its capital investment in Sichuan Hydropower by RMB615 million, thus reducing the Company's equity interest in Sichuan Hydropower to 49% and making Huaneng Group the controlling shareholder of Sichuan Hydropower. This investment brought a profit of RMB257 million for the year ended 31 December 2010 under IFRS. This investment is expected to provide steady returns to the Company.

E. EMPLOYEE BENEFITS

As at 31 December 2010, the Company and its subsidiaries had domestic and overseas 33,811 employees in total. The Company and its subsidiaries provided employees with competitive remuneration and linked such remuneration to operating results as working incentives for the employees. Currently, the Company and its subsidiaries do not have any non-cash remuneration packages.

Based on the development plans of the Company and its subsidiaries and the requirements of individual positions, together with consideration of specific characteristics of individual employees, the Company and its subsidiaries tailored various training programs for their employees on management skills, technical skills and marketing skills. These programs enhanced both the knowledge and operational skills of the employees.

F. GUARANTEES AND PLEDGES ON LOANS AND RESTRICTED ASSETS

As at 31 December 2010, the Company provided guarantee for Tuas Power's long-term bank borrowings of approximately RMB15.653 billion.

As at 31 December 2010, the Company and its subsidiaries have pledged for the following borrowings:

1. The Company pledged certain accounts receivable for certain short-term loans borrowed in 2010. As at 31 December 2010, the balance of the secured loans was RMB1.389 billion, and the pledged accounts receivables amounted to approximately RMB1.513 billion.
2. As at 31 December 2010, secured short-term loans of RMB10 million represented the discounted notes receivable with recourse.

As at 31 December 2010, restricted bank deposits amounted to RMB121 million, which were mainly security deposits.

The Company had no material contingent liabilities as at 31 December 2010.

G. ACCOUNTING STANDARDS WITH SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF THE COMPANY

For the significant changes in accounting standards for the year ended 31 December 2010 thereof, see Note 2 to the Financial Information extracted from Financial Statements prepared under IFRS.

H. SENSITIVITY ANALYSIS TO IMPAIRMENT TEST

1. Goodwill impairment

Separately recognized goodwill are test for impairment by the management at the end of each year. In 2010, based on the impairment tests, except for the goodwill arising from acquisition of Yushe Power Company, no goodwill was impaired. Due to the continuous increase in coal price and lower profitability, full impairment of related goodwill was provided based on the result of impairment test.

As at 31 December 2010, goodwill of the Company and its subsidiaries totaled RMB12.641 billion. Changes of tariff and fuel price could have affected the results of goodwill impairment assessment. As at 31 December 2010, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB 412 million and RMB 815 million, respectively. If fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against goodwill by approximately RMB 378 million and RMB 806 million, respectively.

2. Property, plant and equipment impairment

Property, plant and equipment are tested for impairment when there is any impairment indication on balance sheet date. In 2010, due to continuous increase of coal price and lower profitability, Zhuozhou Co-generation has recorded impairment losses of certain property, plant and equipment amounted to RMB 8.48 million.

Changes of tariff and fuel price will affect the impairment assessments result of property, plant and equipment. As at 31 December 2010, if tariff had decreased by 1% or 5% from management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against property, plant and equipment by approximately RMB 429 million and RMB 8.205 billion, respectively. If fuel price had increased by 1% or 5% from the management's estimates with other variables constant with the expectations, the Company and its subsidiaries would have to further recognize impairment against property, plant and equipment by approximately RMB 277 million and RMB4.552 billion, respectively.

I. RISK FACTORS

In 2011, the PRC government is expected to take active, sound, prudent and flexible macro-economic policies, deal with the correlations between the sound and rapid economic growth, economic restructuring and inflation controls strategically, accelerate economic restructuring, and develop the economy towards a more coordinated, sustainable and organically-driven growth. In furtherance of the development and reform of the power industry, the implementation of certain policies on power industry will bring unprecedented opportunities and challenges to the Company's development.

The Company will keep close watch on China's economy and related government policies, promptly analyze its impact on the profitability of the Company, make best efforts to minimize the risks to which the Company is exposed, and seize opportunities to accelerate growth.

1. Risks relating to power market

In 2010, power demand in the PRC experienced steady growth with the continuously improved national economy. In 2011, the nationwide economy is expected to continue develop favorably, and the power demand will therefore sustain its growth trend. The power supply in the PRC continues to grow with the operations of more and more new generating units, particularly the rapid growth of wind and other renewable power generation units. In addition, as impacted by the energy-saving, emission-reduction, and energy-efficient power generation and dispatch policies and “equitable, fair and open” power dispatch policies, the coal-fired power generators are expected to face more uncertainties regarding government policies as well as market competition. According to the government work report delivered at the 4th convention of the 11th national people’s congress, China expects to grow its GDP by 8% in 2011. Based on this expectation, the China Electricity Council estimates that electricity consumption nationwide will grow by approximately 12% in 2011, and the utilization hours of coal-fired generating units will increase by approximately 170 hours to 5,200 hours in 2011. The long overdue adjustment of power tariff-setting policies amid the sustained high coal prices will have material effect upon the Company’s operation. The Company will further its efforts for enhanced risk management, improve its analysis of the market condition and industry policy, implement effective measures in an effort to increase the utilization hours, advocate for the implementation of coal-electricity linkage mechanism, and minimize operating risks.

2. Risks relating to coal supply market

Coal production capacity is expected to increase significantly in 2011. The supply of coals will be generally sufficient for its demand, but shortage in coal supply is expected to occur structurally, regionally and sporadically. The thermal coal contract for year 2011 had been signed, and the contract volume increased compared with last year. However, given the impact of market coal price fluctuation and railway transport capacity, the stable supply and price of coals nationwide may be affected by some uncertainties in certain areas. The Company will perform its annual contract accordingly to the market conditions, ensure consistent power supply, improve procurement structure, increase the purchase of economical coal, capitalize on international resources to ease the pressing demand for resources within the PRC, accelerate the exploitation and utilization of the controllable resources of the Company, expand reliable coal supply channels by developing coal projects in cooperation with coal enterprises, and adjust price strategies in time. The Company will also strengthen fuels management throughout its power generation process, and make efforts to control fuel costs.

3. Risks relating to environment protection requirements

The PRC government imposed higher standards on the emission of air pollutant by coal-fired power generators. In accordance with the newly promulgated emission standards, during the 12th Five Year, the Company will increase its investment in environmental protection, install denitrification facilities on all coal-fired generating units, reconstruct highly smoke and gas anti-dust devices, reconstruct certain flue gas desulfurization devices to increase capacity/efficiency, put in place online monitoring of the emission of mercury pollutants with smoke and gas from coal-fired generating units, as well as to set up points for mercury removal technology on trial basis, in order to meet the new emission standards requirement. The new emission standards make it more difficult for the Company to control its capital expenditure and decrease its production costs. To strictly comply with the government's policies and regulations on energy saving and environment protection, the Company will apply advanced technologies and enhanced management standards; develop advanced, highly capable and effective coal-fired generating units; improve renovation on existing generating units; and phase out outdated capabilities; so as to effectively enhance the efficiency in energy saving and environment protection and realize the clean development target.

4. Financial risks

(1) Interest rate risk

Domestic operations: the interest bearing debts denominated in RMB accounted for over 90% of the Company's total debts. Hence, the change of RMB interest rates will directly affect the Company's borrowing costs. The interest bearing debts denominated in foreign currencies accounted for less than 10% of the Company's debts, and approximately half of such debts are floating rate borrowings. The Company has entered into an interest rate swap agreement to hedge approximately half of the debts with floating interest rates, and thus, the fluctuation of the interest rates on foreign currencies borrowings is expected to minimal impact on the Company.

Oversea operations: the interest bearing debts for the Singapore operations were all denominated in Singapore dollar and bear floating interest rates. The Company has entered into a series of interest rate swap agreements to hedge approximately half of these debts, and given the prevailing lower level of the interest rates of Singapore dollar borrowings, the recent fluctuation of interest rates of Singapore dollar borrowings is not expected to have material adverse effect on the Company.

(2) Exchange rate risk

Domestic operations: the interest bearing debts denominated in foreign currencies account for less than 10% of the Company's total debts, mainly denominated in US dollar. Given the steadily upward trend of the exchange rate of RMB to US dollar, the recent fluctuation of exchange rates is not expected to have material adverse effect on the Company.

Oversea operations: the imported fuels by Tuas Power, a subsidiary of SinoSing Power, was settled in US dollar. Considering the fluctuation of the exchange rate of Singapore dollar to US dollar, Tuas Power has entered into forward exchange contracts to hedge against its exposure to potential exchange risks.

SHARE CAPITAL STRUCTURE

As at 31 December 2010, the entire issued share capital of the Company amounted to 14,055,383,440 shares, of which 10,500,000,000 shares were domestic shares, representing 74.70% of the total issued share capital, and 3,555,383,440 shares were foreign shares, representing 25.30% of the total issued share capital of the Company. In respect of domestic shares, Huaneng International Power Development Corporation (“HIPDC”) owned a total of 5,066,662,118 shares, representing 36.05% of the total issued share capital of the Company while China Huaneng Group held 1,568,001,203 shares, representing 11.16% of the total issued share capital of the Company. Other domestic shareholders held a total of 3,865,336,679 shares, representing 27.49% of the total issued share capital.

Any H shares of the Company registered other than in the name(s) of individual(s), including HKSCC Nominees Limited, other nominees, trustees, or other organizations or groups, shall be deemed to be shares held by non-resident enterprise shareholder(s). On the basis, corporate income tax shall be withheld from dividends payable to such shareholder(s).

As the Company has not yet confirmed the date for convening the 2010 annual general meeting, or the record date or the period for closure of register to determine shareholder's qualification of receiving the dividend, the Company will announce such details in the notice of annual general meeting to be published upon the confirmation thereof. The Company shall comply with the relevant rules and regulations to withhold and pay corporate income tax on behalf of the relevant shareholders based on the register of members of the Company as of the record date.

During the reporting period, there was neither change in the Company's accounting estimates, nor was there any correction of material accounting errors. Please refer to Note 2 to the financial information extracted from financial statements prepared under IFRS for details of relevant new standards, amendments to standards and interpretations adopted by the Company and its subsidiaries effective from the financial year beginning 1 January 2010.

PRE-EMPTIVE RIGHTS

According to the articles of association of the Company and the laws of the PRC, there are no provisions for pre-emptive rights requiring the Company to offer new shares to the existing shareholders of the Company in proportion to their shareholdings.

(Amount expressed in thousands of RMB unless otherwise stated)

1. Basis of Preparation

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (the “IASB”). These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention, as modified by the revaluation of available-for-sale financial assets and derivative financial assets and liabilities.

As at and for the year ended 31 December 2010, a portion of the Company and its subsidiaries’ funding requirements for capital expenditures were partially satisfied by short-term financing. Consequently, as at 31 December 2010, the Company and its subsidiaries have a negative working capital balance of approximately RMB 52.08 billion. Taking into consideration of the expected operating cash flows of the Company and its subsidiaries and the undrawn available banking facilities, the Company and its subsidiaries will refinance and/or restructure certain short-term borrowings into long-term borrowings and also consider alternative sources of financing, where applicable. Therefore, the directors of the Company are of the opinion that the Company and its subsidiaries will be able to meet its liabilities as and when they fall due within the next twelve months and have prepared these consolidated financial statements on a going concern basis.

2. Principal Accounting Policies

The accounting policies have been consistently applied to all the years presented, unless otherwise stated.

The following new standards and amendments to standards are adopted for the first time to the financial year beginning 1 January 2010.

- International Accounting Standard (“IAS”) 17 (Amendment), ‘Leases’. The amendment deleted the specific guidance regarding classification of leases of land, so as to eliminate inconsistency with the general guidance on lease classification. This amendment is applied on a retrospective basis. As a result, leases of land should be classified as either finance or operating using the general principles of IAS 17. The Company and its subsidiaries have land use rights in both the PRC and Singapore. Based on assessments, land use rights located in the PRC are classified as operating leases while land use rights located in Singapore are classified as finance leases. All of the land use rights are amortized over time using straight-line method.
 - IAS 24 (Revised), ‘Related party disclosures’. This revised standard introduces a partial exemption from the disclosure requirements of IAS 24 for transactions with government-related enterprises. Those disclosures are replaced with requirements to disclose the name of related government and the nature of its relationship with the Company and its subsidiaries, the natures and amounts of any individually-significant transactions, and qualitative or quantitative disclosures for collectively-significant transactions. The Company and its subsidiaries have elected to early adopt the partial exemption described above from 1 January 2010.
 - IAS 27 (Revised), ‘Consolidated and separate financial statements’. The revised standard requires the effects of all transactions with non-controlling interests to be recorded in equity if there is no change in control and these transactions will no longer result in goodwill or gains and losses. The standard also specifies the accounting when control is lost. Any remaining interest in the entity is re-measured to fair value and a gain or loss is recognized in profit or loss. The Company and its subsidiaries apply this standard prospectively to transactions with non-controlling interests from 1 January 2010 onwards. IAS 27 (revised) has no material impact in the current year.

- IAS 38 (Amendment), 'Intangible Assets'. The amendment clarifies guidance in measuring the fair value of an intangible asset acquired in a business combination when it is not traded in an active market. It also permits the grouping of intangible assets as a single asset if each asset has similar economic useful lives. The Company and its subsidiaries apply this amendment prospectively to all business combinations from 1 January 2010 onwards. The amendment did not result in a material impact on the Company and its subsidiaries' financial statements.
 - IFRS 3 (Revised), 'Business combinations'. The revised standard continues to apply the acquisition method to business combinations, with some significant changes. For example, all payments to purchase a business are to be recorded at fair value at the acquisition date, with contingent payments classified as debt subsequently re-measured through the consolidated statement of comprehensive income. It clarifies the reassessment requirements on acquisition date should there be any hedging arrangements existed in the acquirees. There is a choice on an acquisition-by-acquisition basis to measure the non-controlling interests in the acquiree either at fair value or at the non-controlling interests' proportionate shares of the acquiree's net assets. All acquisition-related costs should be expensed. Contingent liabilities assumed in a business combination are recognized at the acquisition date even if it is not probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. After the date of business combination, contingent liabilities are re-measured at the higher of the original amount and the amount under the relevant standard, IAS 37. The Company and its subsidiaries apply this standard prospectively to all business combinations from 1 January 2010 onwards. The Company applied the revised standard for acquisitions effected in 2010. The Company and its subsidiaries have chosen to recognise the non-controlling interest at the non-controlling interest's proportionate share of the acquiree's net assets for the acquisitions effected this year. Acquisition-related costs of RMB 6.60 million have been recognised in the profit or loss, which previously would have been included in the consideration of the business combination, which has no material impact on earnings per share.

- IFRS 5 (Amendment), 'Non-current assets held for sale and discontinued operations'. The amendment provides clarification that IFRS 5 specifies the disclosures required in respect of non-current assets (or disposal groups) classified as held for sale or discontinued operations. It clarifies that all assets and liabilities of a subsidiary are classified as held for sale if a partial disposal sale plan results in loss of control, and relevant disclosure should be made for this subsidiary if the definition of a discontinued operation is met. The amendment also clarifies that the general requirement of IAS 1 still apply, particularly paragraph 15 (to achieve a fair presentation) and paragraph 125 (sources of estimation uncertainty) of IAS 1. The Company and its subsidiaries apply IFRS 5 (amendment) from 1 January 2010 onwards. The amendment did not result in a material impact on the Company and its subsidiaries' financial statements.

Directors and certain senior management of the Company perform the function as chief operating decision makers (collectively referred to as the “senior management”). The senior management reviews the internal reporting of the Company and its subsidiaries in order to assess performance and allocate resources. The Company has determined the operating segments based on these reports. In prior year, the operating segments of the Company were grouped into power segment and all other segments. Considering the developments of Singapore operations in 2010, including the commencement of construction of a new generator, the Company expect a continuous increase in significance of the Singapore operations. Hence, the internal reporting was restructured and the Company grouped operating segments into PRC power segment, Singapore segment and all other segments (mainly including port and transportation operations). Therefore, the 2009 comparative figures were restated.

Senior management assesses the performance of the operating segments based on a measure of profit before income tax expense under China Accounting Standard for Business Enterprises (“PRC GAAP”) in related periods excluding dividend income received from available-for-sale financial assets and operating results of those centrally managed and resource allocation functions in headquarters. Other information provided, except as noted below, to the senior management of the Company is measured under PRC GAAP.

Segment assets exclude prepaid income tax, deferred income tax assets, available-for-sale financial assets and assets related to those centrally managed and resource allocation functions in headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate assets”). Segment liabilities exclude current income tax liabilities, deferred income tax liabilities and liabilities related to those centrally managed and resource allocation functions in headquarters that are not attributable to any operating segment (“corporate liabilities”). These are part of the reconciliation to total balance sheet assets and liabilities.

All sales among the operating segments were performed at market price or close to market price, and have been eliminated as internal transactions when preparing consolidated financial statements.

Therefore, the financial information of business acquired before the acquisition date is shown as the difference between PRC GAAP and IFRS.

On 16 March 2007, the National People's Congress promulgated the "Corporate Income Tax Law of the People's Republic of China" which became effective from 1 January 2008. Domestic entities of the Company and its subsidiaries which originally enjoyed preferential tax treatments will transit to 25% gradually in five years from 1 January 2008 onwards. Domestic subsidiaries with original applicable tax rate of 33% apply tax rate of 25% from 1 January 2008 onwards. Pursuant to Guo Fa [2007] 39 document, starting from 1 January 2008, entities which originally enjoyed two-year tax exemption and three-year 50% reduction tax treatments, continue to follow the original tax laws, administrative regulations and relevant documents until respective expiration dates. However, those not being entitled to preferential tax treatment as a result of tax losses, the preferential period started from 2008 onwards.

The income tax rate applicable to Singapore subsidiaries is 17% (2009: 17%).

Pursuant to Guo Shui Han [2009]33 document, starting from 1 January 2008, the Company and its branches calculate and pay income tax on a combined basis according to relevant tax laws and regulations. The original regulation specifying locations for power plants and branches of the Company to make enterprise income tax payments was abolished. The income tax of subsidiaries remains to be calculated individually based on their individual operating results. The income tax charges are based on assessable profit for the year and after considering deferred taxation. No Hong Kong profits tax has been provided as there were no estimated assessable profits in Hong Kong for the year (2009: nil).

Income tax expense comprised:

(a) Effect of recording the amounts received in advance of previous years

In accordance with the tariff setting mechanism applicable to certain power plants of the Company in previous years, certain power plants of the Company receive advanced payments in the previous years (calculated at 1% of the original cost of fixed assets) as the major repairs and maintenance cost of these power plants. Such receipts in advance are recognized as liabilities under IFRS and are recognized as revenue when the repairs and maintenance is performed and the liabilities are extinguished. In accordance with PRC GAAP, when preparing the financial statements, revenue is computed based on actual power sold and the tariff currently set by the State, no such amounts are recorded.

(b) Difference in the recognition of housing benefits to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries in previous years employees of the Company and its subsidiaries and sold such staff quarters to the employees of the Company and its subsidiaries at preferential prices set by the local housing reform office. Difference between cost of the staff quarters and proceeds from the employees represented the housing losses, and was borne by the Company and its subsidiaries.

Under Previous Accounting Standards and Accounting System (“Previous PRC GAAP”), in accordance with the relevant regulations issued by the Ministry of Finance, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are fully charged to non-operating expenses in previous years. Under IFRS, such housing losses incurred by the Company and its subsidiaries are recognized on a straight-line basis over the estimated remaining average service lives of the employees.

(c) Effect of depreciation on the capitalization of borrowing costs in previous years

In previous years, under Previous PRC GAAP, the scope of capitalization of borrowing costs was limited to specific borrowings, and thus, borrowing costs arising from general borrowings were not capitalized. In accordance with IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries capitalized borrowing on general borrowing used for the purpose of obtaining qualifying assets in addition to the capitalization of borrowing costs on specific borrowings. From 1 January 2007 onwards, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted PRC GAAP No. 17 prospectively, the current adjustments represent the related depreciation on capitalized borrowing costs included in the cost of related assets under IFRS in previous years.

(d) Differences in accounting treatment on business combinations under common control

Huaneng Group is the parent company of HIPDC, which in turn is also the ultimate parent of the Company. The Company carried out a series of acquisitions from Huaneng Group and HIPDC in previous years. As the acquired power companies and plants and the Company were under common control of Huaneng Group before and after the acquisitions, such acquisitions are regarded as business combinations under common control.

In accordance with PRC GAAP, under common control business combination, the assets and liabilities acquired in business combinations are measured at the carrying amounts of the acquirees on the acquisition date. The difference between carrying amounts of the net assets acquired and the consideration paid is adjusted to equity account of the acquirer. The operating results for all periods presented are retrospectively restated as if the current structure and operations resulting from the acquisition had been in existence since the beginning of the earliest year presented, with financial data of previously separate entities consolidated. The cash consideration paid by the Company is treated as an equity transaction in the year of acquisition.

For the business combination occurred prior to 1 January 2007, in accordance with Previous PRC GAAP, when equity interests acquired is less than 100%, the assets and liabilities of the acquirees are measured at their carrying amounts. The excess of consideration over the proportionate share of the carrying amounts of the net assets acquired was recorded as equity investment difference and amortized on a straight-line basis for not more than 10 years. When acquiring the entire equity, the entire assets and liabilities are accounted for in a method similar to purchase accounting. Goodwill arising from such transactions is amortized over the estimated useful lives on a straight-line basis. On 1 January 2007, in accordance with PRC GAAP, the unamortized equity investment differences and goodwill arising from business combinations under common control were written off against undistributed profits.

Under IFRS, the Company and its subsidiaries adopted the purchase method to account for the acquisitions above. The assets and liabilities acquired in acquisitions were recorded at fair value by the acquirer. The excess of acquisition cost over the proportionate share of fair value of net identifiable assets acquired was recorded as goodwill. Goodwill is not amortized but is tested annually for impairment and carried at cost less accumulated impairment losses. The operating results of the acquirees are consolidated in the operating results of the Company and its subsidiaries from the acquisition dates onwards.

As mentioned above, the differences in accounting treatment under PRC GAAP and IFRS on business combinations under common control affect both equity and profit. Meanwhile, due to different measurement basis of the assets acquired, depreciation and amortization in the period subsequent to the acquisition will be affected which will also affect the equity and profit or loss upon subsequent disposals of such investments. Such differences could be gradually eliminated with the depreciation, amortization and disposal of assets.

(e) Deferred income tax impact on GAAP differences

This represents related deferred income tax impact on the GAAP differences above where applicable.
