Item 1. Security and Issuer.

No change.

Item 2. Identity and Background.

No change.

Item 3. Source or Amount of Funds or Other Consideration.

No change.

Item 4. Purpose of Transaction.

The following supplements the information provided in prior Schedule 13D filings by the Reporting entities.

It is now three months since the company's board of directors received Meridian's May 6 letter detailing a long pattern of apparent securities law and corporate governance improprieties at Cyanotech. It has been two months since the board engaged a law firm to investigate the alleged misconduct and a week since the August 2, 2016 date that the board informed Meridian it expected the investigation to be completed. Other than initiating the investigation, Meridian is aware of no action Cyanotech's board has taken over the last three months to correct the misconduct alleged in the May 6 letter.

Instead, Cyanotech's board has initiated new actions that indicate a continuing disregard for maintaining even an appearance of good governance practices. On July 15, 2016, Cyanotech's board of directors filed a proxy statement relating to the Company's annual meeting of stockholders to be held for the purpose of electing directors to serve for the next year.

Meridian does not understand how Cyanotech's board members can believe they are satisfying their fiduciary duties to the stockholders by holding a meeting for the purpose of electing directors while the board is withholding from the shareholders information in its possession on the alleged misconduct of one of the board's nominees. For whose benefit and for what purpose did the board undertake the investigation if not to inform and protect the interests of the company's stockholders?

As Meridian has previously noted, the schedule that has been established by Cyanotech's board is to conduct the stockholders' meeting on August 25, 2016 and then for the company to file an answer to the allegations contained within Meridian's derivative shareholder lawsuit on August 26, 2016. The company's answer will be accessible to the public. Cyanotech's board has thus created a situation where the company's stockholders may be able to obtain material information on the investigation – information that is known by the Company's board and highly relevant to shareholders who are being asked to exercise their voting rights at the annual meeting – but only after the deadline has passed for voting their shares.

If the company's board proceeds with this schedule, it will be hard to imagine a more blatant demonstration of its disregard for not just good governance practices at a public company but the outside Cyanotech shareholders that this board has a legal duty represent.

ACCORDINGLY, MERIDIAN BELIEVES THAT THE CYANOTECH BOARD MUST SUPPLEMENT ITS PROXY STATEMENT TO DISCLOSE THE RESULTS OF THE INTERNAL INVESTIGATION AND MUST ADJOURN THE ANNUAL MEETING UNTIL THE COMPANY'S STOCKHOLDERS HAVE BEEN GIVEN SUFFICIENT TIME TO OBTAIN AND CONSIDER THIS INFORMATION WHICH IS NECESSARY FOR THEM

TO CAST INFORMED VOTES.

Meridian is always interested in hearing from fellow stockholders and has created a special email address to help Cyanotech stockholders contact us.
