Item 8.01 Other Events.

On November 29, 2018, the Alarm.com Holdings, Inc. (“Alarm.com”) board of directors authorized a stock repurchase program, under which Alarm.com is authorized to purchase up to an aggregate of $75 million of Alarm.com’s outstanding common stock over the next two years. Steve Trundle, President and CEO of Alarm.com, commented, “While we have no imminent plans to utilize the Board’s authorization, we appreciate the vote of confidence from our board of directors which provides us an additional tool to consider in our capital allocation decision-making process.”

The stock repurchase program allows Alarm.com to repurchase its common stock from time to time on the open market or in privately negotiated transactions. The stock repurchase program does not obligate Alarm.com to purchase any stock and the number of shares repurchased, if any, and the timing of repurchases will depend on a number of factors, including, but not limited to, stock price, trading volume and general market conditions and other factors. The repurchase program may be suspended, modified or discontinued at any time in Alarm.com’s discretion. Alarm.com intends to finance any repurchases under the stock repurchase program using cash on hand.
