On July 27, 2016, John Lechleiter, president and chief executive officer of the company and chairman of the board, announced his retirement as president and chief executive officer, effective December 31, 2016. Dr. Lechleiter will also retire as chairman and a member of the board of directors, effective May 31, 2017. Dr. Lechleiter, a 37-year Lilly employee, has served as president and CEO since April 2008 and as chairman since January 2009.

On the same day, the company announced that the board of directors elected David A. Ricks as president and chief executive officer of the company, effective January 1, 2017. All company officers are elected to one-year terms expiring at the company's annual meeting of the board of directors in May. Mr. Ricks, age 49, has served as senior vice president of Lilly, and president of Lilly Bio-Medicines, the company's largest business area, since January 2012. He brings to the role broad experience in Lilly's commercial operations along with an understanding of research and development.
