MSCI All Country World (ex-US) Growth Index is a market capitalization index that is designed to measure equity market performance for growth securities in the global developed and emerging markets, excluding the U.S.

Any balances held in Harbor International Growth Instl Fund at 4:00 p.m. ET on January 24, 2011, will be re-directed to the MFS International Growth Fund. Investment Strategies

The Fund is invested primarily (no less than 65% of its total assets) in common stocks of foreign companies that are selected for their long-term growth potential. The Fund may invest in companies of any size throughout the world. The Fund normally invests in the securities or issuers that are economically tied to at least four different foreign countries. The Fund may invest up to 35% of its total assets, determined at the time of purchase, in securities of companies operating in or economically tied to emerging markets. Some issuers or securities in the Fund's portfolio may be based in or economically tied to the United States.

No assurance can be given that the Fund will achieve its investment objective. In seeking to achieve its investment objective, the Fund relies on a team of global research analysts to identify companies with the highest sustainable earnings growth rates in their industry, companies that are expected to deliver value through the continued compounding of a growing earnings stream, and companies whose stocks are poised for multiple expansion. Sector and country weightings are the residual of our bottom-up stock selection process, rather than the result of a top-down, macroeconomic outlook. The Fund seeks to be broadly diversified across countries and sectors.

Primary Risks

Growth Style Risk, Emerging Markets Risk, Foreign Securities Risk, Market Risk, Selection Risk. For specific definitions and explanations of these types of risks, please see the prospectus for this Fund. The Fund's policy of investing in a narrowly focused selection of stocks may expose the Fund the risk that a substantial decrease in the value of a stock may cause the net asset value of the Fund to fluctuate more than if the Fund were invested in a greater number of stocks. The Fund may also be subject to greater risks and higher brokerage and custodian expenses than funds invested only in the U.S. Investing in international and emerging markets poses special risks, including potentially greater price volatility due to social, political and economic factors, as well as currency exchange rate fluctuations. These risks are more severe for securities of issuers in emerging market regions.

The Fund may invest in foreign and/or emerging markets securities, which are more susceptible to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. These risks are magnified in emerging or developing markets as compared with domestic markets. Growth stocks may perform differently from the general stock market and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. The Fund may invest a substantial amount of its assets in issuers located in a limited number of countries and therefore is susceptible to adverse economic, political or regulatory developments affecting those countries. Stocks and stock markets are volatile and fluctuate in response to company-specific factors, and general market, political, regulatory, and economic conditions. Please see the Information Memorandum for complete investment strategy.
