Zoom Technologies Earns $3.5 Million On Sale Of InterMute

Potential $3.0 million Additional May Be Earned By Zoom

Boston, MA - June 6, 2005 Zoom Technologies, Inc. (Nasdaq: ZOOM), a significant InterMute shareholder, announced today its proceeds from the acquisition of InterMute by Trend Micro Incorporated, a U.S. subsidiary of Trend Micro, Japan. InterMute, a private company that is a leading developer of anti-spyware products, was purchased for a base cash amount plus a potential additional amount depending on the achievement of certain performance goals.

InterMute's sale will result in an initial cash payment to Zoom in the current quarter of approximately $3.5 million. Zoom expects to record a non-operating gain of $3.5 million ($.39 per fully diluted share) in its second quarter ending June 30, 2005. Zoom may also receive up to $3.0 million in additional payments in 2006 if certain conditions and performance targets are met.

In 1999 Ed English, Paul English, and Zoom co-founded AdSubtract.com, the predecessor to InterMute. Two of Zoom's Directors, Peter Kramer and Frank Manning, have served on InterMute's Board since its founding.

Zoom's total cash investment in InterMute was $467 thousand. Zoom has accounted for its investment in InterMute under the equity method of accounting, and since the second quarter of 2002 Zoom has carried the investment at zero value. A majority of the gain is not expected to be subject to tax as a result of the utilization of Zoom's net operating tax loss carry-forward.

Edgar Filing: ZOOM TECHNOLOGIES INC - Form 8-K

On March 31, 2005 Zoom's stockholders equity was $1.27 per share, with the investment in InterMute carried at zero and Zoom's real estate recorded on the balance sheet at well below its most recent appraised value. Zoom's downtown Boston properties were valued at $2.3 million on Zoom's 3/31/05 balance sheet. They were valued at $9.3 million in the most recent appraisal for the mortgage lender conducted in August 2002.

We are very pleased with the success of our investment, and with the prospects for InterMute and its employees as part of Trend Micro, said Frank Manning, Zoom's President and CEO. We want to give special thanks to Ed English, InterMute's President and CEO, for the superb job he did in conceiving, building, and running InterMute.
