INTRODUCTION

General

This Proxy Statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation by the Board of Directors of Kilroy Realty Corporation, a Maryland corporation (the "Company"), of proxies from the holders of the Company's issued and outstanding shares of common stock, par value $.01 per share (the "Common Stock"), to be exercised at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the "Annual Meeting") to be held on May 7, 2002 at The Beverly Hilton Hotel located at 9876 Wilshire Boulevard, Beverly Hills, California 90210 at 10:00 a.m. local time, and at any adjournment(s) or postponement(s) thereof for the purposes set forth in the accompanying Notice of Annual Meeting.

At the Annual Meeting, the stockholders of the Company will be asked to consider and vote upon the following proposals (the "Proposals"):

1. The election of two directors to the Company's Board of Directors to serve until the annual meeting of stockholders to be held in the year 2005 and until their successors are duly elected and qualify;
2. One shareholder proposal, if presented to the meeting; and
3. To transact such other business as may properly come before the Annual Meeting or any adjournment or postponement thereof.

Only the holders of record of the shares of Common Stock at the close of business on March 5, 2002 (the "Record Date") are entitled to notice of and to vote at the Annual Meeting. This Proxy Statement and enclosed form of proxy are first being mailed to the stockholders of the Company on or about March 29, 2002.

A majority of the shares of Common Stock outstanding must be represented at the Annual Meeting in person or by proxy to constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at the Annual Meeting. Shares represented by proxies that reflect abstentions or broker non-votes will be counted as shares that are present and entitled to vote for purposes of determining the presence of a quorum. In order to be elected as a director, a nominee must receive a plurality of all the votes cast at the Annual Meeting at which a quorum is present. For purposes of calculating votes cast in the election of the directors, abstentions or broker non-votes will not be counted as votes cast and will have no effect on the result of the vote on the Proposal regarding the election of the director nominees. The stockholder proposal must be approved by a plurality of the votes cast, assuming a quorum is present. Abstentions and broker non-votes will not be counted as votes cast and will have no effect on the result of the vote of the stockholder proposal.

The shares of Common Stock represented by all properly executed proxies returned to the Company will be voted at the Annual Meeting as indicated or, if no instruction is given, FOR election of the two director nominees named herein and AGAINST approval of the stockholder proposal. As to any other business that may properly come before the Annual Meeting, all properly executed proxies will be voted by the persons named therein in accordance with their discretion. The Company does not presently know of any other business that may come before the Annual Meeting. However, if any other matter properly comes before the Annual Meeting, or any adjournment or postponement thereof, which may properly be acted upon, unless otherwise indicated, the proxies solicited hereby will be voted on such matter in accordance with the discretion of the proxy holders named therein. Any person giving a proxy has the right to revoke it at any time before it is exercised (i) by filing with the Secretary of the Company a duly signed revocation or a proxy bearing a later date or (ii) by electing to vote in person at the Annual Meeting. Mere attendance at the Annual Meeting will not revoke a proxy.

NO PERSON IS AUTHORIZED TO GIVE ANY INFORMATION OR TO MAKE ANY REPRESENTATIONS OTHER THAN THOSE CONTAINED IN THIS PROXY STATEMENT, AND, IF GIVEN OR MADE, SUCH INFORMATION MUST NOT BE RELIED UPON AS HAVING BEEN AUTHORIZED AND THE DELIVERY OF THIS PROXY STATEMENT SHALL, UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES, CREATE ANY IMPLICATION THAT THERE HAS BEEN NO CHANGE IN THE AFFAIRS OF THE COMPANY SINCE THE DATE HEREOF.

The Independent Committee has the authority to approve transactions between the Company and its affiliates, including, without limitation, John B. Kilroy, Sr., John B. Kilroy, Jr. and their respective affiliates. The Independent Committee held one meeting during 2001.

Executive Committee. The Executive Committee consists of Mr. Kilroy, Jr., who serves as its Chairman, and Messrs. Kilroy, Sr. and Kinsella. Subject to the Company's conflict of interest policies, the Executive Committee has authority to acquire and dispose of real property and the power to authorize, on behalf of the full Board, the execution of certain contracts and agreements, including those related to the borrowing of money by the Company (and, consistent with the Agreement of Limited Partnership as amended from time to time (the Partnership Agreement) of Kilroy Realty, L.P. The Executive Compensation Committee held four meetings during 2001.

Audit Committee. The Audit Committee consists of three Directors, Mr. Hart, who serves as its Chairman, and Messrs. D Eathe and Dickey. All three members of the Audit Committee are independent from the Company in accordance with the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) listing standards, are financially literate, and possess accounting and related financial management expertise, as determined by the Company s Board of Directors. The Audit Committee s purpose is to assist the Board of Directors in fulfilling its oversight responsibilities regarding the Company s accounting and system of internal controls, the quality and integrity of the Company s financial reports and the independence and performance of the Company s independent public accountants. The Audit Committee is governed by a written charter approved by the Board. Information regarding the specific functions performed by the Audit Committee and the number of meetings held during 2001 is set forth in the following Report of the Audit Committee.

Report of the Audit Committee

The Audit Committee of the Company s Board of Directors is comprised of Independent Directors, as required by the listing standards of the NYSE. The Audit Committee operates pursuant to a written charter adopted by the Board of Directors.

The Audit Committee oversees the Company s financial reporting process on behalf of the Board. In fulfilling its oversight responsibilities, the Committee reviewed the audited financial statements in the Annual Report with management including the reasonableness of significant judgments, and the clarity of disclosures in the financial statements. Management has the primary responsibility for the financial statements and the reporting process including the systems of internal controls.

The independent auditors are responsible for performing an audit of the Company s financial statements and expressing an opinion on the conformity of those audited financial statements with generally accepted accounting principles. The Committee reviewed and discussed the audited financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2001 with the independent auditors. The Committee discussed with the independent auditors their judgments as to the Company s accounting principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the Committee under generally accepted auditing standards Statement of Auditing Standard Number 61, Communications with Audit Committees, as currently in effect. In addition, the Committee received the written disclosures and the letter from the independent auditors required by Independence Standards Board Standard No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees), as currently in effect, and it discussed with the auditors their independence from the Company. The Committee also considered the compatibility of the independent auditors provision of non-audit services with the auditors independence.

The Committee discussed with the Company s independent auditors the overall scope of their respective audits. The Committee meets with the independent auditors, with and without management present, to discuss the results of their examinations, their evaluations of the Company s internal controls, and the overall quality of the Company s financial reporting. In the performance of their oversight function, the members of the Audit Committee necessarily relied upon the information, opinions, reports and statements presented to them by management of the Company and by the independent auditors. The Committee held four meetings during fiscal year 2001.

In reliance on the reviews and discussions referred to above, the Committee recommended to the Board (and the Board has approved) that the audited financial statements be included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2001 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The Committee and the Board have also approved the selection of the Company s independent auditors.

Compensation of Directors

During 2001, the Company paid its non-employee directors (including those who are deemed inside directors) annual compensation of $20,000 for their services. In addition, each non-employee director also received annual compensation of $2,000 for their services as chairman of any committee of the Board and $1,000 for each Board and committee meeting attended by such director. Each non-employee Director was also reimbursed for reasonable expenses incurred to attend director and committee meetings. Officers of the Company who are directors were not paid any directors fees.

In addition, under the Company's 1997 Stock Option and Incentive Plan (the Stock Incentive Plan), upon his initial election to the Board, the Chairman was automatically granted options to purchase 15,000 shares of common stock and each Independent Director was automatically granted options to purchase 10,000 shares of Common Stock which vest pro rata in annual installments over a three-year period. On each anniversary of his election to the Board, prior to February 1999, each Independent Director received an option to purchase 1,000 shares of Common Stock which vest pro rata in annual installments over a three-year period. In February 1999, the annual grant of options to purchase shares to each non-employee director was increased from options to purchase 1,000 shares, to options to purchase 5,000 shares based upon Board approval of a recommendation by management to modify and increase the Board's compensation structure to a level comparable to the Company's peers. For administrative simplicity, the revised structure provides that all future option grants to Board members will be made on a common annual date, rather than the respective anniversary dates of each Board member's election to the Board. All stock options were issued pursuant to the Stock Incentive Plan at an exercise price equal to or greater than the fair market value of the Common Stock at the date of grant.

The following sets forth certain information concerning stock options held by the Company's non-employee Directors at December 31, 2001:

PROPOSAL 2: STOCKHOLDER PROPOSAL

The Company was notified that Services Employees International Union (SEIU), 1313 L Street, NW, Washington D.C. 20005, beneficial owner of 132 shares of the Company's Common Stock, intends to present the following proposal at our Annual Meeting on May 7, 2002.

Stockholder Proposal

Resolved: The shareholders of Kilroy Realty Corporation (the Company) request the Board of Directors redeem the shareholder rights issued in October, 1998 unless such issuance is approved by the affirmative vote of the outstanding shareholders, to be held as soon as is practicable.

Supporting Statement

In October, 1998 the Board of Directors of Kilroy Realty Corporation issued, without shareholder approval, certain shareholder rights pursuant to a Shareholder Rights Plan. These rights are a type of anti-takeover device, commonly referred to as a poison pill, which injure shareholders by reducing management accountability and adversely affecting shareholder value.

While management and the Board of Directors should have the appropriate tools to ensure that all shareholders benefit from any proposal to acquire the Company, the future possibility of takeover does not justify the unilateral imposition of a poison pill. As Nell Minow and Robert Monks note in their book Power and Accountability, poison pills amount to major de facto shifts of voting rights away from shareholders to management, on matters pertaining to the sale of the corporation. They give target boards of directors absolute veto power over any proposed business combination, no matter how beneficial it might be for the shareholders.

Rights plans like ours have become increasingly unpopular in recent years. Last year, a majority of shareholders at Kilroy Realty Corporation, Airborne, Burlington Northern Santa Fe, Maytag, Pitney Bowes, Inc., and McDermott International, Inc., among others, voted in favor of proposals asking management to redeem or repeal poison pills. In addition, the Council of Institutional Investors—an organization of large corporate and public pension plans—calls for shareholder approval of all poison pills in its Shareholder Bill of Rights.

To assure shareholders that management and Board of Directors respect the right of shareholders to participate in the fundamental decision that affect the Company's governance and performance, we urge the Company to redeem the Shareholder Rights Plan or subject it to a vote as soon as may be practical.

Board Response to Stockholder Proposal

THE BOARD RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE AGAINST THIS PROPOSAL FOR THE FOLLOWING REASONS:

The Board believes that the stockholder proposal is not in the best interest of the Company or you, the stockholders, and recommends that you vote against it.

The Board adopted the current Rights Agreement (the Plan) to protect our stockholders against abusive takeover tactics and to ensure that each stockholder is treated fairly in any transaction involving an acquisition of control of the Company. Before making its decision, the Board reviewed the arguments for and against adopting such a plan and approved the Plan because it believed that the Plan would enable it to better represent the interests of its stockholders in the event of a hostile takeover bid.

The Board's duty to the Company is to consider and evaluate any legitimate acquisition proposal and to determine whether any offer would deliver full value to Company. The Plan provides the means for the Board, as your elected representatives, to fulfill this duty and to maximize the value for, and protect the interest of all stockholders. The Plan is not intended to and does not, prevent or inhibit a legitimate takeover offer but encourages a bidder to negotiate with the Board. This strengthens your Board's bargaining position with the bidder. Also, the Plan does not eliminate the obligation of the directors to exercise their legal duties. Rather, the Plan gives the Board a greater period of time to evaluate an acquisition offer and properly consider all relevant information outside of the crisis environment that typically occurs when a potential acquiror makes a hostile bid. Stockholders benefit from a more stable trading environment and from the increased likelihood of receiving proper value and a higher premium in the event of a change in control. Employees and customers benefit because we will not face the myriad distractions caused by coercive, inadequate or insufficiently funded offers. All of our constituents can be assured that any change in control will be the result of careful consideration and not decisions forced to be made in the heat of a crisis. The Plan allows the Board to reject an offer that does not reflect the full value of the Company or that is not fair to all stockholders, or to seek alternative proposals that would better reflect the full value of the Company and treat all stockholders fairly.

There is substantial empirical evidence that such rights plans may better position a board of directors to achieve the best result for all stockholders in the event there is a bid for the Company. In fact, two studies published in 1997 provide strong evidence that, in general, companies with rights plans tend to receive higher takeover premiums than those without them. The study by proxy solicitor Georgeson & Company, Inc. of 319 take-over transactions with a deal size of over $250 million from 1992 to 1996 found that companies with rights plans received on average 8 percentage points higher takeover premiums than companies without such plans. In 1997, J.P. Morgan reviewed 300 of $500 million-plus majority-stake acquisitions from 1993 through June 1997 and found that the median acquisition premium (the price paid over the stock price five days before the offer) was 9.4% higher when a company had a rights plan in place.

Also, empirical evidence supports that the presence of a stockholder rights plan does not increase the likelihood of the withdrawal of a friendly bid or the defeat of a hostile bid nor does it reduce the likelihood of a company becoming a takeover target. In fact, as displayed below, companies with stockholder rights plans had a slightly higher takeover rate than companies without plans. The following information is based upon a study conducted by Jamill Aboumen and Christopher Hayden, and support the premise that companies with stockholder rights plans have experienced higher takeover rates, and lower takeover bid withdrawal and failure rates, than companies without stockholders rights plans.

TAKEOVER BID WITHDRAWAL RATE

Firms Without Pills	11.2%
Firms With Pills	10.3%

HOSTILE BID FAILURE RATE

Firms Without Pills	66.7%
Firms With Pills	45.0%

TAKEOVER RATE S&P 500/400

Firms Without Pills	5.6%
Firms With Pills	7.7%

401(k) Plan

The Company has a Section 401(k) Savings/Retirement Plan (the "401(k) Plan") to cover eligible employees of the Company and any designated affiliate. The 401(k) Plan permits eligible employees of the Company to defer up to 20% of their annual compensation, subject to certain limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code (the "Code"). The employees' elective deferrals are immediately vested and non-forfeitable upon contribution to the 401(k) Plan. The Company currently makes matching contributions to the 401(k) Plan in an amount equal to fifty-cents for each one dollar of participant contributions up to a maximum of five percent of the participant's annual salary up to certain limits. Participants vest immediately in the amounts contributed by the Company. Employees of the Company are eligible to participate in the 401(k) Plan after one year of credited service with the Company. For the year ended December 31, 2001, the Company's contribution to the 401(k) Plan was approximately $260,000. The 401(k) Plan qualifies under Section 401 of the Code so that contributions by employees to the 401(k) Plan, and income earned on plan contributions, are not taxable to employees until withdrawn from the 401(k) Plan.

Employment Agreements

Each of John B. Kilroy, Jr., Jeffrey C. Hawken, Richard E. Moran Jr, and Tyler H. Rose have entered into an employment agreement with the Company. Each of the employment agreements had an initial three-year term and is subject to automatic one-year renewals. Each of the employment agreements provides that the amount paid for annual base compensation and the amount of any bonus is determined at the discretion of the Executive Compensation Committee.

The employment agreements entitle the executives to participate in the Company's Stock Incentive Plan and to receive certain other insurance benefits. The employment agreements also provide that in the event of death, the executive's estate will receive monthly payments of the executive's annual salary, plus one-twelfth of any bonus to be received, for a period equal to the lesser of the term remaining under the employment agreement or one year. In addition, in the event of a termination by the Company without cause, a termination of employment resulting from disability, a termination by the executive for good reason, or, in the case of Mr. Kilroy and Mr. Moran, a termination pursuant to a change of control of the Company (as such terms are defined in the respective employment agreements) the terminated executive will be entitled to (i) severance (the Severance Amount) and (ii) continued receipt of certain benefits including medical insurance, life and disability insurance and the receipt of other customary benefits established by the Company for its executive employees for two years following the date of termination (collectively, the Severance Benefits). The Severance Amount is equal to the sum of two times the executive's average annual base compensation and two times the highest annual bonus received during the preceding 36-month period.

Under the employment agreements, Disability means a physical or mental disability or infirmity which, in the opinion of a physician selected by the Board, renders the executive unable to perform his duties for six consecutive months or for shorter periods aggregating 180 business days in any 12-month period (but only to the extent that such definition does not violate the Americans with Disabilities Act). Cause, as defined under the terms of the respective employment agreements, means (i) the executive's conviction for commission of a felony or a crime involving moral turpitude, (ii) the executive's willful commission of any act of theft, embezzlement or misappropriation against the Company or (iii) the executive's willful and continued failure to substantially perform the executive's duties (other than such failure resulting from the executive's incapacity due to physical or mental illness), which is not remedied within a reasonable time. Good reason means (i) the Company's material breach of any of its obligations under the employment agreement (subject to certain notice and cure provisions) or (ii) any removal of the executive from one or more of the appointed offices or any material alteration or diminution in the executive's authority, duties or responsibilities, without cause and without the executive's prior written consent. Change of Control means (i) the event by which the individuals constituting the Board as of the date of the IPO cease for any reason to constitute at least a majority of the Company's Board; provided, however, that if the election, or nomination for election by the Company's stockholders of any new director was approved by a vote of at least a majority of the members of the original Board, such new director shall be considered a member of the original Board; (ii) an acquisition of any voting securities of the Company by any person (as the term person is used for purposes of Section 13(d) or Section 14(d) of the Exchange Act, immediately after which such person has beneficial ownership (within the meaning of Rule 13d-3 promulgated under the Exchange Act) of 20%, or more of the combined voting power of the Company's then outstanding voting securities unless such acquisition was approved by a vote of at least one more than a majority of the original Board; or (iii) approval by the stockholders of the Company of (a) a merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization involving the Company, unless the stockholders of the Company, immediately before such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization, own, directly or indirectly immediately following such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization, at least 80% of the combined voting power of the outstanding voting securities of the corporation that is the successor in such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization in substantially the same proportion as their ownership of the voting securities immediately before such merger, consolidation, share exchange or reorganization; (b) a complete liquidation or dissolution of the Company; or (c) an agreement for the sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company.

Executive Compensation Interlocks and Insider Participation

The Executive Compensation Committee is comprised of William P. Dickey, John R. D Eathe and Dale F. Kinsella. There are no Executive Compensation Committee interlocks and no employees of the Company participate on the Executive Compensation Committee.

Executive Compensation Committee Report on Executive Compensation

The Executive Compensation Committee (the Committee) is comprised of three outside members of the Board of Directors who are not employees of the Company.

Role of the Committee

The Committee is responsible for:

- Developing, administering, and monitoring the Company's executive compensation programs;

- Ensuring that the executive compensation programs are designed to be consistent with the Company's corporate strategies and business objectives;

- Reviewing and approving all compensation plans affecting the senior officers and management of the Company; and

- Determining the specific amounts of compensation for the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Operating Officer and the Chief Financial Officer of the Company.

From time to time, the Committee may retain compensation and other management consultants to assist with, among other things, structuring the Company's various compensation programs and determining appropriate levels of salary, bonus and other awards payable to the Company's key personnel, as well as to guide the Company in the development of near-term individual performance objectives necessary to achieve long-term profitability.

General Policies Regarding Compensation of Executive Officers

In establishing compensation for executive officers, the Committee seeks to:

- Attract and retain individuals of superior ability and managerial talent;

- Ensure senior officer compensation is aligned with the Company's corporate strategies, business objectives as well as the long-term interests of the Company's stockholders;

- Increase the incentive to achieve key strategic and financial performance measures by linking incentive award opportunities to the achievement of performance goals in these areas; and

- Enhance the incentive to increase the Company's stock price and maximize stockholder value, as well as enhance the opportunities for retention of key people, through providing a portion of total compensation opportunities for senior officers in the form of restricted stock and stock options.

Determination of Compensation of Executive Officers for the Year 2001

An independent compensation consultant was retained to assist the Committee in its evaluation of the key elements of the compensation programs for fiscal year 2001. Both the Committee and the compensation consultant evaluated the following in determining the desired positioning of the Company relative to the market, as well as the desired mix of base salary, annual incentives and long-term compensation opportunities:

Performance of the Company for 2001 as compared to other REITs, with an emphasis on office REITs;

Performance of the Company for 2001 as compared to other real estate companies engaged in activities similar to those engaged in by the Company, with an emphasis on developers; and

The current economic environment of the real estate industry in general.

The compensation consultant provided advice to the Committee with respect to competitive practices and the amounts and nature of compensation paid to executives. The compensation consultants also assisted with, among other things, structuring the Company's various compensation programs and determining the appropriate levels of salary, bonus and other awards payable to the Company's senior executives. Based upon the compensation consultant's recommendations, the Company's executive compensation package consists of a fixed base salary and variable cash and stock-based incentive awards, with a significant component weighted towards the variable components in order to ensure that total compensation reflects the overall success or failure by the Company and the executive officer to meet the appropriate performance measures.

Base Salary. Salary levels of executive officers are established after a review of REITs and other real estate companies deemed comparable to the Company. The Committee generally compares the Company's performance with that of other REITs and real estate companies engaged in activities similar to those engaged in by the Company. Individual base salaries are reviewed at least annually and salary increases are granted based on each executive's performance and contribution to the overall success of the Company. Other subjective features are considered such as the individual's experience and performance.

Annual Incentive Bonus. Annual cash and restricted stock awards are granted based upon corporate, operational and individual factors.

For 2001, corporate goals were measured on the basis of achieving targeted earnings, operations, development, disposition and financing objectives. These objectives included earnings as measured by Funds From Operations (FFO) per share, total returns on targeted amounts of completed development, performance of the existing property portfolio, completion of a targeted amount of dispositions at targeted selling capitalization rates and execution of specific financing strategies. Operational goals were measured on specific departmental strategic and operational objectives. Individual performance measures were assessed based upon each individual's annual goals. Bonuses were determined on the basis of the foregoing.

Long-Term Incentive Compensation. The Committee recognized that, while the bonus program provides awards for positive short-term and mid-term performance, the interests of shareholders are best served by giving key employees the opportunity to participate in the appreciation of the Company's Common Stock through the granting of stock-based incentives.

The members of the Committee believe that share performance, over the long-term, will reflect executive performance and that such arrangements further reinforce management goals and incentives to achieve shareholder objectives. To that end, the long-term portion of the Company's executive compensation package is comprised of stock-based incentives that motivate executives to increase the Company's stock price and, therefore, the return to the Company's stockholders.

In granting stock-based awards, the Committee takes into account such factors as it determines to be appropriate under the circumstances, including an assessment of the senior executive's achieved performance goals and objectives, and the amounts and value of long-term compensation and stock-based compensation received by similarly situated executives at competitor companies. Stock options are granted at 100% of the stock's fair market value on the grant date. Grants of restricted shares of Common Stock are purchased by the executive officers at par value. For 2001, 81,729 shares of restricted stock were granted to the Company's executive officers. The Company did not grant options to purchase shares of Common Stock to the Company's executive officers during 2001.

Chief Executive Officer Compensation. The compensation of John B. Kilroy, Jr. for the year ended December 31, 2001 was determined in accordance with the criteria discussed above.

Under Mr. Kilroy's direction, the Company achieved internally-established goals for growth in FFO per share, return on and amounts of completed property development, dispositions, performance of the existing property portfolio, and the execution of specific financing strategies. Based on the recommendations of the compensation consultant and in recognition of Mr. Kilroy's contributions to the achievement of the Company's goals and continued successful execution of the Company's long-term business plan, the Committee granted to Mr. Kilroy 39,131 shares of restricted stock, 62.8% of which vest on February 26, 2003 and 37.2% of which vest on February 26, 2004. The Committee did not grant any options to purchase shares of Common Stock to Mr. Kilroy during 2001.

Limitation on Deductibility of Executive Compensation. Section 162(m) of the Code limits the deductibility of compensation paid to certain executive officers of the Company. To qualify for deductibility under Section 162(m), compensation in excess of $1,000,000 per year paid to the Chief Executive Officer and the four other most highly compensated executive officers at the end of such fiscal year generally must be performance-based compensation as determined under Section 162(m), which includes most stock option and other incentive arrangements, the material terms of which have been approved by shareholders.

Despite the fact that the Company's incentive bonuses are determined based on the evaluation of the Company's performance and take into consideration certain financial and strategic goals, the Committee does not apply these factors on a strict formulaic basis. As a result, the Company's incentive bonuses may not satisfy the requirements of Section 162(m). The Committee believes that because the Company qualifies as a REIT under the Code and is not subject to Federal income taxes, the payment of compensation that does not satisfy the requirements of Section 162(m) does not have a material adverse consequence to the Company, provided the Company continues to distribute 90% of its taxable income. The Committee reserves the right to design programs that recognize a full range of performance criteria important to the Company's success, even where the compensation paid under such programs may not be deductible.

PERFORMANCE GRAPH

As a part of the rules concerning executive compensation disclosure, the Company is obligated to provide a chart comparing the yearly percentage change in the cumulative total stockholder return on the Company's Common Stock over a five-year period. However, since the Company's Common Stock has been publicly traded only since January 28, 1997, such information is provided from that date through December 31, 2001.

The following line graph compares the change in the Company's cumulative stockholder return on its shares of Common Stock to the cumulative total return of the NAREIT Equity REIT Total Return Index (NAREIT Equity Index) and the Standard & Poor's 500 Stock Index (S&P 500 Index) from January 31, 1997, the closing date of the Company's initial public offering, to December 31, 2001. The line graph starts at January 28, 1997, the date that the Company's shares of Common Stock commenced trading on the NYSE; however, the beginning value of each of the NAREIT Equity Index and the S&P 500 Index is as of January 31, 1997, as each index is calculated only on a monthly basis. The graph assumes the investment of $100 in the Company and each of the indices on January 28, 1997 and as required by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the reinvestment of all distributions. The return shown on the graph is not necessarily indicative of future performance.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

Certain directors and executive officers of the Company, including John B. Kilroy, Sr. and John B. Kilroy, Jr., the Chairman of the Board and the President and Chief Executive Officer, respectively, (or members of their immediate families) have direct or indirect interests in transactions and potential transactions with the Company, the Operating Partnership or Kilroy Services, LLC (KSLLC) as described below.

Option Property

In connection with the formation of the Company, the Operating Partnership entered into an agreement with Kilroy Airport Imperial Co. (KAICO), a partnership controlled by John B. Kilroy, Sr. and John B. Kilroy, Jr., the Chairman of the Board, and President, Chief Executive Officer and Director, respectively, granting to the Operating Partnership an option to acquire the three-building office complex located on the corner of Sepulveda Boulevard and Imperial Highway in El Segundo, California (the Imperial and Sepulveda Office Complex).

In May 2000, the Operating Partnership purchased the outstanding mortgage indebtedness secured by the complex from an institutional lender at a discount for $45.3 million. At the time of the acquisition, KAICO was in payment default under the terms of the note. In connection with the purchase of this note receivable, KAICO and the Operating Partnership entered into agreements to modify the terms of the option agreement. The Operating Partnership also agreed to pay KAICO approximately $3.3 million for the modification of the existing option.

The Company subsequently exercised the option and acquired the property through two separate transactions subject to the terms of the amended agreement. In October 2000, a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company acquired a 25% tenancy-in-common interest in the complex from KAICO and, in January 2001, the Operating Partnership acquired the remaining 75% tenancy-in-common interest. The total consideration was equal to the outstanding mortgage indebtedness secured by the properties, 1,133 common limited partnership units of the Operating Partnership valued at approximately $30,000, and $90,000 in cash.

Other Relationships and Transactions

On January 1, 2001, Kilroy Services, Inc. (KSI) was merged into a newly formed entity, KSLLC. Prior to the merger, John B. Kilroy, Sr. and John B. Kilroy, Jr. owned 100% of the voting interest of KSI, and the Operating Partnership owned 100% of the non-voting preferred stock representing a 95% economic interest in KSI. The Company historically accounted for the operating results of the development services business conducted by KSI under the equity method of accounting. In connection with the merger, Messrs. Kilroy received $8,000 in cash for their economic interest and KSLLC became a wholly-owned consolidated subsidiary of the Company beginning January 1, 2001.

As part of the Company's marketing strategy, KSLCC has an agreement with TradeWind Navigation, Inc., a company wholly-owned by John B. Kilroy, Sr., to charter a sailing vessel for 26 weeks during the year. The Company uses the sailing vessel in its marketing efforts by sponsoring broker events. During 2001, the Company paid TradeWind Navigation, Inc. approximately $0.3 million under this agreement.
