Harleysville Savings Financial Corporation
Notes to Unaudited Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Basis of Presentation -The unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of Harleysville Savings Financial Corporation and its subsidiaries (the "Company"). All significant inter-company balances and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

The accompanying unaudited condensed consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the instructions for Form 10-Q and therefore do not include information or footnotes necessary for a complete presentation of financial condition, results of operations and cash flows in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. However, all adjustments (consisting only of normal recurring adjustments) which, in the opinion of management, are necessary for a fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements have been included. The results of operations for the three and nine months ended June 30, 2005 are not necessarily indicative of the results which may be expected for the entire fiscal year ending September 30, 2005 or any other period. The financial information should be read in conjunction with the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the period ended September 30, 2004.

Edgar Filing: HARLEYSVILLE SAVINGS FINANCIAL CORP - Form 10-Q

Use of Estimates in Preparation of Financial Statements - The preparation of consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statement and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. The most significant of these estimates is the allowance for loan losses. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Accounting for Stock Options - In December 2002, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation --Transition and Disclosure, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123. SFAS No. 148 amends SFAS No. 123 to provide alternative methods of transition for a voluntary change to the fair value based method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation. In addition, this Statement amends the disclosure requirements of SFAS No. 123 to require prominent disclosures in both annual and interim financial statements about the method of accounting for stock-based employee compensation and the effect of the method used on reported results. The Company has elected to continue application of Accounting Principals Board Opinion No. 25 Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees and related interpretations for stock options and, accordingly no compensation expense has been recorded in the condensed consolidated financ

Recent Accounting Pronouncements -In December 2004, the FASB issued SFAS No. 123R (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment, which revises SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and supersedes APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. This Statement requires an entity to recognize the cost of employees services received in share-based payment transactions and measure the cost on a grant-date fair value of the award. That cost will be recognized over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award. Effective for the annual reporting period that begins after June 15, 2005, the FASB will require that the Company recognize compensation expense for the fair value of stock options that are granted or vest after that date. FASB set forth these rules in Statement No. 123(R), Share-Based Payment, which became final December 16, 2004. Management is currently evaluating the effects the adoption will have on the Company's financial statements.

In March 2004, the FASB Emerging Issues Task Force ("EITF") reached a consensus regarding EITF 03-1, The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its

Application to Certain Investments. The consensus provides guidance for evaluating whether an investment is other-than-temporarily impaired and was effective for other-than-temporary impairment evaluations made in reporting periods beginning after June 15, 2004. However, the guidance contained in paragraphs 10-20 of this Issue has been delayed by FASB Staff Position ("FSP") EITF Issue 03-1-1, "Effective Date of Paragraphs 10-20 of EITF Issue No. 03-1, The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its Application to Certain Investments," posted September 30, 2004. The delay of the effective date for paragraphs 10-20 will be superseded concurrent with the final issuance of proposed FSP EITF Issue 03-1-a, "Implication Guidance For the Application of Paragraph 16 of EITF Issue No. 03-1, The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its Application to Certain Investments." The proposed FSP would provide implementation guidance with respect to debt securities that are impaired solely due to interest rates and/or sector spreads and analyzed for other-than-temporary impairment. The disclosures continue to be effective for the Company's consolidated financial statements for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2003, for investments accounted for under SFAS No. 115 and No. 124. For all other investments within the scope of this Issue, the disclosures continue to be effective for fiscal years ending after June 15, 2004. The additional disclosures for cost method investments continue to be effective for fiscal years ending after June 15, 2004.

The Board decided not to provide additional guidance on the meaning of other-than-temporary impairment, but directed the staff to issue proposed FSP EITF 03-1-a, "Implementation Guidance for the Application of Paragraph 16 of EITF Issue No. 03-1," as final. The final FSP will supersede EITF Issue No. 03-1, "The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its Application to Certain Investments," and EITF Topic No. D-44, "Recognition of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment upon the Planned Sale of a Security Whose Cost Exceeds Fair Value." The final FSP (retitled FSP FAS 115-1, "The Meaning of Other-Than-Temporary Impairment and Its Application to Certain Investments") will replace the guidance set forth in paragraphs 10-18 of Issue 03-1 with references to existing other-than-temporary impairment guidance, such as FASB Statement No. 115, "Accounting for Certain Investments in Debt and Equity Securities", SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 59, "Accounting for Noncurrent Marketable Equity Securities", and APB Opinion No. 18, "The Equity Method of Accounting for Investments in Common Stock." FSP FAS 115-1 will codify the guidance set forth in EITF Topic D-44 and clarify that an investor should recognize an impairment loss no later than when the impairment is deemed other than temporary, even if a decision to sell has not been made.

The Board decided that FSP FAS 115-1 would be effective for other-than-temporary impairment analysis conducted in periods beginning after September 15, 2005. The Board directed the staff to proceed to a draft of a final FSP for vote by written ballot.

At June 30, 2005, investment securities in a gross unrealized loss position for twelve months or longer consisted of 8 agencies that at such date had an aggregate depreciation of 1.3% from the Company's amortized cost basis. Management believes that the estimated fair value of the securities disclosed above is primarily dependent upon the movement in market interest rates. The Company has the ability and intent to hold these securities until the anticipated recovery of fair value occurs. Management does not believe any individual unrealized loss as of June 30, 2005 represents an other-than-temporary impairment.

Management evaluates securities for other-than-temporary impairment at least on a quarterly basis, and more frequently when economic or market concerns warrant such evaluation. Consideration is given to the intent and ability of the Company to retain its investment in the issuer for a period of time sufficient to allow for any anticipated recovery in fair value. Management believes that the securities are temporarily impaired.

Total	$113,088,115	$ (600,048)	$ 63,246,335	$ (1,071,649)

At June 30, 2005, mortgage-related securities in a gross unrealized loss position for twelve months or longer consisted of 25 securities that at such date had an aggregate depreciation of 1.7% from the Company's amortized cost basis. Management does not believe any individual unrealized loss as of June 30, 2005 represents an other-than-temporary impairment. The unrealized losses reported for mortgage-related securities relate primarily to securities issued by the Federal National Mortgage Association, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation and private institutions. The majority of the unrealized losses associated with mortgage-related securities are primarily attributable to changes in interest rates and not due to the deterioration of the creditworthiness of the issuer. The Company has the ability and intent to hold these securities until the securities mature.

The advances are collateralized by Federal Home Loan Bank ("FHLB") stock and substantially all first mortgage loans. The Company has a line of credit with the FHLB of which $27.2 million out of $32.0 million was used at June 30, 2005 and $19.1 million was used as of September 30, 2004. Included in the table above at June 30, 2005 and September 30, 2004 are convertible advances whereby the

FHLB has the option at a predetermined strike rate to convert the fixed interest rate to an adjustable rate tied to London Interbank Offered Rate ("LIBOR"). The Company then has the option to repay these advances if the FHLB converts the interest rate. These advances are included in the periods in which they mature. The Company has a total FHLB borrowing capacity of $556.1 million of which $289.3 million was used as of June 30, 2005.

13. REGULATORY CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS

Harleysville Savings Bank (the "Bank") is subject to various regulatory capital requirements administered by the federal Banking agencies. Failure to meet minimum capital requirements can initiate certain mandatory - and possibly additional discretionary - actions by regulators that, if undertaken, could have a direct material effect on the Bank's consolidated financial statements. Under capital adequacy guidelines and the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action, the Bank must meet specific capital guidelines that involve quantitative measures of the Bank's assets, liabilities and certain off-balance-sheet items as calculated under regulatory accounting practices. The Bank's capital amounts and classification are also subject to qualitative judgments by the regulators about components, risk weightings, and other factors. Quantitative measures established by regulation to ensure capital adequacy require the Bank to maintain minimum amounts and ratios (set forth in the table below) of total Tier 1 capital (as defined in the regulations) to risk weighted assets (as defined), and of Tier 1 capital (as defined) to assets (as defined). Management believes, as of June 30, 2005, that the Bank meets all capital adequacy requirements to which it is subject.

As of June 30, 2005, the most recent notification from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation categorized the Bank as well capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To be categorized as well capitalized, the Bank must maintain minimum total risk-based, Tier 1 risk-based, and Tier 1 leverage ratios as set forth in the table. There are no conditions or events since that notification that management believes have changed the Bank's category.

The Bank's actual capital amounts and ratios are also presented in the table.

	Actual		For Capital Adequacy Purposes

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This report contains certain forward-looking statements and information relating to the Company that are based on the beliefs of management as well as assumptions made by and information currently available to management. In addition, in those and other portions of this document, the words "anticipate," "believe," "estimate," "intend," "should" and similar expressions, or the negative thereof, as they relate to the Company or the Company's management, are intended to identify forward-looking statements. Such statements reflect the current views of the Company with respect to future-looking events and are subject to certain risks, uncertainties and assumptions. Should one or more of these risks or uncertainties materialize or should underlying assumptions prove incorrect, actual results may vary materially from those described herein as anticipated, believed, estimated, expected or intended. The Company does not intend to update these forward-looking statements.

The Company's primary business consists of attracting deposits from the general public through a variety of deposit programs and investing such deposits principally in first mortgage loans secured by residential properties in the Company's primary market area. The Company also originates a variety of consumer loans, predominately home equity loans and lines of credit also secured by residential properties in the Company's primary lending area. The Company serves its customers through its full-service branch network as well as through remote ATM locations, the internet and telephone banking.

Critical Accounting Policies and Judgments

The Company's consolidated financial statements are prepared based on the application of certain accounting policies. Certain of these policies require numerous estimates and strategic or economic assumptions that may prove inaccurate or subject to variations and may significantly affect the Company's reported results and financial position for the period or in future periods. Changes in underlying factors, assumptions, or estimates in any of these areas could have a material impact on the Company's future financial condition and results of operations.

Analysis and Determination of the Allowance for Loan Losses - The allowance for loan losses is a valuation allowance for probable losses inherent in the loan portfolio. The Company evaluates the need to establish allowances against losses on loans on a monthly basis. When additional allowances are necessary, a provision for loan losses is charged to earnings.

Our methodology for assessing the appropriateness of the allowance for loan losses consists of three key elements: (1) specific allowances for certain impaired or collateral-dependent loans; (2) a general valuation allowance on certain identified problem loans; and (3) a general valuation allowance on the remainder of the loan portfolio. Although we determine the amount of each element of the allowance separately, the entire allowance for loan losses is available for the entire portfolio.

Specific Allowance Required for Certain Impaired or Collateral-Dependent Loans: We establish an allowance for certain impaired loans for the amounts by which the collateral value or observable market price are lower than the carrying value of the loan. Under current accounting guidelines, a loan is defined as impaired when, based on current information and events, it is probable that a creditor will be unable to collect all amounts due under the contractual terms of the loan agreement. At June 30, 2005, no loans were considered impaired.

General Valuation Allowance on Certain Identified Problem Loans - We also establish a general allowance for classified loans that do not have an individual allowance. We segregate these loans by loan category and assign allowance percentages to each category based on inherent losses associated with each type of lending and consideration that these loans, in the aggregate, represent an above-average credit risk and that more of these loans will prove to be uncollectible compared to loans in the general portfolio.

General Valuation Allowance on the Remainder of the Loan Portfolio - We establish another general allowance for loans that are not classified to recognize the inherent losses associated with lending activities, but which, unlike specific allowances, has not been allocated to particular problem assets. This general valuation allowance is determined by segregating the loans by loan category and assigning allowance percentages based on our historical loss experience, delinquency trends and management's evaluation of the collectibility of the loan portfolio. The allowance may be adjusted for significant factors that, in management's judgment, affect the collectibility of the portfolio as of the evaluation date. These significant factors may include changes in lending policies and procedures, changes in existing general economic and business conditions affecting our primary lending areas, credit quality trends, collateral value, loan volumes and concentrations, seasoning of the loan portfolio, recent loss experience in particular segments of the portfolio, duration of the current business cycle and bank regulatory examination results. The applied loss factors are reevaluated monthly to ensure their relevance in the current economic environment.

Changes in Financial Position for the Nine-Month Period Ended June 30, 2005

Total assets at June 30, 2005 were $757.5 million, an increase of $39.3 million or 5.47% for the nine month period. This increase was primarily the result of an increase in loans receivable, investment securities held to maturity, mortgage-backed securities held to maturity and other assets of approximately $18.6 million, $14.2 million, $6.8 million and $4.4 million, respectively. The remainder was due to an increase in Federal Home Loan Bank stock of approximately $820,000. This growth is one of the ways the Company manages its capital based on its business plan. These increases were partially offset by decreases in investment securities available for sale and mortgage-backed securities available for sale, of approximately $3.2 million and $2.5 million, respectively. The decreases were due to the normal maturities and repayments in the investment portfolio. During the nine-month period ended June 30, 2005, total deposits increased by $7.4 million to $412.7 million. Advances from borrowers for taxes and insurance also increased by $3.7 million. This is a seasonal increase as the majority of taxes that the Company escrows for are disbursed in the month of August. There was also an increase in advances from Federal Home Loan Bank of $23.4 million, which was used to fund the purchase of mortgage-backed securities held to maturity and originate residential loans. Accounts payable and accrued expenses increased by $2.0 million due to the pending purchase of an investment security that settled after the period ended.

Comparisons of Results of Operations for the Three and Nine Month Period Ended

June 30, 2005 with the Three and Nine Month Period Ended June 30, 2004.

Net Interest Income

The increase in the net interest income for the three and nine month periods ended June 30, 2005 when compared to the same periods in 2004 can be attributed to the increase in the average balance of interest-earning assets to $733.2

million and $716.9 million from $679.2 million and $673.5 million, respectively.

Total interest income was $9.2 million for the three-month period ended June 30, 2005 compared to $8.1 million for the comparable period in 2004. For the nine month period ended June 30, 2005, total interest income was $26.6 million compared to $24.3 million for the comparable period in 2004. The increase is the result of the increased average yield for the interest-earning assets to 5.00% and 4.95% for the three and nine-month period ended June 30, 2005, respectively, from 4.76% and 4.80% for the comparable periods in 2004.

Total interest expense increased to $5.9 million for the three-month period ended June 30, 2005 from $5.0 million for the comparable period in 2004. For the nine-month period ended June 30, 2005, total interest expense increased to $16.7 million from $15.2 million for the comparable period in 2004. These increases occurred as a result of a increase in the average rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities to 3.37% and 3.27% for the three and nine-month periods ended June 30, 2005, respectively, from 3.15% and 3.19% for the comparable period ended June 30, 2004.

Other Income

Other income increased to $379,000 for the three-month period ended June 30, 2005 from $323,000 for the comparable period in 2004. For the nine-month period ended June 30, 2005, other income decreased to $1.1 million from $1.2 million for the comparable period in 2004. The three-month increase is due to the sale of loans and the nine-month decrease is mainly due to a decrease in the gain on sale of investments available for sale.

Other Expenses

During the quarter ended June 30, 2005, other expenses increased by $125,000 or 6.6% to $2.0 million when compared to the same period in 2004. For the nine month period ended June 30, 2005, other expenses increased by $463,000 or 8.4% compared to the comparable period in 2004. Management believes these are normal increases in the cost of operations after considering the effects of inflation and the impact of the 7.0% growth in the assets of the Company when compared to the same periods in 2004. The annualized ratio of expenses to average assets for the three and nine month periods ended June 30, 2005 was 1.07% and 1.08%, respectively.

Income Taxes

The Company made provisions for income taxes of $429,000 and $1.3 million for the three and nine-month periods ended June 30, 2005, respectively, compared to $350,000 and $1.2 million for the comparable periods in 2004. These provisions are based on the levels of taxable income.

Liquidity and Capital Recourses

For a financial institution, liquidity is a measure of the ability to fund customers' needs for loans and deposit withdrawals. Harleysville Savings regularly evaluates economic conditions in order to maintain a strong liquidity position. One of the most significant factors considered by management when evaluating liquidity requirements is the stability of the Bank's core deposit base. In addition to cash, the Bank maintains a portfolio of short-term investments to meet its liquidity requirements. Harleysville Savings also relies upon cash flow from operations and other financing activities, generally short-term and long-term debt. Liquidity is also provided by investing activities including the repayment and maturity of loans and investment securities as well as the management of asset sales when considered necessary. The Bank also has access to and sufficient assets to secure lines of credit and other borrowings in amounts adequate to fund any unexpected cash requirements.

As of June 30, 2005, the Company had $51.8 million in commitments to fund loan originations, disburse loans in process and meet other obligations. Management anticipates that the majority of these commitments will be funded within the next six months by means of normal cash flows and new deposits. The amount of certificate accounts, which are scheduled to mature during the 12 months ending June 30, 2006, is $76.2 million. Management expects that a substantial portion of these maturing deposits will remain as accounts in the Company.

The Company invests excess funds in overnight deposits and other short-term interest-earning assets, which provide liquidity to meet lending requirements. The Company also has available borrowings with the Federal Home Loan Bank of Pittsburgh up to the Company's maximum borrowing capacity, which was $556.1 million at June 30, 2005 of which $289.3 million was outstanding at June 30, 2005.

The Bank's net income for the nine months ended June 30, 2005 of $3,742,000 increased the Bank's stockholders' equity to $46.9 million or 6.2% of total assets. This amount is well in excess of the Bank's minimum regulatory capital requirement.

Proposed FASB

In July 2005, the FASB issued an exposure draft on a proposed interpretation of SFAS No. 109, "Accounting for Income Taxes." This exposure draft is designed to end the diverse accounting methods used for accounting for uncertain tax positions. The proposed model is a benefit recognition model and stipulates that a benefit from a tax position should only be recorded when it is probable. The benefit should be recorded at management's best estimate. The proposed interpretation would be effective as of the end of the first annual period after December 15, 2005. Any changes to net assets as a result of applying the proposed interpretation would be recorded as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle. Management is in the process of assessing the impact this interpretation will have on its financial statements.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

The Company has instituted programs designed to decrease the sensitivity of its earnings to material and prolonged increases in interest rates. The principal determinant of the exposure of the Company's earnings to interest rate risk is the timing difference between the repricing or maturity of the Company's interest-earning assets and the repricing or maturity of its interest-bearing liabilities. If the maturities of such assets and liabilities were perfectly matched, and if the interest rates borne by its assets and liabilities were equally flexible and moved concurrently, neither of which is the case, the impact on net interest income of rapid increases or decreases in interest rates would be minimized. The Company's asset and liability management policies seek to increase the interest rate sensitivity by shortening the repricing intervals and the maturities of the Company's interest-earning assets. Although management of the Company believes that the steps taken have reduced the Company's overall vulnerability to increases in interest rates, the Company remains vulnerable to material and prolonged increases in interest rates during periods in which its interest rate sensitive liabilities exceed its interest rate sensitive assets.

The authority and responsibility for interest rate management is vested in the Company's Board of Directors. The Chief Executive Officer implements the Board of Directors' policies during the day-to-day operations of the Company. Each month, the Chief Financial Officer presents the Board of Directors with a report, which outlines the Company's asset and liability "gap" position in various time periods. The "gap" is the difference between interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities which mature or reprice over a given time period. He also meets weekly with the Company's other senior officers to review and establish policies and strategies designed to regulate the Company's flow of funds and coordinate the sources, uses and pricing of such funds. The first priority in structuring and pricing the Company's assets and liabilities is to maintain an acceptable interest rate spread while reducing the effects of changes in interest rates and maintaining the quality of the Company's assets.

The following table summarizes the amount of interest-earning assets and interest-bearing liabilities outstanding as of June 30, 2005, which are expected to mature, prepay or reprice in each of the future time periods shown. Except as stated below, the amounts of assets or liabilities shown which mature or reprice during a particular period were determined in accordance with the contractual terms of the asset or liability. Adjustable and floating-rate assets are included in the period in which interest rates are next scheduled to adjust rather than in the period in which they are due, and fixed-rate loans and mortgage-backed securities are included in the periods in which they are anticipated to be repaid.

The passbook accounts, negotiable order of withdrawal ("NOW") accounts, interest bearing accounts, and money market deposit accounts, are included in the "Over 5 Years" categories based on management's beliefs that these funds are core deposits having significantly longer effective maturities based on the Company's retention of such deposits in changing interest rate environments.

Generally, during a period of rising interest rates, a positive gap would result in an increase in net interest income while a negative gap would adversely affect net interest income. Conversely, during a period of falling interest rates, a positive gap would result in a decrease in net interest income while a negative gap would positively affect net interest income. However, the following table does not necessarily indicate the impact of general interest rate movements on the Company's net interest income because the repricing of certain categories of assets and liabilities is discretionary and is subject to competitive and other pressures. As a result, certain assets and liabilities indicated as repricing within a stated period may in fact reprice at different rate levels.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

Our management evaluated, with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on such evaluation, our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in the reports that we file or submit under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and regulations and are operating in an effective manner.

No change in our internal control over financial reporting (as defined in Rules 13a-15(f) and 15(d)-15(f) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) occurred during the most recent fiscal quarter that has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.
