NOTES TO CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
Six months ended December 31, 2002
(Unaudited)

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements include the accounts of MSB Financial, Inc. and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Marshall Savings Bank, F.S.B. after the elimination of significant intercompany transactions and accounts. The initial capitalization of MSB Financial and its acquisition of Marshall Savings Bank took place on February 6, 1995.

These interim financial statements are prepared in accordance with the Securities and Exchange Commission's rules for quarterly financial information without audit and reflect all adjustments which, in the opinion of management, are necessary to present fairly our financial position at December 31, 2002 and the results of operations and its cash flows for the periods presented. All such adjustments are normal and recurring in nature. The accompanying condensed consolidated financial statements do not purport to contain all the necessary disclosures required by generally accepted accounting principles that might otherwise be necessary in the circumstances and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes included in the annual report of MSB Financial, Inc. for the year ended June 30, 2002. The results of the periods presented are not necessarily representative of the results of operations and cash flows which may be expected for the entire year.

The provision for income taxes is based upon the effective tax rate expected to be applicable for the entire year.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets: Goodwill resulted from our acquisition of a branch on March 15, 2002 and represents the excess of the purchase price over the fair value of acquired tangible assets and liabilities and identifiable intangible assets. Goodwill is assessed at least annually for impairment and any such impairment will be recognized in the period identified. As a result of adopting SFAS No. 147 on October 1, 2002, the year to date financial statements reflect the reversal of unidentifiable intangible amortization totaling $68,000 recorded during the three month period ended September 30, 2002.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis

The following discussion compares the consolidated financial condition of MSB Financial and Marshall Savings at December 31, 2002 to June 30, 2002 and the results of operations for the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 with the same periods ended December 31, 2001. This discussion should be read in conjunction with the condensed consolidated financial statements and footnotes included herein. References in this Form 10-QSB to "we", "us" and "our" refer to MSB Financial and/or Marshall Savings as the context requires.

Forward-Looking Statements Disclosure

This document, including information incorporated by reference, and future filings by MSB Financial, Inc. on Form 10-KSB, Form 10-QSB, and Form 8-K and future oral and written statements by MSB Financial and its management, may contain forward-looking statements about MSB Financial and its subsidiary which we believe are within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include, without limitation, statements with respect to anticipated future operating and financial performance, growth opportunities, interest rates, cost savings and funding advantages expected or anticipated to be realized by management. Words such as may, could, should, would, believe, anticipate, estimate, expect, intend, plan and similar expressions are intended to identify these forward-looking statements. The important factors we discuss below and elsewhere in this document, as well as other factors discussed under the caption "Management's Discussion and Analysis or Plan of Operation" in this document and identified in our filings with the SEC, and those presented elsewhere by our management from time to time, could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by the forward-looking statements made in this document:

- ◆ the strength of the United States economy in general and the strength of the local economies in which we conduct our operations;
- ◆ the effects of, and changes in, trade, monetary and fiscal policies and laws, including interest rate policies of the Federal Reserve Board;
- ◆ financial market, monetary and interest rate fluctuations, particularly the relative relationship of short-term interest rates to long-term interest rates;
- ◆ the timely development of and acceptance of our new products and services and the perceived overall value of these products and services by users, including the features, pricing and quality compared to competitors' products and services;
- ◆ the willingness of users to substitute competitors' products and services for our products and services;
- ◆ the impact of changes in financial services' laws and regulations (including laws concerning taxes, accounting standards, banking, securities and insurance);
- ◆ the impact of technological changes;
- ◆ acquisitions;
- ◆ changes in consumer spending and savings habits; and
- ◆ our success at managing the risks involved in our business.

Forward-looking statements by MSB Financial and its management are based on beliefs, plans, objectives, goals, expectations, anticipations, estimates and intentions of management and are not guarantees of future performance. MSB Financial disclaims any obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statements based on the occurrence of future events, the receipt of new information, or otherwise.

Financial Condition

Total assets decreased $7.4 million to $100.7 million from June 30, 2002 to December 31, 2002. The decrease in assets was primarily the result of a decrease in net loans, including loans held for sale, of $4.7 million or 5.6% for the period. The decrease in net loans was due to strong loan refinancing activity in favor of fixed-rate one- to four-family mortgage loans during the six month period, a result of low mortgage interest rates. We generally sell fixed-rate mortgage products to Freddie Mac, retaining the right to service these loans. This resulted in the decrease of net loans. However, mortgage loans serviced for others increased from $73.3 million at June 30, 2002 to $86.5 million at December 31, 2002, an increase of $13.2 million or 18.0%. Mortgage servicing rights increased $121,000 or 20.6%, at December 31, 2002 as compared to June 30, 2002, due to retained mortgage service rights on increased loan sales during the period.

We also experienced a decrease in securities available for sale of $2.3 million or 21.0% for the period. The decrease in securities available for sale was the result of withdrawals made from an adjustable rate mortgage fund used primarily to fund scheduled payments on FHLB advances totaling $2.8 million.

Other assets at December 31, 2002 totaled $2.9 million compared to $3.2 million at June 30, 2002. The decrease was primarily the result of a change in real estate held in redemption and real estate owned. See "Provision for loan losses" for further information.

Total liabilities decreased $5.9 million to $86.1 million from June 30, 2002 to December 31, 2002. In addition to the decrease in FHLB advances discussed above, we experienced a decrease in deposits of $2.8 million from June 30, 2002 to December 31, 2002. This decrease was partially attributed to withdrawals made from deposit accounts in favor of alternative investments offered by our new investments program affiliated with LPL Financial Services. We also experienced decreases in accrued interest payable of $23,000 and advance payments by borrowers for taxes and insurance of $598,000. The decrease in advance payments by borrowers for taxes and insurance was primarily due to the payment of property tax bills during the month of December. Offsetting the above decreases in liabilities for the period was an increase in accrued expenses and other liabilities of $306,000, the result of an increase in funds due Freddie Mac at December 31, 2002 as compared to June 30, 2002.

Shareholders' equity decreased $1.5 million, or 9.3%, from June 30, 2002 to December 31, 2002. This decrease was primarily the result of dividends paid to shareholders during the period ended December 31, 2002 totaling $2.8 million, which included a special cash dividend of $2 per share. Management believes the special cash dividend was an appropriate use of excess capital and will improve future return on equity. Dividend payments to shareholders were partially offset by net income of $923,000 and the exercise of stock options totaling $520,000.

Results of Operations

General. Our results of operations depend primarily upon the level of net interest income, which is the difference between the average yield earned on loans, securities, interest-bearing deposits, and other interest-earning assets, and the average rate paid on deposits and borrowed funds, as well as competitive factors that influence interest rates, loan demand, and deposit flows. Our results of operations are also dependent upon the level of our noninterest income, including fee income and service charges, and the level of our noninterest expense, including general and administrative expenses. We, like other financial institutions, are subject to interest rate risk to the degree that our interest-bearing liabilities mature or reprice at different times, or on a different basis, than our interest-earning assets.

Net Income. Net income for the three months ended December 31, 2002 was $454,000, a decrease of 10.5% compared to net income of $508,000 for the same period ended December 31, 2001. Net income for the six month period ended December 31, 2002 was $923,000, 4.5% higher than net income of $884,000 for the same period in 2001. Reasons for the changes in net income are discussed in detail below.

Net Interest Income. Net interest income increased $37,000, or 3.6%, to $1.1 million for the three month period ended December 31, 2002, as compared to the same three month period in 2001. For the six month period ended December 31, 2002, net interest income increased $136,000, or 6.9%, to $2.1 million.

The increase in net interest income during the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 was primarily the result of decreases in total interest expense. For the three and six months periods ended December 31, 2002 interest expense decreased $209,000 and $419,000, respectively, when compared to the same periods ended December 31, 2001. The decreases in interest expense were primarily a result of a decrease in interest paid on certificate of deposit accounts, which repriced at lower interest rates. For the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002, deposit interest expense decreased $115,000 and $212,000, respectively, when compared to the same periods ended December 31, 2001. The other major component of interest expense, interest paid on FHLB advances, also decreased during the 2002 periods primarily due to decreases in the average principal balance. For the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002, interest on FHLB advances decreased $96,000 and $210,000, respectively, when compared the same 2001 periods. The weighted average rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities for the three month period ended December 31, 2002 decreased 143 basis points to 2.71% from 4.14% for the same period ended December 31, 2001. For the six month period ended December 31, 2002 the weighted average rate paid on interest-bearing liabilities was 2.87%, compared to 4.34% for the same period ended December 31, 2001, a decrease of 147 basis points.

Interest on loans, including fees decreased $219,000, or 12.7%, during the three month period ended December 31, 2002 compared to the three month period ended December 31, 2001. For the six month period ended December 31, 2002 interest on loans, including fees decreased $400,000, or 11.5%, as compared to the same period in 2001. The decrease was the result of a decrease in net loans receivables, which was due to increased sales of fixed-rate loans in the secondary market, as well as a decrease in mortgage loan interest rates. Loan interest rates were also impacted by adjustable loans repricing at lower rate. The weighted average yield on the loan portfolio for the three month period ended December 31, 2002 decreased 147 basis points to 6.94% from 8.41% for the same period ended December 31, 2001. For the six month period ended December 31, 2002 the weighted average yield on the loan portfolio was 6.96%, compared to 8.32% for the same period ended December 31, 2001, a decrease of 136 basis points.

Provision for Loan Losses. The provision for loan losses is a result of our periodic analysis of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses. For the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002, the provision for loan losses increased $13,000 and $16,000, respectively, as compared to the same periods ended December 31, 2001, due to our continuing reassessment of probable incurred losses in the loan portfolio. At December 31, 2002, the allowance for loan losses totaled $513,000 or 0.65% of net loans receivable and 91.28% of total non-performing loans. At June 30, 2002, our allowance for loan losses totaled $554,000, or 0.66% of net loans receivable and 78.36% of total non-performing loans.

We established an allowance for loan losses based on an analysis of risk factors in the loan portfolio. This analysis includes the evaluation of concentrations of credit, past loss experience, current economic conditions, amount and composition of the loan portfolio, estimated fair value of underlying collateral, delinquencies, and other factors. Accordingly, the calculation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses was not based directly on our level of non-performing assets.

Non-performing assets include non-accrual loans, loans 90 days or more delinquent and still accruing interest, restructured, foreclosed real estate and other repossessed assets. Loans greater than 90 days past due, and other designated loans of concern, are placed on non-accrual status, unless it is determined that the loans are well collateralized and in the process of collection. The following table presents non-performing assets for the periods indicated.

	December 31, 2002	June 30, 2002
Non-accrual loans	$ 16,000	$ 272,000
Loans past due 90 days or more and still accruing interest	546,000	435,000
Total non-performing loans	$ 562,000	$ 707,000
Foreclosed real estate and other repossessed assets	568,000	824,000
Total non-performing assets	$1,130,000	$1,531,000
Total non-performing loans as a percentage of total loans	0.71%	0.82%
Total non-performing assets as a percentage of total assets	1.12%	1.42%

Non-performing loans at December 31, 2002 decreased $145,000 to $562,000 as compared to June 30, 2002. This decrease was primarily the result of one loan secured by a resident property totaling $236,000 that was transferred from non-accrual status to foreclosed real estate during the six month period ended December 31, 2002. Currently this property is for sale by the owner.

Foreclosed real estate and other repossessed assets decreased $256,000 to $568,000 as compared to June 30, 2002. This change was primarily the result of one borrower selling seven investment properties, totaling $481,000, of which $446,000 was held in redemption and classified as foreclosed real estate and $35,000 was classified as non-accrual loans at June 30, 2002. As part of the workout of the borrower's bankruptcy, these seven properties were sold to a single purchaser, who also received financing from Marshall Savings Bank. These properties are now held as collateral for one loan totaling $555,000. Pending a review period of the new borrower's payment history on the new loan, we will maintain a deferred interest income amount of $79,000. This amount represents interest of $45,000 paid when the previous borrower's debts were restructured, and interest of $34,000 paid at the time of the sale to the new borrower.

We will continue to monitor the allowance for loan losses and make future additions to the allowance through the provision for loan losses as loan quality and economic conditions dictate. Although we maintain the allowance for loan losses at a level which we consider to be adequate to provide for losses, there can be no assurance that future losses will not exceed estimated amounts or that additional provisions for loan losses will not be required in future periods. In addition, our determination as to the amount of the allowance for loan losses is subject to review by the Office of Thrift Supervision and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, as part of their examination process, which may result in the establishment of an additional allowance based upon their judgment of the information available to them at the time of their examinations.

Noninterest Income. Noninterest income consists primarily of gains on the sale of loans, loan servicing fees, service charges on deposit accounts and other fees. Noninterest income increased $152,000 during the three month period ended December 31, 2002 compared to the three month period ended December 31, 2001. For the six month period ended December 31, 2002, noninterest income increased $434,000 compared the six month period ended December 31, 2001. The increases during the three and six month periods were primarily due to increases in net gains on the sale of loans during the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 of $125,000 and $295,000, respectively, due to increased sales of mortgage loans during these periods.

In addition to the increase in net gains on sales of loans held for sale, we also experienced increases in service charges on deposit accounts for the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 of $71,000 and $129,000, respectively, as compared to the same 2001 periods. Debit card/ATM fees also increased during the three and six months periods ended December 31, 2002 by $24,000 and $49,000, respectively. The increases in service charges and debit card/ATM fees were primarily the result of additional fees collected on increased deposits associated with a branch office purchase on March 15, 2002.

Offsetting the above mentioned increases in noninterest income were decreases in net loan servicing fees during the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 of $71,000 and $112,000, respectively. These decreases in net loan servicing fees were primarily the result of a mortgage servicing rights valuation adjustment as well as continuing and accelerated amortization of originated mortgage loan servicing rights during the 2002 periods due to increased loan refinancing activity during the same periods. We obtained a third party valuation of our originated mortgage servicing rights and recorded a valuation adjustment of $38,000, or 5.1% of our total mortgage service rights portfolio. This valuation adjustment, the first recorded by Marshall Savings Bank, was due to the current low interest rate environment, which resulted in increased mortgage loan refinancing.

Noninterest Expense. Noninterest expense was $944,000 for the three month period ended December 31, 2002 compared to $729,000 reported for the same prior year period, an increase of $252,000 or 29.3%. Noninterest expense for the six month period ended December 31, 2002 was $1.8 million compared to $1.4 million for the same period in 2001. The largest component of noninterest expense, salaries and employee benefits, increased $69,000 and $177,000 during the three month and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 compared to the same 2001 periods. The most significant factor causing the increase in salaries and employee benefits during the 2002 periods was an increase in salaries and associated payroll taxes of $62,000 and $145,000 during the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002, which resulted from additional staff acquired through the branch purchase. Group insurance costs remain unchanged for the three month period and increased $19,000 during the six month period ended December 31, 2002 as compared to the same 2001 period. As a way to offset the growing cost of employee health insurance, we increased the percentage paid by our employees effective October 1, 2002.

Noninterest expense also increased due to the amortization of intangible assets acquired from the branch purchase. During the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 we recorded $20,000 and $41,000, respectively, compared to no expense during the same 2001 periods. During the quarter we adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 147, "Acquisitions of Certain Financial Institutions" as of July 1, 2002. As a result the unidentifiable intangible asset recorded as part of our branch purchase has been reclassified as goodwill. Accordingly, our year-to-date financial statements have been revised to reflect the reversal of unidentifiable intangible amortization, totaling $68,000, recorded during the three month period ended September 30, 2002.

Occupancy and equipment expense increased $28,000 and $58,000 during the three and six month periods respectively. This increase is primarily the result of our decision to continue to use the purchased branch office as a branch office of Marshall Savings Bank. This facility provides us more options in our continuing evaluation of facility uses in determining the best way to meet the needs of our customer base.

Other components of noninterest expense were impacted by the branch purchase, a result of increased deposits and transaction activity. Data processing increased $17,000 and $33,000 during the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2002 as compared to the same 2001 periods. Debit card/ATM processing expense increased $19,000 and $29,000, for the three and six month periods ended December 31, as compared to the three and six month periods ended December 31, 2001.

Federal Income Tax Expense. Federal income tax expense increased $15,000 for the three month period and $62,000 for the six month period ended December 31, 2002 compared to the same periods in 2001.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our principal sources of funds are deposits, securities available for sale, principal and interest repayments on loans, sales of loans, and Federal Home Loan Bank advances. While scheduled loan repayments are relatively predictable, deposit flows and early loan prepayments are influenced more by interest rates, general economic conditions and competition.

Federal regulations require that we maintain minimum levels of liquid assets to ensure the safety and soundness of the institution. Liquid assets for purposes of this ratio include cash, certain time deposits, U.S. Government, government agency and other securities and obligations generally having remaining maturities of less than five years. At December 31, 2002, our liquidity ratio was 23.9%.

Liquidity management is both a daily and long term responsibility of management. Investments in liquid assets are adjusted based upon our assessment of expected loan demand, expected deposit flows, yields available on interest-earning deposits in other financial institutions and securities, and the objective of our asset/liability management program. Excess liquidity is invested generally in interest-earning overnight deposits of the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis. We also use our borrowing capability through the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis to meet liquidity needs.

If funds are required beyond the ability to generate them internally, borrowing agreements exist with the FHLB which provide an additional source of funds. FHLB advances total $12.6 million at December 31, 2002. We also have $20.0 million of additional borrowing capacity at the FHLB at December 31, 2002. We use these advances primarily to fund 15 year fixed-rate and adjustable-rate one- to four-family residential mortgage loans held in our portfolio. These advances are secured by a blanket lien on our first mortgage loans. Refer to Note 9 to the consolidated financial statements included in our consolidated financial statements for the year ended June 30, 2002 for further information regarding FHLB advances. We also use our liquidity resources to meet ongoing commitments, to fund maturing certificates of deposit and deposit withdrawals, and to meet operating expenses. At December 31, 2002, we had outstanding commitments to extend credit which amounted to $9.3 million (including $5.6 million in available home equity lines of credit). We believe that loan repayments and other sources of funds, including Federal Home Loan Bank advances, will be adequate to meet our foreseeable liquidity needs.

Federal insured savings institutions are required to maintain a minimum level of regulatory capital. If the requirement is not met, regulatory authorities may take legal or administrative actions, including restrictions on growth or operations or, in extreme cases, seizure. As of December 31, 2002 and June 30, 2002 Marshall Savings was categorized as well capitalized. Our actual and required capital amounts and ratios at December 31, 2002 and June 30, 2002 are presented below:

New Accounting Standards

On October 1, 2002, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards ("SFAS") No. 147, "Acquisitions of Certain Financial Institutions." SFAS No. 147 was effective October 1, 2002. SFAS No. 147 supersedes SFAS No. 72, "Accounting for Certain Acquisitions of Banking or Thrift Institutions." SFAS No. 147 provides guidance on the accounting for the acquisitions of a financial institution, and applies to all such acquisitions except those between two or more mutual enterprises. Under SFAS No. 147, the excess of the fair value of liabilities assumed over the fair value of tangible and identifiable intangible assets acquired in a financial institution business combination represents goodwill that should be accounted for under SFAS No. 142, "Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets." If certain criteria are met, the amount of the unidentifiable intangible assets resulting from prior financial institutions acquisitions is to be reclassified to goodwill upon adoption of this Statement. Financial institutions meeting conditions outlined in SFAS No. 147 are required to restate previously issued financial statements. The objective of the restatement is to present the balance sheet and income statement as if the amount accounted for under SFAS No. 72 as an unidentifiable intangible asset had been reclassified to goodwill as of the date we adopted SFAS No. 142. As a result of adopting SFAS No. 147, the year to date financial statements reflect the reversal of unidentifiable intangible amortization totaling $68,000 recorded during the three month period ended September 30, 2002.

Item 3. Controls and Procedures

(a) Evaluation of Disclosure Controls and Procedures: An evaluation of our disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Section 13(a)-14(c) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (the "Act")) was carried out under the supervision and with the participation of our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer and several other members of our senior management within the 90-day period preceding the filing date of this quarterly report. Our Chief Executive Officer and Chief financial Officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures as currently in effect are effective in ensuring that the information required to be disclosed in the reports we file or submit under the Act is (i) accumulated and communicated to our management (including the Chief Executive Office and Chief Financial Officer) in a timely manner, and (ii) recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms.

(b) Changes in Internal Controls: Since the date of this evaluation, there have been no significant changes in, or corrective actions regarding, our internal controls or other factors that could significantly affect these controls.

CERTIFICATIONS FOR QUARTERLY REPORT ON FORM 10-QSB

I, Elaine R. Carbary, certify that:
