Selected Risk Considerations

· You may lose some or all of your investment. If the final index level of the worst performing underlying index is less than its barrier level, you will lose 1% of the stated principal amount of the securities for every 1% by which the underlying index has declined from its initial index level. There is no minimum payment at maturity if the underlying index is at or below the barrier level. If the underlying index is above the barrier level, you will receive a payment equal to the stated principal amount of the securities plus or minus a percentage of the difference between the final index level and the barrier level. The percentage of the difference between the final index level and the barrier level that you will receive is determined by the performance of the underlying index relative to the barrier level. The amount of the payment at maturity is limited to the stated principal amount of the securities. You should read the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement, product supplement, underlying supplement and prospectus supplement to the securities for more complete information about the securities and the underlying index. You should also read the registration statements (including the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement, product supplement, underlying supplement and prospectus supplement) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") for the offering to which this communication relates. Before you invest, you should read the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement, product supplement, underlying supplement and prospectus supplement. You should also read the registration statements (including the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement, product supplement, underlying supplement and prospectus supplement) filed with the SEC for the offering to which this communication relates. You may obtain these documents without cost by visiting EDGAR on the SEC website at www.sec.gov. Alternatively, you may request these documents by calling toll-free at 800-833-9146.

- You will be subject to risks relating to the relationship between the underlying indices.
- Investing in the securities is not equivalent to investing in either underlying index. You will not have voting rights, rights to receive dividends or any other rights with respect to the stocks that constitute the underlying indices.

Citigroup Global Markets Holdings Inc. and Citigroup Inc. If Citigroup Global Markets Holdings Inc. defaults on its obligations under the securities and Citigroup Inc. defaults on its guarantee obligations, you may not receive anything owed to you under the securities.

- The securities will not be listed on any securities exchange and you may not be able to sell them prior to maturity.
- The estimated value of the securities on the pricing date will be less than the issue price. For more information about the estimated value of the securities, see the accompanying preliminary pricing supplement.
- The value of the securities prior to maturity will fluctuate based on many unpredictable factors.
- The Russell 2000® Index is subject to risks associated with small capitalization stocks.
