PART I

ITEM 1. BUSINESS.

Capstead Mortgage Corporation operates as a self-managed real estate investment trust for federal income tax purposes (a REIT) and is based in Dallas, Texas. Unless the context otherwise indicates, Capstead Mortgage Corporation, together with its subsidiaries, is referred to as Capstead or the Company. Capstead earns income from investing in real estate-related assets on a leveraged basis. These investments currently consist primarily of a core portfolio of residential adjustable-rate mortgage (ARM) securities issued and guaranteed by government-sponsored entities, either Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac, or by an agency of the federal government, Ginnie Mae (collectively, Agency Securities).

For further discussion of the Company's business and financial condition, see the Registrant's Annual Report to Stockholders for the year ended December 31, 2008 on pages 31 through 54, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Other Investment Strategies

The Company may enter into other short- or long-term investment strategies as the opportunities arise.

Competition

As a residential mortgage REIT that focuses on investing in short-duration Agency Securities, Capstead competes for the acquisition of suitable investments with other mortgage REITs, commercial banks, savings banks, insurance companies, as well as institutional investors such as private equity funds, mutual funds, pension funds and sovereign wealth funds. In addition, the federal government, through the GSEs, the Federal Home Loan Banks and directly by the U.S. Treasury may acquire substantial holdings of Agency Securities. Many of these entities have greater financial resources and access to capital than the Company. Increased competition for the acquisition of Agency Securities can result in higher prices and lower yields for such assets.

Further, the policy goals of the federal government may differ from the economic goals of other investors in Agency Securities. For instance, currently the U.S. Treasury is acquiring Agency Securities in order to support the housing markets by putting downward pressure on yields and ultimately, mortgage interest rates. This could spur higher levels of mortgage prepayments on the Company's existing portfolio and negatively affect our yields. Additionally, this policy could result in higher prices and lower yields on assets acquired to replace the resulting portfolio runoff.

Regulation and Related Matters

Operating as a REIT that primarily invests in financial assets subjects the Company to various federal regulatory requirements. For further discussion, see the Registrant's Annual Report to Stockholders for the year ended December 31, 2008 on pages 49 through 52, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Employees

As of December 31, 2008, the Company had 14 full-time employees and three part-time employees.
