E-Z-EM BOARD APPROVES PLAN TO COMBINE OUTSTANDING CLASS A AND B SHARES INTO SINGLE CLASS OF COMMON STOCK

Westbury, New York, July 25, 2002 - E-Z-EM, Inc. (AMEX: EZM.A/EZM.B) ("E-Z-EM" or the "Company") today announced that its Board of Directors approved a previously announced plan to combine the Company's two currently outstanding classes of common stock - Class A (AMEX: EZM.A) and Class B (AMEX: EZM.B) - into a single class of common stock.

As provided in the recapitalization merger agreement executed today by E-Z-EM, the proposed transaction will be effected by merging a newly formed subsidiary into E-Z-EM, with E-Z-EM continuing as the surviving corporation in the merger. As a result of this merger, each outstanding Class A share and each outstanding Class B share would be converted into one share of a newly created class of common stock of the Company. Following the transaction, there would be no super-majority voting requirements applicable to the Company's new class of common stock in the Company's certificate of incorporation, each holder would have one vote per share and all matters brought before the stockholders of the Company, other than the removal of directors, would be determined by a majority vote. E-Z-EM expects the proposed transaction to be tax-free to the Company and the holders of the Company's Class A and Class B shares. The transaction is subject to the requisite approval of the holders of 66% of the shares of Class A common stock actually voted on the proposal and other customary conditions. The Company expects to submit the proposed transaction to a vote of its stockholders at the Company's Annual Meeting of Stockholders currently scheduled for October 15, 2002.

The Stern and Meyers families, which in the aggregate own approximately 64.2% of the Class A voting stock, have agreed to vote their shares in favor of the proposed transaction.

About E-Z-EM, Inc.

E-Z-EM, the world's largest manufacturer of contrast agents for gastrointestinal radiology, has developed the only CT injector on the market that can help detect contrast extravasation, the new EmpowerCT(TM) with patented EDA(TM) technology. The Company has also recently introduced a complete tool kit for virtual colonoscopy (also referred to as CT colonography, or CTC), an innovative technology that could lead to a substantial increase in the number of patients being screened for colorectal cancer. Virtual colonoscopy visualizes the gastrointestinal tract using advanced CT imaging and 3D computer reconstruction of that data. The Company's product line consists of the InnerviewGI(TM) 3D imaging workstation; LoSo Prep(TM) and NutraPrep(TM) patient-friendly colon preparation products and nutritional meal kits; a tagging agent trade-named Tagitol(TM) to help practitioners distinguish pathology from colonic residue; and the PROTOCO2L(TM) carbon dioxide colon insufflation system. E-Z-EM's wholly owned subsidiary, AngioDynamics, manufactures a wide range of products, including angiographic, vascular access, thrombolytic, angioplasty, stents, as well as abdominal infection drainage products. AngioDynamics' focus is on diagnostic and therapeutic products for interventional radiology and other areas of minimally invasive surgery. Enteric Products, Inc., another subsidiary, develops, manufactures and markets tests for detection of the ulcer- and cancer-causing bacterium Helicobacter pylori.
