Pepco Holdings, Inc. ("PHI") has determined, based on its preliminary unaudited year-end 2009 results of operations, that the gross margin for its Conectiv Energy segment will be between $225 and $230 million. This represents a reduction of $40 to $45 million from the guidance of $270 million given on the October 30 earnings call during which PHI discussed its results for the quarter ended September 30, 2009. The difference between the preliminary unaudited results and that guidance is primarily attributable to:

- an anticipated energy marketing transaction that was forecasted for December 2009 which did not occur (approximately $20 million);
- weaker than expected energy markets and lower loads in the last two months of 2009 (approximately $13 million); and
- the gross margins on certain mark-to-market load contracts projected to be recorded in 2009 will be recorded in future periods over the terms of the contracts (approximately $10 million).

PHI is confirming its gross margin guidance for Conectiv Energy of $340 million to $410 million for 2010 and $380 million to $480 million for 2011. These ranges incorporate the current forward energy market prices and volatilities, and include expected capacity margins of $225 million in 2010 and $195 million in 2011, and the impact of the Delta generating plant becoming operational in 2011.
