Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On December 21, 2012, Rock-Tenn Company (“RockTenn”) increased the borrowing capacity under its committed receivables securitization financing facility (the “Receivables Facility”) to a total amount of up to $700 million. The Receivables Facility has been amended also to reduce certain restrictions on what constitutes eligible receivables under the facility, to tighten the delinquency, default and dilution ratios for purposes of triggering an amortization event and to lower borrowing costs under the facility. In addition, the maturity date of the Receivables Facility has been extended until December 18, 2015. Proceeds borrowed under the Receivables Facility by Rock-Tenn Financial, Inc. (“RTFI”), a wholly-owned subsidiary of RockTenn, are used to purchase receivables from certain RockTenn subsidiaries (the “Originators”). Proceeds received from the sale of the receivables by the Originators are used for funding operations, the repayment of existing indebtedness, and related costs and expenses.

The Receivables Facility also contains certain customary amortization events, including events relating to non-payment, breach of representations, warranties or covenants, default on other material debt, bankruptcy and insolvency events, performance criteria of the receivables, invalidity or impairment of facility documentation, change of control and customary ERISA defaults.

RTFI was organized for the sole purpose of buying receivables and pledging interests in those receivables to third-party financial institutions. Although consolidated in accordance with GAAP, RTFI is a separate legal entity from RockTenn and the Originators that sell the receivables to RTFI. RTFI is designed to be a special purpose, bankruptcy-remote entity whose assets are available solely to satisfy the claims of its creditors under the facility.

More details about the Receivables Facility can be found by reference to the full text of the Fifth Amended and Restated Credit and Security Agreement, a copy of which is filed as Exhibit 10.1 hereto, the full text of the Fourth Amended and Restated Receivables Sale Agreement, a copy of which is filed as Exhibit 10.2 hereto, and the full text of the Fourth Amended and Restated Performance Undertaking, a copy of which is filed as Exhibit 10.3.
