PROXY SUMMARY

This summary provides highlights of information contained elsewhere in this Proxy Statement and does not contain all of the information that you should consider. Please read the entire Proxy Statement carefully before voting.

WHY ARE WE HOLDING

A SPECIAL MEETING?

MetLife has completed the Brighthouse Financial spin-off and distributed roughly 20 percent of MetLife's equity to common shareholders, resulting in a similar decrease in equity.

MetLife's preferred stock may restrict dividend payments if its equity falls by 10 percent or more.

If MetLife cannot pay preferred stock dividends, it cannot pay common stock dividends either. Nor can it buy back shares of common stock.

The board of directors urges you to vote FOR the changes so the company may continue to return capital without restrictions caused by the spin-off.

The Board of Directors Recommends You Vote in Favor of the Amendment of the Company's Certificate of Incorporation and to Adjourn the Meeting, if Necessary or Appropriate, to Solicit Additional Proxies.

MetLife's Board of Directors (Board) is providing these proxy materials to you in connection with a Special Meeting of Shareholders to be held on October 19, 2017 (Special Meeting). Shareholders will consider and vote on a proposed amendment (Amendment) to the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation (Certificate of Incorporation) to modify the dividend payment tests for the Company's Floating Rate Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series A (the Series A Preferred Stock) and 5.250% Fixed-to-Floating Rate Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series C (the Series C Preferred Stock and, together with the Series A Preferred Stock, the Preferred Stock).

The Company is a smaller size as a result of its spin-off of Brighthouse Financial, Inc. (Brighthouse), completed on August 4, 2017 (Spin-Off), which reduced the Company's equity. The Preferred Stock's dividend payment limitations are based on the pre-Spin-Off equity. As a result, these limitations could preclude MetLife from paying dividends on the Preferred Stock. If MetLife does not pay dividends on the Preferred Stock, it may not pay dividends on its

Common Stock and may not make repurchases of Common Stock. UNLESS THE COMMON SHAREHOLDERS ADOPT THE AMENDMENT, THE COMPANY COULD BE PRECLUDED FROM PAYING DIVIDENDS ON THE COMMON STOCK UNDER THE CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION AS A RESULT OF THE SPIN-OFF. (The Company could also be precluded from paying such dividends if it does not receive the consent of Junior Subordinated Debenture holders described under Consent Solicitations of Holders of Junior Subordinated Debentures on page 6.)

The Board recommends that you vote FOR the proposed amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation, and FOR the proposal that the Company may adjourn the Special Meeting to seek additional proxies in the event there are insufficient votes to approve the Amendment.

Proposal 1 Amend the Preferred Stock Dividend Payment Tests in the Company's Certificate of Incorporation

PROPOSAL 1 AMEND THE PREFERRED STOCK DIVIDEND PAYMENT TESTS IN THE COMPANY'S CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION.

Overview

MetLife's Board of Directors (Board) recommends that the shareholders approve the Amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation to modify the dividend payment tests for the Series A Preferred Stock and the Series C Preferred Stock at the Special Meeting. Shareholders can approve the Amendment by majority vote of the outstanding Common Stock.

The Preferred Stock has tests regarding shareholders' equity and net income that, if not passed, could preclude the Company from paying Preferred or Common Stock dividends or repurchasing Common Stock. Because the Company included these dividend payment tests, rating agencies gave the Preferred Stock more favorable treatment in assessment of the Company's capital structure. The Company does not expect that the benefits of that more favorable treatment will change as a result of the Amendment.

First, the tests measure a decline in shareholders' equity over time. The Spin-Off distributed a substantial portion of shareholders' equity to the shareholders. That equity is now directly in the hands of the shareholders, rather than owned by them within the Company's financial structure. As a result, the shareholders' equity within the Company will decline to a level at which the Company will not pass those financial tests based on changes in shareholders' equity.

Second, the tests measure net income, which is calculated in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP). There is a significant risk that the Company will not pass the net income test in the future. If the Company fails the shareholders' equity test and the net income test, the Preferred Stock terms would permit the payment of dividends to the extent of the proceeds of certain equity issuances during a 90-day period prior to a dividend payment date (Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions). See Description of the Preferred Stock Dividend Payment Provisions Relating to the Preferred Stock on page 8 for additional information. If the Company is unable to make dividend payments on the Preferred Stock in full, it will be precluded from making dividend payments on its Common Stock and from repurchasing Common Stock.

The Amendment would right-size the determination of shareholders' equity in light of the lower amount of the Company's equity since the Spin-Off. It would modify the definition used to calculate the shareholders' equity amount used under the test to reset shareholders' equity to the post-Spin-Off level for measurement periods ended prior to August 4, 2017.

After the Amendment, the Company does not foresee a substantial risk that it would fail the applicable financial tests in the Preferred Stock as a result of the Spin-Off, subject to changes in circumstance and other risks such as those outlined in the "Risk Factors" disclosure in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q. In the absence of the Amendment, the Company believes there is a substantial risk that it would fail the applicable financial tests in respect of one or more of the Series A Preferred Stock dividends payable during the period June 15, 2018 through March 15, 2020, and could then be subject to Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions indefinitely on the Series A Preferred Stock, or fail one or more of the applicable financial tests in respect of the Series C Preferred Stock dividends payable on June 15, 2018 and December 15, 2018, and could be subject to Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions on the Series C Preferred Stock through the end of 2018. If the Company does not pay dividends on Preferred Stock in full during any applicable dividend period, it may not pay any dividends on its Common Stock or make Common Stock repurchases during that period.

Overview / Preferred Stock Mandatory Suspension Provision and Common Stock Dividend Stopper

The changes are not adverse to the holders of the Preferred Stock, since they will make it more likely that the Preferred Stock will receive regular dividend payments and, as a result, do not require their vote under Delaware law or the Certificate of Incorporation.

Preferred Stock Mandatory Suspension Provision and Common Stock Dividend Stopper

The dividend payment tests for the Series A Preferred Stock and the Series C Preferred Stock (for each series, the Dividend Payment Test) are substantially identical. Each Dividend Payment Test includes three subtests (Subtests). If at a dividend declaration date the Company fails all three Subtests, it becomes subject to the Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions.

The Company applies the Dividend Payment Test for each series of Preferred Stock at the dividend declaration date for each dividend payment (currently, in the case of the Series A Preferred Stock, for dividend payments on March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15 of each year, dividend declaration dates that are no earlier than March 5, May 15, August 15 and November 15 of each year, respectively; and, in the case of the Series C Preferred Stock, for dividend payments on June 15 and December 15, dividend declaration dates no earlier than May 15 and November 15, respectively). Under the Dividend Payment Test, the Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions come into effect at any dividend declaration date following a quarter end if the Company fails all of the following Subtests:

[1] The Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount (defined below), as of the quarter end two quarters prior to such quarter end, declined by 10% or more from its level at the quarter end (Benchmark Quarter End Test Date) ten quarters before such quarter end (Equity Test A)

AND

[2] The Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount, as of such quarter end, declined by 10% or more from its level at the Benchmark Quarter End Test Date (Equity Test B)

AND

[3] The Trailing Four Quarters Consolidated Net Income Amount (defined below), for the four-quarter period ending two quarters before such quarter end, is zero or a negative amount (Net Income Test).

Once the Preferred Stock Restrictions come into effect, they remain in effect until a dividend declaration date at which the Dividend Payment Test is satisfied and the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount for the most recent quarter end exceeds 90% of its level at the Benchmark Quarter End Test Date for each dividend payment date for which the Dividend Payment Test was not passed (Extended Equity Test).

Trailing Four Quarters Consolidated Net Income Amount, described more fully under Description of the Preferred Stock Dividend Payment Provisions Relating to the Preferred Stock on page 8, means, generally, at any quarter end, the sum of consolidated net income (Consolidated Net Income Amount) as reflected on the consolidated balance sheet of MetLife for each of the four consecutive fiscal quarters preceding such quarter end. Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount, described more fully under Description of the Preferred Stock Dividend Payment Provisions Relating to the Preferred Stock on page 8, means, generally, at any quarter end, the shareholders' equity of the Company as reflected on its consolidated balance sheet as of such quarter end minus accumulated other comprehensive income as reflected on such consolidated balance sheet. (For Series C Preferred Stock, the Certificate of Incorporation uses the term Adjusted Stockholders Equity Amount, which is defined the same way. This discussion will refer to the Adjusted Shareholders Equity Amount for both series of Preferred Stock.)

Special Meeting Proxy Statement

As a result of the Spin-Off, MetLife expects that, in the absence of an increase in consolidated shareholders' equity, it will fail both Equity Test A and Equity Test B for eight Preferred Stock dividend payment dates scheduled during the period June 15, 2018 through March 15, 2020.

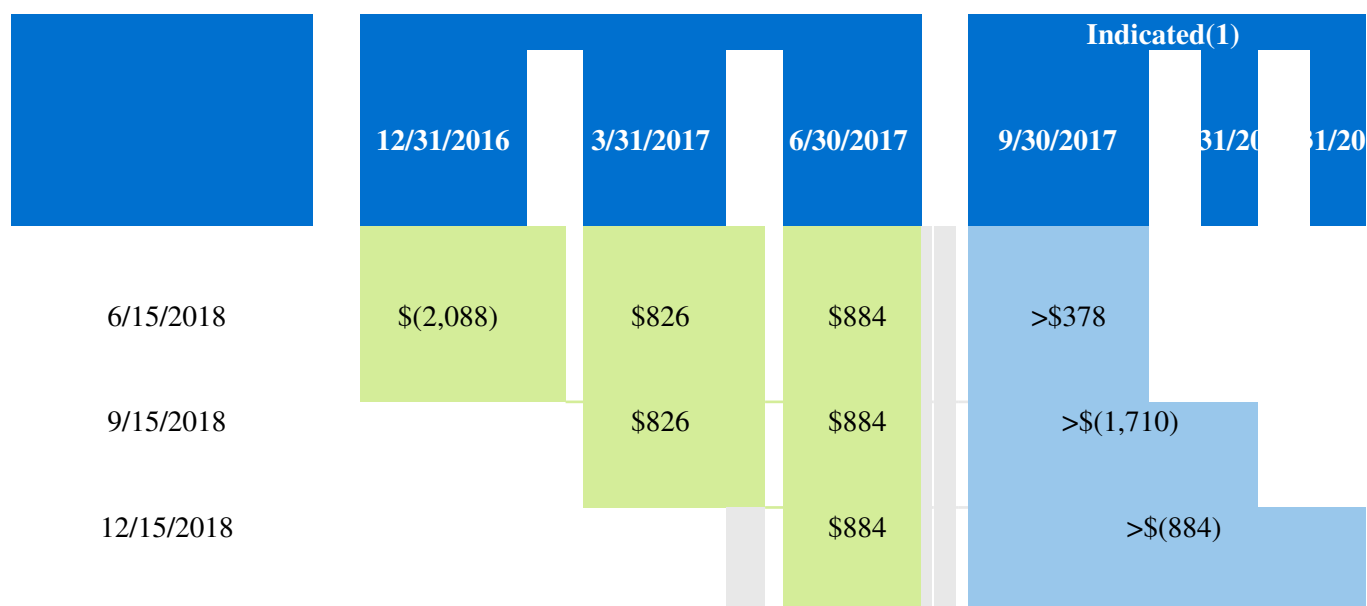

If MetLife also fails the Net Income Test for any of the dividend payment dates scheduled during the period June 15, 2018 through March 15, 2020, the Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions will come into effect, and will remain in effect until the dividend declaration date after the quarter end for which both the Dividend Payment Test and the Extended Equity Test are satisfied (although, with respect to the Series C Preferred Stock, the test will cease to apply for any dividend payment date after December 31, 2018 in accordance with the terms of the Series C Preferred Stock, and dividend payments will not then be restricted on the Series C Preferred Stock even if the payments are restricted on the Series A Preferred Stock, subject to any restrictions under Junior Subordinated Debentures if the consent solicitations referred to under the caption "Consent Solicitation of Holders of Junior Subordinated Debentures" on page 6 are not successful). The Company would fail the Net Income Test on the applicable dividend declaration dates if the Trailing Four Quarters Consolidated Net Income Amount is zero or a negative amount for any of the four quarterly periods ending September 30 or December 31, 2017; March 31, June 30, September 30 or December 31, 2018; or March 31 or June 30, 2019. The applicable dividend declaration dates scheduled during that period are May 15, August 15 and November 15, 2018; March 5, May 15, August 15 and November 15, 2019; and March 5, 2020.

The Consolidated Net Income Amounts for specific historical quarterly periods that would be included in the Trailing Four Quarter Consolidated Net Income Amount are set forth in the table below. Based on this historical information, MetLife could fail the applicable Net Income Test for the payment dates indicated below if the Consolidated Net Income Amounts for future periods are not greater than the amounts shown below. MetLife may fail the test for other future periods with respect to which information is not yet available.

REQUIRED CONSOLIDATED NET INCOME AMOUNTS TO SATISFY NET INCOME TEST

(Dollars in millions)

	Historical Consolidated Net Income Amounts Included in Net Income Test for Payment Date Quarter Ended	Future Consolidated Net Income Amounts Necessary to Satisfy Net Income Test for Payment Date Three, Six and Nine Month Periods Ended as

(1) Where negative amounts are given, the Net Income Test would be passed for the periods indicated if the net income (loss) for those periods is positive or is a net loss that does not equal or exceed the amount indicated. Thus, for the 12/15/2018 payment date, the combined Future Consolidated Net Income Amounts for the three quarters ended 9/30/2017, 12/31/2017 and 3/31/2018 must either be positive or be a net loss that does not equal or exceed $884 million.

As reported in MetLife's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2017 (Form 10-Q), the Spin-Off will result in the historical results of Brighthouse being reported as discontinued operations of MetLife in the 2017 third quarter. MetLife has elected the fair value option for its remaining investment in Brighthouse and will record any subsequent changes in estimated fair value to net investment gains and losses in continuing operations.

Table of Contents

[Effect of the Amendment / Consequences if Shareholders Do Not Approve the Amendment /
Consent Solicitations of Holders of Junior Subordinated Debentures](#)

MetLife disclosed in the Form 10-Q that it anticipated 2017 third quarter realized net investment losses of approximately $900 million, net of income tax, related to the Spin-Off. MetLife now anticipates 2017 third quarter realized net investment losses of approximately $1.4 billion, net of income tax, related to the Spin-Off. These losses include: (i) tax-related charges; (ii) previously deferred inter-company losses realized upon the Spin-Off; (iii) losses on MetLife's retained investment in Brighthouse; and (iv) partially offsetting Spin-Off tax benefits. The increase of $500 million, net of income tax, from the anticipated amount disclosed in the Form 10-Q includes approximately $350 million previously treated as an offset to investment losses and approximately $150 million related to the impact of Brighthouse's opening stock price of $62.75 on MetLife's retained investment. MetLife's 2017 third quarter realized net investment losses will be affected by, among other things, changes in the market price of Brighthouse's common stock and market volatility in investment assets, and are not reliably predictable. Additionally, MetLife anticipates a net tax charge in operating earnings of approximately $200 million resulting from the future repatriation of approximately $3.0 billion of cash following the post Spin-Off review of its capital needs, partially offset by a tax benefit associated with dividends from its foreign operations.

Effect of the Amendment

The Amendment to the Certificate of Incorporation would modify the definition of Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount when Equity Test A or Equity Test B is applied for a dividend payment date after September 30, 2017 (the first quarter in which the MetLife, Inc. financials will reflect the Spin-Off), when the then-current Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount is compared to the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount for a period that concluded prior to the Spin-Off. In such cases, the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount at the relevant Benchmark Quarter End Test Date would be reset to $49,282,000,000, which constitutes the total stockholders' equity, excluding accumulated other comprehensive income, as of June 30, 2017 as reported on a pro forma basis reflecting the distribution of shares of Brighthouse, in the pro forma financial statements included in MetLife's Report on Form 8-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) on August 9, 2017.

Accordingly, the definition of Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount for periods ended prior to the Spin-Off, but used in performing Equity Test A and Equity Test B in periods subsequent to the period in which the Spin-Off occurred, would not include the portion of equity associated with Brighthouse and would reflect other pro forma adjustments occurring as a result of the distribution of shares of Brighthouse. If the Amendment is adopted, the Company does not expect to fail Equity Test A or Equity Test B during the period referenced in the first paragraph under Effect of the Spin-Off above, subject to changes in circumstance and other risks such as those outlined in the Risk Factors disclosed in its Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q.

Consequences if Shareholders Do Not Approve the Amendment

Without shareholder approval of the Amendment, the Company believes there is a substantial risk that it would fail the applicable financial tests in respect of one or more of the Series A Preferred Stock dividends payable during the period June 15, 2018 through March 15, 2020, and could then be subject to Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions on the Series A Preferred Stock; and/or fail one or more of the applicable financial tests in respect of the Series C Preferred Stock dividends payable on June 15, 2018 and December 15, 2018, and could then be subject to Preferred Stock Dividend Restrictions on the Series C Preferred Stock through the end of 2018. Under the Preferred Stock

Dividend Restrictions, dividend payments can be made to the extent of the proceeds of qualified common stock issuances, as described above. If the Company does not pay dividends on Preferred Stock in full during any applicable dividend period, it may not pay any dividends on its Common Stock or repurchase Common Stock during that period.

Consent Solicitations of Holders of Junior Subordinated Debentures

On August 10, 2017, the Company commenced consent solicitations (Consent Solicitations) of the holders of its junior subordinated debentures and the holders of Exchangeable Surplus Trust Securities that are exchangeable at the option of the Company into junior subordinated debentures (X-SURPs), to amend mandatory interest deferral provisions that are similar to the dividend payment restrictions in the Preferred Stock. The consent solicitations require the approval in each case of the holders of a majority in principal amount of the applicable securities. The consent period will end on August 18, 2017, and, if the consent solicitations are successful, consent fee payments are expected to be made to investors in those securities on or about August 22, 2017. Upon obtaining the approvals pursuant to the consent solicitations, the Company will amend the definitions in those instruments that are similar to the definition of Adjusted Shareholders Equity Amount in the same way as proposed in the Amendment to the Preferred Stock.

Under the junior subordinated debentures and X-SURPs, interest payments would be suspended under substantially the same circumstances as are described with respect to the Preferred Stock under the caption Preferred Stock Mandatory Suspension Provision and Common Stock Dividend Stopper on page 4. Triggering those restrictions would, in addition, cause a suspension of dividend payments on both the Preferred Stock and the Common Stock. Accordingly, if each of the consent solicitations is not approved, the holders of Preferred Stock would not immediately realize the potential benefits of the Amendment, and dividend payments could be suspended notwithstanding the adoption of the Amendment under circumstances similar to those that would apply had the Amendment not been adopted. In addition, holders of Common Stock would still be subject to possible suspension of dividend payments on the Common Stock (and Common Stock may not be repurchased under such circumstances).

Description of the Preferred Stock

For additional information about the Preferred Stock, please see the Certificate of Designations of Floating Rate Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series A, of MetLife, Inc., filed with the Secretary of State of Delaware on June 10, 2005 (included as Exhibit 3.3 to the MetLife, Inc. Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2016); and the Certificate of Designations of 5.250% Fixed-to-Floating Rate Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series C, of MetLife, Inc., filed with the Secretary of State of Delaware on May 28, 2015 (included as Exhibit 3.1 to MetLife, Inc.'s Current Report on Form 8-K dated May 28, 2015).

Series A Preferred Stock

On June 12, 2005 the Company issued 24,000,000 shares of Floating Rate Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series A (the Series A Preferred Stock) with a $0.01 par value per share, and a liquidation preference of $25 per share, for aggregate proceeds of $600 million.

The Series A Preferred Stock ranks senior to the Common Stock with respect to dividends and liquidation rights and pari passu with the Series C Preferred Stock. Dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock are not cumulative. Holders of the Series A Preferred Stock will be entitled to receive dividend payments only when, as and if declared by the Board or a duly authorized committee of the Board. If dividends are declared on the Series A Preferred Shares, they will be payable quarterly on March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15, in arrears, at an annual rate of the greater of (i) 1.00% above three-month LIBOR on the related LIBOR determination date; or (ii) 4.00%. Accordingly, in the event that a dividend is not declared on the Series A Preferred Stock for payment on the applicable dividend payment date, such dividend will cease to accrue and be payable. If a dividend is not declared before the applicable dividend payment date, the Company has no obligation to pay a dividend for that dividend period, whether or not dividends are declared and paid in future periods. However, no dividends may be paid or declared on the Common Stock, or any other securities ranking junior to the Series A Preferred Stock, unless the full dividends for the latest completed dividend period on all Preferred Stock, and any parity stock, have been declared and paid or provided for.

Additional information regarding the dividend payment provisions in the Series A Preferred Stock is set forth below under Dividend Payment Provisions Relating to the Preferred Stock.

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law or the Certificate of Incorporation, the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock have no voting rights. When dividends have not been paid for an equivalent of six or more dividend payment periods, whether or not those periods are consecutive, the holders of the Series A Preferred Stock have certain voting rights with respect to members of the Board.

Special Meeting Proxy Statement

Table of ContentsDescription of the Preferred Stock

The Series A Preferred Stock is not subject to any mandatory redemption, sinking fund, retirement fund, purchase fund or similar provisions. The Series A Preferred Stock is redeemable at the Company's option in whole or in part, at a redemption price of $25 per share of Series A Preferred Stock, plus declared and unpaid dividends.

Series C Preferred Stock

On June 1, 2015 the Company issued 1,500,000 shares of 5.250% Fixed-to-Floating Rate Non-Cumulative Preferred Stock, Series C (the Series C Preferred Stock) with a $0.01 par value per share, and a liquidation preference of $1,000 per share, for aggregate proceeds of $1.5 billion.

The Series C Preferred Stock ranks senior to the Common Stock with respect to dividends and liquidation rights and pari passu with the Series A Preferred Stock. Dividends on the Series C Preferred Stock are not cumulative. Holders of the Series C Preferred Stock will be entitled to receive dividend payments only when, as and if declared by the Board or a duly authorized committee of the Board. If dividends are declared on the Series C Preferred Shares, they will be payable (i) to, but excluding, June 15, 2020, semi-annually on June 15 and December 15, in arrears, at an annual rate of 5.250% and (ii) from, and including, June 15, 2020, quarterly on June 15, September 15, December 15 and March 15, in arrears, at an annual floating rate equal to three-month LIBOR on the related LIBOR determination date, plus 3.575%. Accordingly, in the event that a dividend is not declared on the Series C Preferred Stock for payment on the applicable dividend payment date, then such dividend will cease to accrue and be payable. If a dividend is not declared before the applicable dividend payment date, the Company has no obligation to pay a dividend for that dividend period, whether or not dividends are declared and paid in future periods. However, no dividends may be paid or declared on the Common Stock, or any other securities ranking junior to the Series C Preferred Stock, unless the full dividends for the latest completed dividend period on all Preferred Stock, and any parity stock, have been declared and paid or provided for.

Additional information regarding the dividend payment provisions in the Series C Preferred Stock is set forth below under Dividend Payment Provisions Relating to the Preferred Stock.

Except as otherwise provided by applicable law or the Certificate of Incorporation, the holders of the Series C Preferred Stock have no voting rights. When dividends have not been paid for an equivalent of six or more dividend payment periods, whether or not those periods are consecutive, the holders of the Series C Preferred Stock have certain voting rights with respect to members of the Board.

The Series C Preferred Stock is not subject to any mandatory redemption, sinking fund, retirement fund, purchase fund or similar provisions. The Series C Preferred Stock is redeemable at the Company's option in whole or in part, at a redemption price of $1,000 per share of Series A Preferred Stock, plus accrued and unpaid dividends, whether or not declared.

Dividend Payment Provisions Relating to the Preferred Stock

The Board of Directors may not declare dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock or, prior to December 31, 2018, on the Series C Preferred Stock, for payment on any dividend payment date in an aggregate amount exceeding the New Common Equity Amount (as defined below) as of the date of declaration for the dividend if: (i) the Covered Insurance Subsidiaries' Most Recent Weighted Average NAIC RBC Ratio was less than 175%; or (ii) (x) the Trailing Four Quarters Consolidated Net Income Amount for the period ending on the Preliminary Quarter End Test Date for such dividend payment date is zero or a negative amount and (y) the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount as of each of the Preliminary Quarter End Test Date and the Final Quarter End Test Date for such dividend payment date has declined by 10% or more as compared to the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount as of the tenth quarter end prior to the Final Quarter End Test Date (Benchmark Quarter End Test Date). Additionally, if the Company has failed the foregoing test as to a prior dividend payment date, then the Board of Directors may not declare dividends on the Series A Preferred Stock or, prior to December 31, 2018, on the Series C Preferred Stock, for payment thereafter in an aggregate amount exceeding the New Common Equity Amount as of the dividend declaration date for such prior dividend payment date until the dividend declaration date for the first dividend payment date for which, as of the related Final Quarter End Test Date, the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount has increased or has declined by less than 10%, in either case as compared to the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount as of the Benchmark Quarter End Test Date for such prior dividend payment date.

With respect to any Series A Preferred Stock dividend payment date, or any Series C Preferred Stock dividend payment date prior to January 1, 2019, if, as of the Preliminary Quarter End Test Date for such dividend payment date (x) the Trailing Four Quarters Consolidated Net Income Amount for the period ending on such Preliminary Quarter End Test Date is zero or a negative amount and (y) the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount as of such Preliminary Quarter End Test Date has declined by 10% or more as compared to the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount as of the Benchmark Quarter End Test Date for such dividend payment date, then the Company is required to give notice of such circumstance to the holders of record of the shares of Series A Preferred Stock or Series C Preferred Stock and file a copy of the notice on Form 8-K with the SEC (or, if the Company is not then a reporting company under the Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (Exchange Act), post a copy of such notice on the Company's website), by not later than the first dividend payment following such Preliminary Quarter End Test Date, providing certain information as described in the Certificate of Incorporation.

For purposes of the foregoing,

New Common Equity Amount means, at any date, the net proceeds (after underwriters' or placement agents' fees, commissions or discounts and other expenses relating to the issuances) received by the Company from new issuances of Common Stock (whether in one or more public offerings registered under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the Securities Act), or private placements or other transactions exempt from registration under the Securities Act) during the period commencing on the 90th day prior to such date.

Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount (in the Series C Preferred Stock Certificate of Designations noted above, called the Adjusted Stockholders' Equity Amount) means, as of any quarter end, the shareholders' equity of the Company as reflected on its consolidated balance sheet as of such quarter end minus accumulated other comprehensive income as reflected on such consolidated balance sheet, except that any increase in shareholders' equity resulting from the issuance of Preferred Stock during the period from and including the Final Quarter End Test Date for a dividend as to which the Company fails the Dividend Payment Test through the first quarter end thereafter as of which the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount has declined by less than 10% or increased as compared to such amount on the Benchmark Quarter End Test Date will not be taken into account in calculating the Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount as of such quarter end during such period. The Adjusted Shareholders' Equity Amount would be subject to adjustment in the event of certain changes in GAAP.

Covered Insurance Subsidiaries' Most Recent Weighted Average NAIC RBC Ratio means, as of any date, an amount (expressed as a percentage) calculated as: the sum of the Total Adjusted Capital of each of the Covered Insurance Subsidiaries as shown on such Covered Insurance Subsidiary's annual statement most recently filed with the applicable insurance commissioner, divided by the sum of the Company-Action-Level RBC of each of the Covered Insurance Subsidiaries as shown on such Covered Insurance Subsidiary's most recently filed annual statement.

Covered Insurance Subsidiaries means, as of any year end, insurance subsidiaries that collectively account for 80% or more of the combined general account admitted assets of the insurance subsidiaries. Total Adjusted Capital and Company-Action-Level RBC have the meanings specified in the Insurers Model Act as prepared by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

Trailing Four Quarters Consolidated Net Income Amount means, for any period ending on a quarter end, the sum of the consolidated net income amount for the Company's four fiscal quarters ending as of such quarter end, with losses being treated as negative numbers for such purpose.

Preliminary Quarter End Test Date means (A) for Series A Preferred Stock dividend payment dates in March, June, September and December, the preceding June 30, September 30, December 31 and March 31, respectively; and (B) for Series C Preferred Stock dividend payment dates in June and December, the preceding September 30 and March 31, respectively.

Description of the Replacement Capital Covenants.

In order to meet certain rating agency criteria for equity credit, the Company entered into replacement capital covenants in respect of the Series A Preferred Stock and the Series C Preferred Stock, respectively (each, an RCC). Under the RCCs, the Company agreed that it will not repay, redeem, or purchase the Preferred Stock on or prior to December 31, 2018, unless, subject to certain limitations, it has received proceeds from the sale of specified capital securities, including Common Stock. The RCCs will each terminate in accordance with their respective terms on December 31, 2018 or upon the occurrence of certain events. The RCCs are not intended for the benefit of holders of the Series A Preferred Stock or the Series C Preferred Stock and may not be enforced by either of them. The RCCs are each for the benefit of holders of one or more designated series of the Company's indebtedness (which is currently, in each case, the Company's 10.750% Fixed-to-Floating Rate Junior Subordinated Debentures due 2069).

PROPOSAL 2 ADJOURN THE SPECIAL MEETING, IF NECESSARY OR APPROPRIATE, TO SOLICIT ADDITIONAL PROXIES

Approval of Proposal 2 would give MetLife the authority, if necessary or appropriate, to adjourn the Special Meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies in favor of Proposal 1 if there are not sufficient votes at the time of the Special Meeting to approve Proposal 1. In addition, under Section 1.07 of MetLife's By-Laws, the presiding officer of the Special Meeting has the authority to adjourn or postpone a meeting, whether or not a quorum is present.

If Proposal 2 is approved, MetLife may adjourn the meeting to solicit additional proxies. MetLife does not anticipate that it will adjourn or postpone the Special Meeting except for this purpose, or if it is advised by counsel that such adjournment or postponement is necessary under applicable law. Any adjournment or postponement of the Special Meeting for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies will allow MetLife's shareholders who have already submitted their proxies to revoke them prior to the Special Meeting, as adjourned or postponed.

Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners

Security Ownership of Certain Beneficial Owners

The following persons have reported to the SEC beneficial ownership of more than five percent of the Shares:

Name and Address of Beneficial Owner	Amount and Nature of Beneficial Ownership	Percent of Class
Beneficiaries of the MetLife Policyholder Trust(1)
c/o Wilmington Trust Company, as Trustee, Rodney Square North, 1100 North Market Street Wilmington, DE 19890	158,574,128	14.9%
BlackRock, Inc.(2)

The Vanguard Group(3)
100 Vanguard Blvd. Malvern, PA 19355	63,479,374	5.77%

1 The Board of Directors of the Company has reported to the SEC that, as of July 31, 2017, it, as an entity, had shared voting power over 158,574,128 Shares held in the MetLife Policyholder Trust. The Board's report is in Amendment No. 70, filed on August 4, 2017, to the Board's Schedule 13D. MetLife created the trust when Metropolitan Life Insurance Company (MLIC), a wholly-owned subsidiary of MetLife, converted from a mutual insurance company to a stock insurance company in April 2000. At that time, eligible MLIC policyholders received beneficial ownership of Shares, and MetLife transferred these Shares to a trust, which is the record owner of the Shares. Wilmington Trust Company serves as trustee. The trust beneficiaries have sole investment power over the Shares, and can direct the trustee to vote their Shares on matters identified in the trust agreement that governs the trust. However, the trust agreement directs the trustee to vote the Shares held in the trust on some shareholder matters as recommended or directed by MetLife's Board of Directors and, on that account, the Board, under SEC rules, shares voting power with the trust beneficiaries and the SEC has considered the Board, as an entity, a beneficial owner under the rules.

2. This information is based solely on a Schedule 13G/A filed with the SEC on January 25, 2017 by BlackRock, Inc., which reported beneficial ownership as of December 31, 2016 of 70,977,937 Shares, constituting 6.5% of the Shares, with sole voting power with respect to 60,970,976 of the Shares, sole dispositive power with respect to 70,929,937 of the Shares, shared voting power with respect to 48,000 of the Shares, and shared dispositive power with respect to 48,000 of the Shares.

3. This information is based solely on a Schedule 13G/A filed with the SEC on February 10, 2017 by The Vanguard Group, which reported beneficial ownership as of December 31, 2016 of 63,479,374 Shares, constituting 5.77% of the Shares, with sole voting power with respect to 1,653,980 of the Shares, sole dispositive power with respect to 61,669,972 of the Shares, shared voting power with respect to 171,076 of the Shares, and shared dispositive power with respect to 1,809,402 of the Shares.

As trustee, it will vote these Shares in accordance with the voting instructions given by SIP participants to the trustee. Instructions on voting appear on the voting instruction form distributed to SIP participants. The trustee must receive the voting instructions of a SIP participant no later than 6:00 p.m., Eastern Time, October 13, 2017. The trustee will generally vote the Shares held by SIP for which it does not receive voting instructions in the same proportion as the Shares held by SIP for which it does receive voting instructions.

Voting of Shares held in the MetLife Policyholder Trust

The beneficiaries of the MetLife Policyholder Trust may direct Wilmington Trust Company, as trustee, to vote their Shares held in the trust on certain matters that are identified in the trust agreement governing the trust, including approval of mergers and contested Directors' elections. On all other matters, the trust agreement directs the trustee to vote the Shares held in the trust as recommended or directed by the Company's Board of Directors. The beneficiaries of the trust may not direct the trustee to vote their shares on any matters to be presented at the Special Meeting.

Vote required

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding Shares will be sufficient to approve the amendment of the Certificate of Incorporation (Proposal 1) and the vote of the holders of a majority of the Shares voting will be sufficient to approve the adjournment of the Special Meeting, if the Presiding Officer determines necessary or appropriate (Proposal 2).

Tabulation of abstentions and Broker Non-Votes

If a shareholder abstains from voting as to the amendment of the Certificate of Incorporation (Proposal 1), the abstention will have the same effect as a vote against the proposal. If a shareholder abstains from voting as to the adjournment of the Special Meeting, if necessary or appropriate (Proposal 2), the abstention will have no effect on the outcome of the vote.

If you are a beneficial owner whose Shares are held in street name and you do not submit voting instructions to your broker, your broker may generally vote your Shares in its discretion on routine matters. Neither Proposal 1 nor Proposal 2 is considered routine. Consequently, if your Shares are held in street name, you must provide your broker with instructions on how to vote your Shares in order
