Combination of Fit Residencial and Tenda to Strengthen Leadership in Low Income Segment

-- Customers to Benefit from Expanded Product Offering and Geographic Coverage with Combined Land Bank of R$9.1 Billion --
-- Merger Strengthens Tenda Balance Sheet and Corporate Governance --

São Paulo, September 2, 2008 Gafisa S.A. (Bovespa: GFS3; NYSE: GFA), Brazil's leading diversified national homebuilder, and Construtora Tenda, S.A. (Bovespa: TEND3), Brazil's leading homebuilder exclusively dedicated to the low income segment, announced an agreement in which Gafisa will combine its wholly-owned subsidiary, Fit Residencial Empreendimentos Imobiliários Ltda. with Tenda in an all-stock transaction with a pro-forma book value of R$1.2 billion to create Brazil's premier low income homebuilder. After the transaction, Gafisa will hold 60% of the total capital and voting shares of Tenda which will continue to trade on the Novo Mercado of the São Paulo Stock Exchange as an independent company. As a result of the transaction, Tenda will have a strengthened platform for future growth, greater geographic reach and product offerings, one of the largest land banks dedicated to the low income segment and a fortified management team with strong corporate governance practices.

Upon completion of the merger, the combined company will expand its coverage of the lower income market to 4 to 20 times minimum wages, build on its strong presence in 9 states and 77 cities primarily in the metropolitan areas of the South and Southeast and the Federal District by adding a presence in the North, Northeast and Center West regions where Fit Residencial has 18 developments underway in 13 cities. Consumers will benefit from the expanded product offerings to include high rise and low rise properties and increased competitiveness expected from synergies achieved and economies of scale. Tenda's land bank of R$7.6 billion, reported at the end of the second quarter of 2008, will expand to R$9.1 billion including Fit's land bank reported at June 30, 2008.

Fit's growth opportunities have surpassed our expectations since its creation, and Tenda offered a unique opportunity to capitalize on these opportunities more quickly and efficiently, allowing us to obtain a leadership position in this exciting segment. We believe this combination of our two companies dedicated to providing housing to the low income segment in Brazil, both known for execution of high quality products with exceptional brand recognition, will generate significant value added for the shareholders of Gafisa and Tenda," said Wilson Amaral, chief executive officer of Gafisa. "For five decades, Gafisa has been building homes for Brazilians and now is combining its efforts to serve the low income segment through this combination with a recognized leader that has almost 15 years of experience in building for the low income segment. We have created an unparalleled platform for accelerated growth that will benefit this vast segment of the Brazilian population."

We're delighted to partner with such strong shareholders and management that bring an extensive network of national partners and vendors as well as a strong track record of implementing best practices," said Henrique Alves Pinto, Tenda chairman and chief executive officer. "With a strengthened balance sheet and enhanced opportunity to access credit, we will continue to build our high quality land bank, accelerate our launches and execute on a strong track record of pre-sales in an underserved marketplace. We believe Fit and Gafisa are the perfect partners to deliver on customers' needs and further enhance the strong company we have built."

Upon closing of the transaction, terms of the agreement call for Fit Residencial to have a paid-in capital fully subscribed by Gafisa of at least R$420 million and a net cash position of at least R$300 million.

The newly capitalized Tenda will be well-positioned in numerous high-growth markets, with the strongest balance sheet among dedicated lower income homebuilders in Brazil. The combined company will have a pro-forma net cash position of R$398 million, pre-sales of R$903 million and launches of R$1.44 billion for the first half of 2008. The Company will leverage its unique and powerful sales model which includes over 560 dedicated sales people and 38 retail sales locations to accelerate growth, while continuing to focus on the highest quality client service.

Upon closing, the Board of Directors of Tenda will be made up of 5 members appointed by Gafisa, 2 members appointed by HPJO, the current control group of Tenda, and 2 independent members. Completion of the transaction is subject to a legal and financial audit, shareholder approvals by Tenda, and customary regulatory approvals. The boards of directors of both companies unanimously approved the merger. In addition, HPJO will be subject to an 18-month lock-up period, which allows for periodic sales of shares. Rothschild acted as exclusive financial advisor to Gafisa and Fit Residencial, and Banco Modal represented Construtora Tenda.

About Gafisa

We are one of Brazil's leading diversified national homebuilders. Over the last 50 years, we have been recognized as one of the foremost professionally-managed homebuilders, having completed and sold more than 950 developments and constructed almost 40 million square meters of housing, which we believe is more than any other residential development company in Brazil. We believe Gafisa is one of the best-known brands in the real estate development market, enjoying a reputation among potential homebuyers, brokers, lenders, landowners, and competitors for quality, consistency, and professionalism.

About Construtora Tenda

Tenda is a residential property developer focused exclusively on the low-income segment and with its own sales force. Tenda has a presence in 9 of Brazil's largest metropolitan areas and in a total of 77 cities, in areas where the country has high housing deficits, and launched 23,730 units in 2007. Tenda is listed on Bovespa's Novo Mercado under the ticker TEND3.
