Item 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On November 29, 2010, the Company determined and internally announced that, effective January 1, 2011, Mr. Bernd Brust will transition from his current role as the Company's President, Commercial Operations, to the role of President, Molecular Medicine. The Molecular Medicine business unit was formed to allow the company to further develop its strategies in molecular medicine and the eventual transition of next generation sequencing into the clinic. Mr. Brust will work with the Company's recently appointed Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Paul Billings, and the other members of the Company's Molecular Medicine team in support of the Company's position as a leader in the molecular medicine arena with translational researchers and medical professionals, represent the clinical value proposition of Life Technologies' diagnostic products and technologies to physicians, payers, patients and regulators, and further expand the Company's product and service offerings. Mr. Brust will continue to report directly to the Company's Chief Executive Officer, Gregory Lucier.

The Company also announced internally that Nicolas Barthelemy, who has led the Company's Cell Systems division since November 2008, will assume the role of President of Commercial Operations for the Company, effective January 1, 2011. Mr. Barthelemy has a strong background and experience for the role, including years of operations and commercial experience and a proven track record of driving key initiatives that have contributed greatly to the Company's growth over the past several years.
